VOL. 116 ESTABLISHED JULY 29, 1786. NO. 192. PITTSBURGH, WEDNESDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 19, 1902.—FOURTEEN PAGES. ONE CENT A COPY.

TRICKERY AND RING RULE REBUKED BY THE PEOPLE

JOHN B. LARKIN, the Citizens' candidate for controller, has been elected. The unofficial majority is about 8,000.

The machine has lost common council and its margin in select is too close for comfort for the ring managers. In the lower branch there are 51 members and the Citizens' party has elected about 35. Of the 38 members of select, a tie is the best the machine can expect.

As was expected, the election was a landslide. The vote will probably exceed any ever cast in this city. Men who had not voted for years turned out yesterday.

The notable defeats for the machine in councils were as follows:

John D. Upperman, select, Fifteenth ward; Earnest F. Rusch, select, Fourteenth ward; James M. Clarke, select, Twenty-first ward; Thomas H. Thorn, select, Twenty-third ward; J. R. Vincent, select, Nineteenth ward; W. A. Magee, common, Fourteenth ward.

The effect of this election on state politics will be far reaching. It may be the cause of the withdrawal of John P. Elkin as a Republican gubernatorial candidate. As for the postscript governor, it tells him what he can expect from Pittsburgh in the future. The Democratic managers in the state may also find it necessary to change their plans.

At 11 o'clock Senator Flinn and Recorder J. O. Brown decided that they were ready to go home. Before leaving, Mr. Flinn said:

"I cannot make any statement now as I have not sufficient figures. However Joe Brown ought to know. See Brown. It is generally admitted that all calculations have been knocked sky high. The stay-at-home vote has done it."

Recorder Brown had this to say:

"The East End wards will go heavily for Larkin. It looks at this time as though it were only fair to concede his election. Other than that, I cannot say."

ELECTION MOST EXCITING IN THE CITY'S HISTORY

Machine Was Helpless to Stem the Tide of Public Sentiment Except to Save a Few Councilmen.

THE VOTERS RESPONDED READILY

VICTORY WAS NOT ALONG PARTY LINES

It has been the most exciting election in the history of the city. The people learned their strength and the machine was unable to stem the tide. Its attempts were unavailing, except possibly to save a few councilmen for the postscript machine in its tested strongholds.

From the moment that Gov. William A. Stone and Senator William Flinn formed a partnership to boss the city, the people have been up in arms.

It was not a sentiment that died out. It grew with the months between November and February.

In former years the machine had laughed at public sentiment and considered this uprising as trifling and a thing that would run the life of a nine-day wonder. In this it was fooled.

The machine goes into a fight with about 13,000 votes to its credit.

PUBLIC SENTIMENT DETERMINES.

If public sentiment cannot be aroused this vote is usually enough to swing an election. This time the people came out. About 12,000 tax receipts were paid for by the different parties and hundreds of citizens settled for their own.

The anti-Flinn workers did not find it difficult to get the voters out, as is evidenced by the returns. Senator Flinn has known for several days that he was face to face with a revolution.

Senator Flinn, Arch Mackrell, Delinquent Tax Collector S. P. Conner, Sheriff William McKinley, John Upperman, Director George W. Wilson, Thomas H. Thorn and many others of the strong machine leaders lost their districts, and in most cases their wards.

The nearest approach to the battle of yesterday was the one of 1896, when H. P. Ford defeated George W. Guthrie for mayor.

LARKIN ALSO A CANDIDATE.

John B. Larkin was also a candidate for controller in that fight. Mr. Larkin was defeated by a majority of 1,016. The vote was then over 40,000, but that figure will be greatly exceeded in this election.

In this contest it was not a question of the personality of the candidates. Mr. Larkin has said from the first of the campaign it was not a case of men or politics.

The victory of yesterday was not one that can be claimed by the Democrats, nor are they trying to do so. The leaders who fought this battle all say the credit belongs to the people and not to any particular party.

It simply became necessary to show the machine that it had gone too far. It does not mean that in the future Pittsburgh will be a Democratic city.

PARTY WAS FORGOTTEN.

For the day Republicans stepped out of the narrow party limits to vote for a set of principles to which the machine would not subscribe.

The greatest blow to the machine was its losing control of at least one branch of councils and the chopping out of select men that the ring could depend upon to go to any limit.

The severest blow in the upper branch was the defeat of John D. Upperman, of the Fifteenth ward. He obeyed without question the orders of William Flinn. John E. Wainwright, who takes his place, will not take orders from the machine.

The second blow in select was the defeat of Thomas H. Thorn of the Twenty-third. Like Upperman, he knew no boss but Flinn, and forgot that he had constituents. Dr. W. D. O'Brien, who takes his place, is an able man and will be a power in the contests against the machine which will follow in select council.

BOOTH'S ELECTION A BLOW.

If there was any man in the world that Flinn did not want in select councils that man is James J. Booth, who will April 1 become select councilman from the Fourteenth ward. Flinn was untiring in his efforts to elect Earnest F. Rusch and thus defeat Booth. The people intervened again.

Mr. Booth is pledged to make the street railway monopoly pay an equitable share of the taxes. He will also use his vote, voice and influence to force the company into furnishing its patrons some comforts. He will fight for more cars. Behind him will be a body of men that will force recognition and a righting of wrongs.

In the Nineteenth Flinn tried to re-elect J. R. Vincent to select council, but upward of 1,100 people were in opposition. C. H. West, who will take the seat, is a prominent manufacturer and a man of ability.

DOUGLAS IS A VICTOR.

In the Twenty-first, James M. Clark gives way to Robert H. Douglas, who has won so many victories against the machine in common council. Mr. Douglas was another man that Flinn would like to see almost any place rather than in select council. The fight to defeat him was managed by Philip S. Flinn.

P. J. Boyle, who comes into select from the Fourth. He is a fighter that never grows weary of warfare. He will be a bitter opponent of the machine.

J. S. Wightman, who has been in common branch for some time, will go into select from the Twenty-second ward. He had a hard fight, but was successful in the three-cornered contest.

These and the other men who have been elected to select will entirely change that body.

She Was a Victor in the Fifth Ward in Allegheny.

Allegheny has elected a woman as a school director, and Miss Kate C. McKnight of the Fifth ward is the victor in a hot fight. After the vote was counted it was found that she had 34 votes to spare.

The fight in the Fifth ward in Allegheny was the only spirited contest for school director on the North Side. Miss McKnight put her whole soul into the contest. She was backed in her candidacy by the Civic club, and all of the women who have the best interests of the public school system at heart lent willing assistance. The vote stood: William Pennington, 571; Miss Kate C. McKnight, 386; William L. Mayer, 351.

Miss McKnight is a member of one of the most prominent families of Allegheny county. She is a daughter of the Hon. Robert McKnight, who was a prominent member of the Allegheny county bar and who represented the North Side district in congress in the 60s.

Comes of Good Stock.

Her mother was a daughter of the Hon. Harmar and Elizabeth F. Denny and her grandfather, Maj. Ebenezer Denny, was the first mayor of Pittsburgh. She comes of good, old revolutionary stock, and her ancestors were prominently identified with the early history of Western Pennsylvania. She is vice president of the State Federation of Women's clubs, a prominent member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, of the Twen-

The Choice of the People for Controller.

TROUBLE AND TURMOIL MADE DAY NOTABLE

Few Elections Have Been So Productive of Open Warfare and Arrests Were Many at Various Places.

THE POLICE INDIFFERENCE MARKED

Officers as a Rule Were Too Busy in Their Service for the Machine to Prevent Breaches of the Peace, and Informations Had to Be Made.

OFFICERS CALLED OUT IN FORCE ONCE

There was trouble and to spare throughout the city yesterday. Few elections of recent years have been so productive of turmoil.

Every ward had its share. Almost every district had fisticuffs.

Arrests were frequent, police interference was more frequent and, when all is told, there would have been fewer breaches of the peace had the police been allowed to devote themselves to their duty instead of looking after the desperate plight of the machine.

Instance after instance was reported where even the scant courtesies usually accorded a prisoner were denied the men taken into custody at various voting places.

Bail was refused in some cases, and in others trivial offenses were magnified into misdemeanors. It largely depended upon which ticket a man was supporting.

In the Fourth ward, the tension was drawn to the utmost limit between the different factions from early morning until after the count was completed, and several disturbances occurred.

JANITOR IN A QUARREL.

Shortly before 9 o'clock in the morning Patrick Martin, the janitor of the Fourth ward school, a Democratic overseer, and an earnest supporter of the Sweeney faction, became involved in a quarrel in front of the Second district polling place, in the office of Alderman Anderson, Eighth street, with William McClelland, of No. 931 Penn avenue, a supporter of the Citizens ticket. Hot words were exchanged and McClelland turned to go away, when he slipped and fell, striking his head upon the cobblestones. McClelland has a black eye as the result of the affair. Mrs. McClelland, his wife, learning of the affair, promptly made her appearance on the scene and made a rush for Martin, who escaped by running down the street to the school house in Duquesne way.

At the First district early in the morning Charles J. Sweeney, candidate for common council, announced that he intended to put the two policemen on duty at the polls as his deputies for the day. This was opposed by Dr. W. S. Flower. Sweeney was finally convinced that such a proceeding was entirely unnecessary.

LIQUOR BEING DISPENSED.

Dr. Flower, who is one of the school directors of the ward, next discovered that the Republican and Democratic parties, represented by the Sweeneys, John J., member of the legislature, and Charles J., the ward constable, had usurped a room back of the engine room on the basement floor of the school house near the polling booths, where they were furnishing free liquor to their friends and supporters.

Dr. Flower attempted to stop this, but was unable to do so. In the discussion Harry Hannah, the chairman of the Republican committee, became very much excited and asserted that they had a right to do as they pleased, and that they would furnish all the liquor they chose to distribute to their friends. The police would render no assistance to Dr. Flower, and the speakeasy was run to the limit during the entire day.

Later in the day Patrick Martin was again in trouble. Alderman John Groetzinger issued a warrant for his arrest on a charge of assault and battery preferred by S. F. Edwards of No. 63 Evans alley, a supporter of the Citizens party ticket. Edwards alleges that when he attempted to cast his ballot Martin assaulted him, and after knocking him down threw him into the street.

FIGHTS IN LOWER WARDS.

Disturbances were most frequent and serious in the lower wards. The Fifth carried off the honors. One dispute in the second district ended in the arrest of City Detective Bernard McStay.

Jere Heasley, an organization worker, preferred a charge of assault and battery against him and he was locked up. Friends later secured his release on bail. It is said that McStay had been accused of working quietly for the Citizens' ticket and that he blamed Heasley for entering the complaint against him at machine headquarters.

Joseph Thompson, a candidate for constable in the ward, became involved in an argument with George Murren, candidate for common council. Murren was knocked down and the ill-feeling continued all day.

Citizens' workers in the first district of the Sixth ward assert that an effort was made there just after the polls closed to start a disturbance for the purpose of making away with the ballot boxes. Martin McTighe, a Citizens worker, attempted to remain in the room during the counting of the vote and was ordered out.

POLICE WERE CALLED IN.

He refused to go and two or three men laid hands on him. Friends came to his rescue and a general fight resulted. Police officers had to be called in to quell the fight.

While the election was at its height in the Seventh ward George W. Guthrie, Andrew Fulton and Roger O'Mara, who were making a tour of the wards, entered one of the polling places. They took part in a dispute that happened to be going on at the time and the judge of elections ordered them from the room. An officer was finally called in and the trio left.

Nathan Kunzelman and Thomas Murray of South Nineteenth street, two watchers at the voting booth at Sidney and South Eighteenth streets, Twenty-sixth ward, came to blows over the outcome yesterday afternoon and were both arrested.

In the evening while the crowd was congregated in front of Alderman Anderson's office, waiting for the election officers to complete the count of the ballots for the Second Ma-

MEN PROMINENT IN THE BATTLE TALK ABOUT IT

The great victory of yesterday, while it has come in a measure as a surprise even to the people who expected it, in that they did not hope for so much, has acted with very different effects on those most affected. The adherents of the machine which has governed Pittsburgh for so many years can say very little. They have not as yet recovered from the shock sustained by their crushing defeat. On the other hand, the leaders of the victorious Citizens party are willing and able to express their views.

John B. Larkin, who for years had been a strong opponent of the machine, and has gone down to defeat before the hitherto invincible attacks of the organization, says:

"Nothing in a lifetime has so gratified me as this victory of the people over this ring despite its money, police, thieves, thugs and subservient officeholders. The boss has fought his last fight and sent the pitcher to the well for the last time. His perjured galaxy of local time-servers, as well as his contingent of hired convicts from abroad, have been beaten by an abused and enraged public, unwilling to longer suffer the brazen impudence of a man who assumed the role of master in a free American city.

Met His Waterloo.

"At last he has met his Waterloo, and must hereafter be regarded without fear, and as a discredited politician, whipped numerous scraps occurred between different partisans. The Republicans and Democrats were very bitter and more at the Citizens ticket supporters and were busy picking quarrels upon the slightest provocation.

During one particularly bloody standup-and-knock-down affair a man in the crowd cried out: "Part them! Part them." And then the crowd turned on the well-dressed man and handled him roughly for suggesting such a thing.

Police Did Nothing.

Another incident illustrating the negligence of the police was seen in front of the Pancoast school at Webster and Seventh avenues about 4 o'clock. A Hebrew rag picker was passing the school house staggering under the weight of the bag he carried on his back, when some boys, probably 14 or 15 years of age, kindled brands from a bonfire and set fire to his bundle. After being annoyed for some time in the way the old man attempted to escape down Webster avenue, but the boys followed, throwing stones at him. One stone struck him behind the ear and knocked him almost senseless. Some men passing rushed to his assistance and he was helped to a neighboring house, where he was cared for until he was able to continue on his way. There were no police on the street, but there were several within the school house working for the ring candidates. In the Twelfth ward James Carroll was locked up in No. 3 police station for wearing a Citizens party button. He had been threatened often before that if he did not quit wearing it he would land in the workhouse. Early yesterday morning he was going down Penn avenue and was arrested about Twenty-sixth street. His friends heard of his being arrested and carried at once to the station. The sergeant told them he could accept no bail and refused them to the magistrate. After scouring about for several hours they found Magistrate McMasters in the Squire house voting place of the Second ward. He refused to release Carroll, saying that he could wait until today.

Edward Albertson, a watcher for the Citizens party in the Fifth district of the Sixth ward, says the victim of an unprovoked assault about 11 o'clock by one of the ring watchers. He was knocked down and kicked by the man and as he was getting on his feet he was arrested by a policeman who had observed the whole affair. He was hurried to No. 2 police station and locked up and bail was refused.

Two Were Injured.

There was a lively row in the Third precinct of the Thirteenth ward at the voting place on Herron avenue about 9:30 o'clock last night. It is alleged that the ring men kept the Citizens watchers out of the room and locked the overseer in a near room. G. Booker, a Citizens watcher, was struck on the head with a stick or handcuffs and his scalp cut. Reese Hughes was struck in the face and the blood bled freely. Michael Sparr and Harry Cook were mixed up in the fracas, but they were not among those who were struck. Charles W. Allen, who was a candidate for constable in the ward, was also struck. His assailant is said to have been a negro. A big crowd collected and for a time much excitement. The injured were taken to a nearby drug store and their wounds dressed.

CITIZENS WILL CONTROL COUNCILS.

Have a Big Majority in Common and Select Looks Like a Tie—One Contest.

The best the machine can hope for in select council is a tie, and that depends on the seating of John Upperman of the Fifteenth ward.

In the common the anti-machine forces will have at least 34 of the 51 members.

The machine members of select known to have been elected yesterday are James W. Platt, E. J. Wainwright, Jr., Louis Schneider and John J. Shenkel.

There is a contest in the Fifteenth, Upperman claiming election.

The machine members of common council elected yesterday are Edward J. Edwards, Frank W. Bonini, John B. Moore, J. M. West, Robert J. Sheehan, Democrat; Eugene Schwartzwalder, M. G. Leslie, William Brandt, A. M. Barr, John F. Semmelroch, John Lewis, Joseph G. Armstrong, Jacob Soffel, William Rodgers and John Hogue.

The anti-machine members of common council are Thomas Delaney, John Marlin, J. J. Hughes, J. P. Shaw, John Zeuger, Harry Lamb, Henry Fitzpatrick, C. Beckert, Jr., W. R. Stevenson, D. F. Crawford, John Lauder, James W. Jack, W. H. Nichols, Thomas O'Brien, J. P. Stewart, D. J. Bole, Charles S. Crawford, Thomas H. Brown, Joseph C. Wasson, George W. McNeil, John W. Wymard, W. S. ELECTION MOST EXCITING IN THE CITY'S HISTORY

Magee, who has long represented the Fourteenth ward. For a number of years he has been the chairman of the finance committee and the recognized organization leader. He elected to stick by the Flinn machine and the people of his ward parted company with him. C. Beckert, Jr., is the only present member of common from the Fourteenth to be returned. He had covered all connection with the machine. The three new men are all prominent in the ward. They are W. H. Stevenson, D. F. Crawford and John Lauder.

Dr. J. P. Sterrett will go back from the Nineteenth and Charles S. Crawford of the Twentieth will be returned. As colleagues will be Thomas M. Brown, son of Maj. A. M. Brown, and Joseph C. Wasson.

Dr. McNeil Goes Back.

Dr. George W. McNeil, who has fought the machine at every turn, goes back to common from the Twenty-first. John Wymard takes the seat vacated by Mr. Douglas from that ward. William S. Woods succeeds Mr. Wightman from the Twenty-second and will be against the machine. W. H. Barker and Fred Beehner, two strong Citizens party men of the Twenty-third, will take seats held by machine men. Dr. J. P. Shaw, a bright young man, has been sent in by the Citizens of the Sixth. So it is all over the city wherever the Citizens have won councils have benefited.

Senator William Flinn and Thomas S. Bigelow live in the same district, the Fifth of the Nineteenth ward. Some years ago the senator had this division carved out to suit him.

Bigelow Not Counted On.

Then he did not dream of Thomas S. Bigelow's active advent into politics. For a long time it was the senator's custom to buy the election board dinner on election day. Last fall he slipped a cog and Thomas Bigelow furnished both dinner and supper. Yesterday the district gave Larkin a majority of 90. The meals furnished last night, of course, had nothing to do with the result, but it is an interesting incident of the campaign.

The only district Flinn carried in the entire ward was the little one over by Brilliant station. The vote there was 23 to 22. James M. McKee managed the Nineteenth ward for the Citizens party and the immense majority shows how well he did his work.

The Vote for Controller.

ONLY TWO ARRESTED FOR ILLEGAL VOTING.

Police Were Not Active in Catching Repeaters at Yesterday's Election.

No alarming activity was shown by the police yesterday in arresting illegal voters. Only two were gathered in, when it is known that scores of votes for the machine were cast by men who had no legal right to vote in any part of the city.

Theodore Heineman, a garbage inspector, was arrested last night on a charge of violating the election laws. Heineman lives in the Nineteenth ward. E. C. Brownell went to the polls in the Second district of that ward to vote. He was challenged on residence and the assertion made that he lived in the Twentieth ward. It is said that he asserted that Heineman brought him there to vote and gave him a tax receipt with another man's name on it. At the urging of the Citizens leaders he went before Alderman Nagley and made the information. Heineman gave bail for a hearing Friday morning.

James Mellon of No. 700 Cedar avenue, Allegheny, was arrested by Officer Hugh Madison yesterday afternoon. He had voted in the Fifth district of the Eighth ward and on complaint of the Citizens watchers was taken to the Eleventh ward station.

HAMILTON'S

The A. B. Chase Piano and Its Position

It is needless to dwell upon those qualities of a musical instrument which are so obviously out of the ordinary as to merit the designation of perfection.

The A. B. Chase Piano has no equal—it embodies every meritorious feature that the most talented men of the day can put into a piano. It is an art piano for artists. To hear the marvelous sweetness of its tone is to fall captive to the most remarkable piano that ever graced a home.

GLOOM WAS DEEP AT HEADQUARTERS--IN THE BOROUGHS

DEFEAT ACKNOWLEDGED

The "Powers" at the Public Safety Building Were at Last Compelled to Acknowledge That the Landslide Was Unexpected by Them.

The Lodge of Sorrow met last night. The meeting place was on the fifth floor of the building occupied by the department of public safety in Sixth avenue. The members present consisted of certain gentlemen who until last night believed that they were invincible in the politics of Pittsburgh.

The sad feature of the gathering was that it started out to be anything but a meeting of the Lodge of Sorrow. Ringsters large and ringsters small were there, each one looking pleasant and joking with his neighbor, placidly waiting for the election returns which were to announce another victory for the machine which has ruled Pittsburgh for so many years.

The "Powers" Were There.

Senator William Flinn, Recorder and City Chairman J. O. Brown, Arch Mackrell, County Treasurer Thomas G. McClurg, Controller Joseph E. Lewis and a select little coterie occupied chairs in the general offices of the department of public safety. In the next room sat a number of other politicians of lesser degree, whose dignity was not sufficient to warrant them a place with "the powers."

ROBERT H. DOUGLAS,

In another room immediately connecting with the two front apartments, sat Delinquent Tax Collector Robert Ostermaier and Coroner Jesse M. McGeary. These two worthies had large sheets in front of them. Mr. Ostermaier's sheet to record the votes for controller, and Coroner McGeary's sheet to show the gains over the Municipal league fight in 1899. Grouped about were a number of interested politicians, with a few newspaper reporters at the table jotting down results as they came in.

After the Returns.

A short-line system had been established to get returns. On the fourth floor of the building, in the fire alarm office, returns from the precincts of the different wards were received. A messenger boy was kept constantly on the run carrying these bulletins upstairs. About 8 o'clock the first returns started coming in. There was a movement of expectancy in the waiting crowd, and a gradual centering of interest about the table.

In a room still further removed from the throne, whereon sat the political power of the Pittsburgh machine, were gathered a number of faithful retainers who had plainly come only to show that they were still in line with the organization. Out in the hallway lingered another crowd of like ilk, tangled with whom were many police officers in uniform, most of whom may be seen any afternoon about the downtown district.

First Returns Deceptive.

Returns from about the first ten districts were delightful. On every hand Lewis was gaining. Broad smiles of satisfaction beamed here and there, and nods of "I told you so" were freely exchanged. It seemed that this election was to be a repetition of those of former years. Mr. Ostermaier announced now and then with pardonable satisfaction that the precinct just in showed a gain of so many, whether tens or hundreds.

After ten districts had come in the sky was rosy. With 20 marked up on the slate there was scarcely a cloud visible. At that time, however, there emanated from the temporary throne room a command to get returns faster. The cause of this desire for haste was that some wards and districts which had been regarded as sure and safe had sent in no returns, and the leaders augured ill from the delay.

Reports Grow Ominous.

Their fears were not wrong. With 30 precincts heard from the news was anything but cheering. Larkin seemed to be gaining on every side, and after each report Mr. Ostermaier was compelled to announce, with a regularity which was plainly wearing on the faithful, that Lewis had lost a certain number more.

When this dispiriting news had been coming in for a little while the multitude was cheered up by the statement that the organization had won a councilman. It was announced that James W. Platt and Edward J. Edwards had been elected from the Second ward, Frank W. Bonini from the Third ward, and Joseph G. Armstrong from the Twenty-ninth ward. All of these victories were expected, save that of Bonini in the Third ward, whom they feared would be defeated by John W. Hedderich, the present member of common council.

Larkin's Vote Rolling Up.

The good feeling engendered by the announcement of these votes was short lived. Precinct after precinct came in with steadily increasing figures for the Citizens candidates. Time after time Mr. Ostermaier was compelled to announce gains for the opposition and after each one for Larkin the more courageous went to their surprise by low whistling, saying nothing, but conveying volumes.

About 10 o'clock there was a little diversion. Police Magistrate Bernard McKenna, a Democrat, but a staunch machine man, was sitting beside a reporter for The Gazette. In answer to a query as to the closeness of the fight, the magistrate replied: "It looks as though we were all wrong. We thought it was a fight, but it seems to be a landslide. I guess we all missed on this." A later Magistrate McKenna threw up his hands and conceded Larkin the election.

About this time a large man, who seemed to be in a mood surprisingly jovial considering the circumstances, drifted into the room. He hailed several people with great familiarity and inquired of Mr. Ostermaier whether there was any hope at all. Mr. Ostermaier regretfully admitted that everything seemed to have been swept away. The large man, not a whit abashed, explained that if he went down he was with the rest, and a thousand to the bad. "Well, we're all in the same boat," he remarked philosophically.

Returns stopped coming in for a little time. Mr. Ostermaier left his tally sheet and went into the front room for a conference with his allies. He came out in a short time, trying to look cheerful, but making a dismal failure. There was a heart to heart talk in the front room and then Senator Flinn and Recorder Brown prepared to leave. They had nothing to say in the way of estimates of the Larkin majority, but both conceded his election.

Then Came the "Wake."

After the departure of the chiefs a little of the restraint was taken from the party. The watchers drifted through the various rooms, meeting friends and stopping to wonder how the awful and unexpected result had come about. Arch Mackrell, deputy register of wills, and probably the staunchest friend Senator Flinn has, who has always carried the Eleventh ward before, voiced the sentiments of the multitude when he said:

"It was the vote which has always been stay-at-home before which whipped us. Up in the Eleventh ward we figured that if we polled 9... votes we were safe and we polled 1,054 and were beaten. People that we never thought would come out to the polls voted today and about all of them against us. It was simply a landslide."

Thorn Was Downcast.

Thomas H. Thorn, select councilman from the Twenty-third ward, who was badly beaten by Dr. W. D. O'Brien, drifted up stairs after the leaders had left. He was rather downcast over his defeat, but explained that he had come to the front to show that he was still loyal to the fortunes of the people who had fought with him and that when they went down he went down, too.

When the returns became almost heart breaking and the leaders had left, people started to lose interest. Even the Seventeenth ward, which it was thought Director of Public Safety A. H. Leslie and his brother, Max G. Leslie, president of common council, could not fail to carry, seemed wavering. Reports were the worst. Just then came the only ray of sunshine since earlier in the evening when the election of Piatt, Bonini et al. was announced.

Only One Ray of Sunshine.

Director Leslie rushed into the room and announced with a flourish that his brother had won. It seemed too good to be true and the faithful crowded about him to assure themselves that they had not heard falsely. In a short time Max Leslie himself came in with the figures of the victory and there was momentary rejoicing. The gladness did not last long, however. The great losses all over the city were of too much moment to be readily wiped out by a paltry victory in one ward.

By this time most of the retainers had drifted away. They did not feel it incumbent upon them to stay after their leaders had gone. The returns ceased coming in, man after man left, until even the newspaper reporters, seeing nothing more in sight, returned to their offices.

Thus ended the greatest meeting the Republican branch of the Lodge of Sorrow was ever called upon to hold in Pittsburgh. It was crushing, and no person seemed to be able to rise above it sufficiently to tell coherently how it happened.

Citizens Party Enthusiastic.

Such enthusiasm as was seen at the Citizens headquarters on Fifth avenue from the beginning of the bulletins until midnight when the last vestige of doubt as to the success of the Citizens ticket was removed has never before been apparent in a municipal contest in Pittsburgh. Prominent men of affairs, artisans, professional men and representatives of all walks of life mingled in one glad community of thankfulness for the victory that removed Pittsburgh from the clutches of the machine.

The Fourteenth Regiment band played happy selections between the bulletin announcements, which were read every few minutes to the excited crowd that swayed about the headquarters. Cheer after cheer greeted the almost uniformly victorious messages read to the big crowd, and at times all broke into song.

Interest among the crowd centered in the contests in the Fourteenth, Twenty-third and Twenty-first wards, although nearly every ward in the city had its representatives present to lead in the cheering for the bulletins from their own ward. When it was announced that the chief of the ring, none other than Senator Flinn, had lost even his own precinct in his own ward, the cheering lasted several minutes, clapping of hands and shouting was seconded by stamping of feet that shook the whole building.

Larkin Hears the News.

The news of his victory over the machine candidate was received by John B. Larkin last night at the Democratic headquarters, Diamond street and Cherry alley. When the next controller of Pittsburgh arrived at the headquarters about 10 o'clock he was warmly congratulated by Col. J. M. Guffey, City Chairman George W. Guthrie, J. J. Miller, George H. Stengel, Joseph Howley and others present.

Mr. Larkin bore his honors modestly. He was apparently much affected by the overwhelming majority given him, but insisted that it was not a victory for himself but for the people. He listened with interest to the reports as they came in telling of triumphs over the machine in all parts of the city.

Shortly before midnight, when fully assured that the victory of the anti-machine forces was complete, Mr. Larkin made a statement to the press, giving his opinion of the causes that led to yesterday's political upheaval in Pittsburgh.

Col. J. M. Guffey spent a couple of hours at Democratic headquarters and expressed gratification over the result.

At Democratic Headquarters.

The Democratic headquarters were in charge of Attorney J. J. Miller, chairman of the Democratic city executive committee, and George H. Stengel, secretary. George W. Guthrie, who conducted the valiant fight for the Democratic city organization as its chairman, was present and, as the returns came in, compared the figures with the vote cast in the municipal league campaign of 1899, when he was a candidate for mayor.

The first returns were favorable and continued so without a break through the evening. At 9 o'clock enough wards had been heard from to show that the anti-machine forces had won a sweeping victory. At 10 o'clock Chairman Guthrie, Chairman Miller and Secretary Stengel claimed a majority for Larkin of between 10,000 and 15,000. There were many inquiries for the vote from the downtown wards but these were late in coming in.

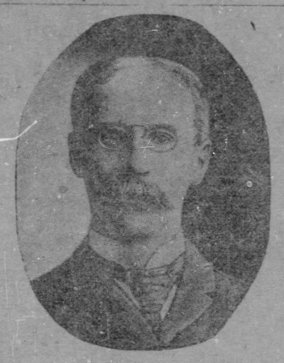
NOT EVEN A POSTSCRIPT FROM GOVERNOR STONE.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, PA., Feb. 18.—Neither Gov. Stone nor Attorney General Elkin would make a statement tonight on the crushing defeat of the Stone-Flinn ticket in Pittsburgh. Stone and Elkin received the returns at the Executive mansion, and they were much surprised at the overwhelming victory of the Citizens ticket.

Recorder Brown, who has been keeping Stone posted on the situation, assured him today by telegraph that everything was all right, and that the machine would elect Lewis controller, and elect enough councilmen to retain control of both branches.



GEORGE W. GUTHRIE,
Chairman of the Democratic City Committee.

WAS KILLED IN A PISTOL DUEL

FREDERICK JONES SHOT THROUGH NECK BY THOMAS TURNER.

Both Were Colored and Bad Feeling Had Existed Between Them—Returning from Polls—Murderer Escaped After Long Chase.

Frederick Jones, a negro, 24 years of age, was shot and almost instantly killed by Thomas Turner, a negro, 25 years of age, about noon yesterday in what is known as "Little Africa," in the Brinton district of East Pittsburgh borough.

The cause of the trouble between the men originated several days ago. Yesterday when they were returning from the polls in a carriage with others of their color the dispute was renewed. Just as they got from the vehicle both Turner and Jones drew revolvers and began to shoot. Both dropped. N. T. Velar, the negro postmaster, first went to Turned, who had a wound in his neck, which, he said, was inflicted by Jones. Velar then went to Jones, who had been shot in the neck, the bullet having cut the jugular vein. He died in a few minutes.

Turner then disappeared. He was probably assisted by friends. The next heard of him was when he waded Turtle creek and crawled under a car on the Union railroad. William McCarthy, a conductor, caught him by a leg, but when Turner thrust a revolver in his face, let him go. Turner then went up the hill and was lost.

Dr. Ira Fix, the burgess, had arrived by this time, and he at once notified the police of the adjoining boroughs. Officers Donovan and Griffiths of the Braddock police force got on the trail of Turner and followed him over the hills and through the hollows to East McKeesport, where all trace of him was lost.

The body of Jones was taken to Braddock and there viewed by Deputy Coroner Huckel. He ordered a post-mortem. Jones came from Chattanooga, Tenn., two years ago. He had been employed by the bricklayers at the Edgar Thomson steel works. Turner is from Birmingham, Ala. He has been employed at the coal docks of the Union railroad at Duquesne. He is 5 feet 7 inches in height, very dark and weighs 140 pounds. He was of an overbearing, quarrelsome disposition.

North Braddock.

At North Braddock yesterday but little interest was displayed in the election, and a small vote was cast. Those elected are as follows: First ward—Council, Daniel Brown and John A. Burke; school directors, George B. Whitfield and James D. Adams; assessor, John J. Whalen; constable, Edward McNally; judge of election, William Hill; inspector of election, Michael Kane. Second ward—Council, William J. Vance; constable, B. G. Silver; judge of election, John Roper; inspector of election, Samuel B. Lowles and Edward Cassidy; assessor, Phillip Limberg. Third ward—Council, John G. Maxwell; constable, A. L. Best.

Edgewood.

The Citizens ticket won out in Edgewood by a good majority. Those elected are as follows: Council, three years, M. M. Garland, C. D. Mellor and W. G. Gordon; two years, George J. Shaffer; school directors, M. B. McWhinney and R. W. Anderson; justice of the peace, M. L. Gleason, and auditor, O. B. Gregg.

Munhall.

The Republican ticket won at Munhall, electing all of their candidates. The election was very quiet and but little interest taken. Those elected are: Council, O. A. Posten and Thomas Whitten; justice of the peace, W. C. McCleary; school director, John Bell and W. C. Martin.

THE RESULT OF THE ELECTION IN THE BOROUGHS

RESULTS OF THE BALLOT

Councilmen, School Directors, Constables and Other Public Officials Who Will Hold Office as the Result of Yesterday's Decision.

The result of the election in the boroughs and towships of Allegheny county yesterday were as follows:

Verona.—For council, C. G. Condron, G. H. Scott and Earnest Reinholt were elected; school directors, S. D. Nutting and J. E. Marquis; auditor, George H. Milliken; constable, Daniel Martin; high constable, Daniel Martin; judge of election, C. E. Smith; inspector, Harry Meeds. Republican, and William Reynolds, Democrat. All except one inspector elected were Republicans. Total vote cast, 250.

Sewickley.

The Republican ticket carried in Sewickley yesterday by a big majority. The vote was light on account of the bad weather, and as the contest was so one-sided, but little interest was displayed. A total vote of 230 ballots was cast, the Republicans averaging over 100. Those elected are as follows: First ward, justice of the peace, A. E. Allewelt, 129; auditor, A. H. Mellinger, 122; council, J. Miller 105; school directors, Dr. I. D. Chantler, 117; judge of election, L. A. Cole, 119; inspector of election, J. M. Little, 110; constable, George Grady, Sr., 22. Second ward—Justice of the peace, A. F. Allewelt, 87; auditor, A. D. Mellinger, 88; council, C. P. Nevin, 87; school director, J. T. Nevin, 87; judge of election, Dale S. Tate, 84; inspector of election, Solomon Ague, 77; constable, F. B. Goff, 81.

Leet Township.

The Republican ticket carried everything in sight in a very dull election. Those elected from reports received late last night are: Commissioner, G. E. McCague; school director, three years, Charles Watts and R. T. McCready; one year, Charles Groetzinger; justice of the peace, Nathan Buckley and John Way, Jr.; judges of election, Thomas Copeland; inspector of election, F. D. Evans; auditor, Henry Irwin, Jr.; constable, Michael O'Ryan.

Oakmont.

The election in Oakmont came off very quietly yesterday, the Republicans having but little difficulty in winning out. Those elected are: Council, Alexander Warner, G. A. Schnabel and James Leard; school directors, H. S. Paul, J. F. Hunsert; auditor, W. A. Tomlinson; constable, James King; high constable, James King; inspector, William Morris, Republican; Charles Gallagher, Democrat, and judge of election, George Pole.

Bellevue.

Mrs. A. Starr Martin was for the sixth time defeated for school director in Bellevue, but she has announced that she will be a candidate at the next election. She received 53 votes and her opponents, two to elect, received 79 and 72. In the Second ward W. B. Rodgers, F. L. Clark and Stephen Newburn were elected councilmen. In the First, R. F. Mevay was elected. In the Third there was a muddle because of the carelessness of the printer. The name of David W. Hubley, the regular candidate for council for the three-year term, had been left off the ticket, and as a result E. T. Graham was elected by a majority of 17. The name of W. G. Waters, the candidate for the one-year term, was also left off, and E. L. Kidney was elected. Mr. Hubley said last night that he would contest the election.

Ben Avon.

Owing to the presence in the field of only one ticket the election in Ben Avon was very quiet. The successful candidates are: Council for three years, Charles H. Hays, T. G. Evans and F. J. Curtis; school directors for three years, W. S. Harper and J. C. Bragdon; auditor, W. H. Sturgeon, Jr.; constable, Otto Zieger; high constable, Otto Zieger; judge of election, David Hastings; inspector of election, Julius B. Hillands.

Emsworth.

Yesterday's election was the most exciting ever held in Emsworth borough. The result of the election is practically a draw, but theoretically it is a bad defeat for the Republicans, otherwise the borough "ring," and a victory for the Citizens ticket. The successful candidates are: Council for three years, W. H. Morrison, Republican, and William B. Stauffer, Citizen; council for one year, M. A. Gilbert, Republican; school directors, H. D. Kerr, Republican, and John G. Nevin, Citizen; auditor, A. J. Nevin, Citizen; constable, Eugene Sweitzer, Republican; judge of election, A. J. Koehler, Republican; inspector of election, F. S. Coleman, Republican.

Avalon.

The chief center of interest in the election in Avalon borough was on the liquor question. Those opposed to the measure scored a victory, the vote being 318 against it and 34 for licenses. The successful contestants are: Council, three years, Andrew Kirker, Edward Alcott and William J. Leitch; school directors, three years, William J. K. Snyder and Alexander Hamilton; auditor, William Jenkins; constable, Leonard Smith; judge of election, William A. Driscon; inspector, Edward Hastings.

MISS KATE C. M'KNIGHT,
Who Was Elected a School Director in the Fifth Ward, Allegheny, Yesterday.

McKeesport.

As a whole the election in McKeesport was a landslide for the anti-Black people. Out of 12 councilmen elected he secured two; the anti-Black faction secured eight and two are doubtful independents. The councilmen elected are: First ward, C. G. Falkenstein, Republican, and Charles T. Abbott, Democrat; Third ward, T. F. Johnstin, Republican, and S. W. Pratt, Republican; Fifth ward, C. T. Johnstin, Republican, and George H. Lysle, Democrat; Seventh ward, John Carter, Republican, and E. M. White, Democrat; Ninth ward, R. J. W. Soles and John Baumgarten, Independent anti-Blacks; Eleventh ward, O. R. Dougherty and T. C. Baldridge, Independents. The latter are doubtful in regard to the stand they will take in the fight against Black. All the Democratic candidates who were on the ticket, except Wampler, were elected.

Rankin.

The election at Rankin yesterday was rather close, and the fight between the regular Republican party and the Citizens and Democratic fusion ticket was fierce. The normal vote of Rankin is less than 400, but 607 votes were polled yesterday. The Citizens' candidates all won out. The result is: Council, John F. Sheekey, Edward F. McBride and Fred Fisher; school director, Charles Edwards (colored), A. J. Katchman and Karl Koellman; constable, William Sullivan; auditor, James Meyers; inspector of election, H. P. Light; judge of election, Charles Pollard.

Sharpsburg.

The election held in Sharpsburg yesterday was one of the most exciting held in the borough for years, and the straight Republican ticket won for every office. The following are the elected candidates: Council, Thomas Young, George Carmichael and Robert A. Saint; school directors, D. F. McIntosh and H. G. Woerner; justice of the peace, F. W. Schrandt.

Etna.

The result of the election in Etna was a complete surprise to nearly everybody, by the Citizens ticket winning out for every borough office. The following were elected: Council, E. P. Heitz, H. H. Ensor and W. B. Krossen; school directors, George H. Calvert and G. A. Speer; auditor, Henry W. Renouf; constable, W. C. Sanders.

Millvale.

The following is the result of the election held in Millvale, by wards: First ward, Council, E. M. Schlag and Charles Hilliard; School ward, Robert Ewart and Thomas McCutcheon; Third ward, D. E. Hickey and Henry Neuf; auditors, E. K. Ketler and Paul Osterling. The most interesting fight in the borough was for the office for justice of the peace, between A. J. Needling and James K. Kuhn's. Kuhn, the Humane society agent, the former winning by a vote of 548 to 350.

Homestead.

At the election at Homestead yesterday the Republican candidates won in every ward except the Second, where the Democrats elected a councilman and two school directors. A light vote was polled. Those elected are as follows: First ward, of the years, J. B. Jones; First ward, council, H. H. Lyman; school director, L. L. Jones; Second ward, council, T. J. Nau (Dem.); school directors, Denny Murray (Dem.) and John Dirken (Dem.). Third ward, council, J. J. Ellard; school director, M. Scott; Fourth ward, council, Thomas Dixon; school director, J. H. Williams; Fifth ward, council, John F. Hill; school director, W. R. Houston and George Wickerhan.

Turtle Creek.

In Turtle Creek yesterday the Citizens and Socialist fusion ticket carried the day, defeating the Republicans in everything. These elected are: Council, Robert Sudley, Louis Kanabe and William Hill; school director, Dr. M. F. Plotner, Harry Armstrong; constables, William Council, George Grabe, J. F. Miller and F. H. Thompson; school directors, J. D. Anderson, John M. Lindsey and W. J. Kennedy.

McKees Rocks.

The election at McKees Rocks yesterday was the quietest held in that borough in a number of years. The combined Democratic and Republican candidates carried everything before them. The result of the election was as follows: Council, Jeffrey Davis, William Gast, R. D. Holmes; school directors, William Zinchame, Harry J. Smith; constable, John Kernan.

West Homestead.

West Homestead had one of the hottest political battles in the Monongahela valley. The principal fight was for council, the three-year term having nine candidates, with two to elect. Several scraps took place, but no serious trouble occurred. The successful candidates are as follows: Council, three years, Walter Carroll and Frank Gorman; one year, H. Honse; school directors, Louis Walker and James Darsie, Jr.; auditor, F. W. Edwards; constable, James X. Brown; high constable, C. Laird.

lith Century club and the Civic club.

Miss McKnight took the stand at the beginning of the contest that the influence of woman is needed in the schools. She has said that she believes that the majority on a school board should be made up of men to look after the business interests, but that there should also be a woman on the board to look after cleanliness in the schoolroom, sanitation, and the thousand and one little things that men, with their many business cares, are bound to overlook.

The school directors in Allegheny chosen without opposition were:

Third ward—W. C. Lattimer (Rep.) and J. E. Bouggman (Rep.).

Seventh ward—George Meesler (Rep.) and Louis Yaeger (Rep.).

In the Eighth ward the candidates were Albert J. Hahn (Dem.), Charles E. Christian (Cit.), Joseph W. Brown and George M. Kirk (Peo.), of which there were two to elect. Hahn and Brown tied with 160 each, Christian's vote was 172 and Kirk's 149.

Ninth ward—Charles E. Woods (Dem.) 320, Andrew Burke (Dem.) 268, J. J. Trautman (Rep.) 196, and Charles J. Jacob (Rep.) 183.

Tenth ward—E. M. Haugh and C. S. Knaur (Rep.) were elected over Edward Johnson (Cit.).

Fight for Controller.

Next to the fight for school director in the Fifth ward, interest centered in the contest for controller. James Brown, who has been controller for over 30 years, had an easy victory over J. H. Stevenson, and won with a majority of over 3 to 1.

DOCTORS INDORSE SWAMP-ROOT.

To Prove What Swamp-Root, the Great Kidney, Liver or Bladder Remedy, Will Do for YOU, Every Reader of The Gazette May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Free by Mail.

East Atlanta, Ga., March 1st, 1901.

DR. KILMER & CO., Binghamton, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—While it has never been my habit or inclination to recommend remedies the ingredients of which are not all known to me, it seems as if I should make an exception in the case of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. My experience, so far as I have tested it in my practice, forces me to the conclusion that it is a remedy of the greatest value in all kidney, liver, bladder and other inflammatory conditions of the genito-urinary tract. I now take pleasure in prescribing Swamp-Root in all such cases with a feeling of assurance that my patients will derive great benefit from its use. I shall continue to prescribe it in other cases in my practice with the expectation of good results.

Very truly yours,

(A. J. Haile, M. D.) A. J. Haile M.D.

Gentlemen:—I have prescribed that wonderful remedy for kidney complaint, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, with most beneficial effect and know of many cures by its use. These patients had kidney trouble, as diagnosed by other physicians, and treated without benefit. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root effected a cure. I am a liberal man and accept a specific wherever I find it, in an accepted school or out of it. For desperate cases of kidney complaint under treatment with unsatisfactory results I turn to Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root with most flattering results. I shall continue to prescribe it and from personal observation state that Swamp-Root has great curative properties.

Truly yours,

(L. Barstow Irish, M. D.) L. Barstow Irish M.D.
276 9th St., Borough of Brooklyn, N. Y.
Sept. 24, 1901.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is used in the leading hospitals, recommended by physicians in their private practice, and is taken by doctors themselves who have kidney ailments, because they recognize in it the greatest and most successful remedy for kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

EDITORIAL NOTE—If you have the slightest symptoms of kidney or bladder trouble, or if there is a trace of it in your family history, send at once to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., who will gladly send you by mail, immediately, without cost to you, a sample bottle of Swamp-Root and a book telling all about Swamp-Root and containing many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured. In writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, be sure to say that you read this generous offer in The Pittsburgh Gazette.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

EXCITING SCENES IN EVERY WARD OF THE CITY

EARLY VOTING THE RULE ALL OVER THE CITY

City Employes Were Very Much in Evidence in Majority of Wards.

REFORM OFFICERS ALERT

Every Effort of the Machine to Make Use of Its Payroll Organization Was Met With Prompt Opposition. Incidents of the Day.

The polling places in the downtown wards, with two or three exceptions, were comparatively free from disorder, and but few arrests were made. Policemen were present at each precinct, from two to three officers in uniform being stationed inside the rooms or corridors, and numerous others in plain clothes. All worked enthusiastically for the machine. To this they were ably assisted by the front office force.

Firemen, too, were about in plain clothes, and of the crowds that were found lingering at most of the polling places, the majority were city employes.

There was not a policeman to be seen on any one of the downtown streets or avenues, and even the trolley cars were run without the usual corner men to beckon them on or order them to stop.

The voting in all these wards commenced with a rush and the election officers generally declared that they had never known the vote to be so large nor the voters to come so quickly at any previous election.

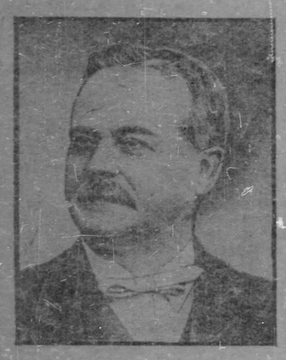
In one ward two men voted, one of whom had not voted in nine years and the other in 11 years at a city election, and the reason given for this was that they did not consider it worth while to vote, as the ring had control of everything and their votes were of no consequence. They voted yesterday to throw off this yoke.

Among the earliest voters in the First ward was George S. Fleming, and he was challenged on his residence. He managed to establish his right, however, and cast his ballot.

James A. McKee, candidate for common council in the Second ward, in making the rounds discovered at engine house No. 2 that the ring had four or five watchers, instead of the two regularly allowed within the ropes, pushing and crowding the way to the booths.

He made a formal protest to the judge and demanded that the election be conducted legally, with but two watchers. He threatened to prosecute some one if the law was not obeyed and his demands were complied with. The one policeman in attendance made no effort to stop the pushing and crowding around the ballot box.

Objection was also made at this precinct to so many persons entering the booths with a voter.



JAMES J. BOOTH,
Flinn's Former Partner and Now Political Enemy, Elected to Select Council From the Fourteenth Ward.

Wrangling in the Second.

There was wrangling all day in the Second ward, where James W. Platt, the Fifth avenue saloonkeeper, was running for re-election to select council on the ring ticket. At the Second avenue polling place there were numerous disturbances, but none of sufficient importance to demand arrests.

This was one of the districts in the downtown section where it was expected that the machine would attempt to repeat and the large vote cast in the early hours of the morning was looked upon with much suspicion.

The voting place was in one end of the engine house, a narrow little place, not nearly large enough for the purpose. The ring gang completely blocked the room, and on the pavement and in the doors there was a crowd in which several tough characters were noticed, evidently waiting and looking for trouble all day, and the feeble efforts of the policeman on duty to clear the crowd were of no avail.

In the Second district of the Fourth ward the polling place is in the basement of the North school, in Duquesne way, and is large enough for ordinary elections. Yesterday it was constantly crowded with watchers and loafers, who interfered with the voters and jostled them continually. It seemed that at least 15 or 20 men were leaning over the rail with registry lists in their hands and a close watch was kept.

Voting Proceeded Quietly.

In the Sixth ward the election proceeded very quitly. Voting was very heavy in the morning. A. J. Dougherty, the Republican overseer in the Second district, made some trouble by refusing to show his certificate of appointment when the polls opened, and James M. Dunn, the Democratic overseer, refused to permit him to enter the room. The matter was adjusted later in the day.

Considerable comment was made upon the change of the polling place in the First district of the Sixth ward from Dr. John Derris' stables in Forbes street to the office of Alderman John A. Martin in Fifth avenue. The election officers were asked why the change was made, but they refused to give any explanation.

In the Seventh ward there was considerable trouble and excitement all day, especially in the Second district. It was openly asserted that the ring was passing two non-resident voters and the arguments and discussions were so loud that it required four policemen to prevent trouble.

Pavey's Second Thought.

Jesse Pavey led a party of eight or nine men through the Sixth ward yesterday afternoon. He was commissioned by J. O. Brown as a utility man. Pavey surveyed the husky McTighe workers in the ward and decided that the "roughing" mill would not start.

The early votes in the Twelfth ward showed the head of the Citizens ticket gaining in spite of the numerous challenges that were made.

In the Fifteenth the fight was lively from the moment the polls opened. In the First precinct the polling began heavy and kept up at a rate of 50 an hour for nearly five hours. In the Second precinct the Citizens watchers challenged 12 negro votes and succeeded in having seven of them thrown out after a strong fight.

Non-Residence Was Alleged.

Of late there has been an increase of negroes in Park Brothers mills, none of whom had been long enough in the city to vote.

E. J. Martin, city clerk, and Dr. Clark, with half a dozen others did not take time to eat. In the Fifteenth ward school, where two polling places are opposite each other, Martin and Clark became so zealous that they had to remove their coats at times. No man went into either of these two polls before coming in contact with Martin or Clark.

Director A. H. Leslie was another official absent from his duties yesterday. It was rumored that he was quite ill and would not, therefore, be at his office before evening. Neither was he. A Gazette reporter found him lodged behind the railing of the court room in No. 5 police station, Fifth ward. He did look half sick, but it was the sickness brought on when defeat stares one in the face.

"Hello, director, what are you doing out here?" asked the reporter.

"Oh, I haven't felt well for some days; in fact, I was not able to go out at all this morning," was the reply.

Leslie Hummed a Tune.

The director then hummed a tune to himself and in a moment started up nervously. The reporter wheeled about to see what attracted his attention and saw a voter about to enter the booth. The director did not say a word. He simply looked at this individual as much as to say: "I've got my eye on you, old boy, so beware."

And this is how the amiable director of public safety passed the greater part of the day.

He had, however, a rival of stronger physical endurance and equally as strong drawing qualities in the person of ex-Fire Chief William Coates. Coates kept constantly in touch with every precinct in the Seventeenth ward from the time he awoke yesterday morning.

"Just as certain as I know that I am breathing now," he declared at noon, "the citizens' ticket will carry the day." Coates spent the greater part of his time in the Seventh district.

Fight in Outer Wards.

The fight in the outerwards, comprising the Fourteenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-first and Twenty-second, was lively all day long. The vote polled during the early hours of the morning was heavier than it has been for years, and as nearly as the election officers could judge the majority was cast for Larkin.

As soon as the polls were open the workmen living thereabout started to cast their votes. Ordinarily it has been the custom for many of the men to vote when they go home in the evening. The rumor that there would be delay in street car traffic roused them and they cast their votes before going to the city.

Loafers Were Many.

In nearly every voting precinct in the wards mentioned there was a crowd of loafers. Men who are in the city employ and who had voted early hung about the polling places in a vain endeavor to discover how the vote was being cast.

In many of the precincts where it was convenient the ringsters had provided liberal supplies of liquor, and when a man arrived who was doubtful their favorite tactics were to stop him before he could approach the election officers and ask him to have something. Generally the man succumbed to the temptation, and before he would be liberated from the room containing the liquor he would have so much aboard that he would vote for any candidate suggested to him.

In one precinct in the Twentieth ward, where the fight for councils is particularly lively, the machine people had provided a small barrel of whisky. The polling place for this precinct is in a school house, and the barrel was placed in a room just adjoining that in which the polling was done. Here almost every voter, unless he was known to be of antagonistic principles, was invited to take a small drink.

Rivalry Was Spirited.

Out in the Twenty-first ward the rivalry was very spirited. The chief fight there, as in most other wards, had concentrated about seats in councils, and the partisans of the different candidates were very busy. Recent measures introduced in councils bore an important part in the casting of the vote.

Generally the day in the ward was quiet. The men who arrived at the polls to cast their votes were qualified voters. Nearly every one of them was registered, and the few whose names did not appear on the poll books could show tax receipts duly made out.

In the Twentieth ward one amusing incident occurred. A man appeared whom none of the election officers nor any of the watchers about the booth knew. He gave his name and his tax receipt was requested. With a great show he produced the required document and handed it to the election board. In a minute a broad smile spread over the face of the man who received it. He passed it to his colleagues, and after all had had a laugh the man was informed that it might be better if he would produce his own tax receipt instead of his wife's.

Anderson Couldn't Serve.

In the Seventh district of the Twenty-third ward Elmer E. Anderson, a machine candidate for common council, tried to serve as an overseer. He was threatened with arrest and quit the job. John Battles, superintendent of the bureau of highways and sewers, also tried to act as an overseer. Several city employes did serve in this capacity in the ward. Five negroes were voted in the Twenty-third ward in the morning. The men then got in a car and came downtown.

On the South Side the election excited the most intense interest, and the vote was heavy, almost beyond precedent, especially during the early part of the day. As a rule the contest passed off quietly, considering the intensity of the feeling, and, although several arrests were made and many fights took place, in general the contest was good-natured enough. In many districts a larger vote had been polled at 2 o'clock in the afternoon than was cast during the entire day at the last November election.

Votes for Lewis.

The South Side is the home of Controller Lewis, and the ring men expected a majority for his re-election. He received many complimentary votes from old friends who voted the rest of the Citizens ticket straight.

The councilmanic contests were close in almost every ward, and this helped to bring out a heavy vote. In the Thirty-sixth the voting was phenomenally heavy during the morning and noon hours and by 2:15 in the afternoon 179 votes had been cast in the Third precinct, the largest ever polled there at a similar hour in the day.

Patrick Foley, who has lived in the ward 20 years and in this district for 14, said that the interest exceeded anything he had ever seen. There was little noise or excitement, the balloting proceeding without confusion, but the interest was intense and the crowd around the polling places was large at all times. The voters seemed to have their minds fully made up before they reached the polls.

Greater by 50 Per Cent.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the number of ballots exceeded by 50 per cent the record for voting at that time in the First district of the Thirty-fourth, and the other districts of the ward reported a similarly heavy vote. In the Second district many payroll men were gathered and desperate attempts were made to influence voters just before they cast their ballots.

In the Twenty-fourth ward the machine workers apparently gave up all hope of saving Lewis before noon, and the election watchers asserted that the cutting of tickets was enormous.

In the Twenty-fifth a big vote was polled early in the day, and the machine workers admitted that the result would be close.

Heavy in Mullen's Ward.

In Assessor Thomas Mullen's ward, the Thirtieth, a heavy vote was polled during the morning, as was the case also in the Twenty-ninth.

In the Twenty-eighth and Thirty-first wards the voting was heavy early in the day, but in the Thirty-second the lack of a hard councilmanic fight kept the vote below what it would otherwise have been.

The Duquesne Heights incline closed down during the hours of 5 and 7 in the evening "for repairs," but the general opinion was that it was a clever game to keep the vote down on the hill, and if possible encompass the defeat of some of the Citizens' candidates. The game was partially blocked, however, by the sending of wagons, carriages and sleighs to the foot of the hill to haul voters to the polls.

In the Fourteenth.

The victory in the Fourteenth ward, the greatest battleground of all the wards in the city, was stunning in its effect on the machine. While a crowd, solidly packed in the little room where the Citizens party has had its headquarters all through the campaign, was shouting itself hoarse in triumph thick gloom darkened the Oakland police station. The returns from 16 different districts were brought there by the policemen and other emissaries, and when the returns were read off astonishment and despair overspread the faces of the machine men who had gathered to hear the news. All through the ward on the streets Republicans anathematized William Flinn and his deal with Gov. Stone, and many invidious comparisons were made between him and the late Senator C. L. Magee, who for years had held the ward in the hollow of his hand.

Only One District for Machine.

In every district in the ward, except the ninth, the polling place of which was in front room of No. 4 police station, the landslide that buried Controller Lewis and the councilmanic candidates was evident soon after the polls closed. Straight Citizens party and Democratic ballots were read off, one after the other, and it was soon seen that districts which in former years had given a Republican majority of two to one had reversed themselves and turned in a majority for the anti-machine ticket. The first of the tickets into straight and split ballots showed how the election had gone. When the ballots were opened they were spread out in piles, the straight Republican ballots in one pile, the straight Citizens party and Democratic tickets in another pile, and the split tickets in a third. The majority for Larkin and the councilmen running on his ticket was in nearly every case so great that the counting of the split tickets could not affect the result. That's why the result was known early before the individual votes were canvassed.

Sensation in Magee's Defeat.

The defeat of W. A. Magee created a sensation, for even some prominent Citizens partymen had privately said the glamour of the Magee name would blind the voters to the issue and in favor of the brother of Chris Magee.

It was a most enthusiastic gathering in the Citizens headquarters on Boquet street. The room was packed and cheers and shouts that arose at every mention of good news could be heard in the police station. The Citizens were claiming the ward by 1,500 majority.

The word came over the telephone wires that the Seventeenth ward had been carried by the Citizens, and the din that arose was exceeded only by the roof-raising shout that greeted Daniel Crawford and John Lauler, two of the Citizens successful candidates for council, who had just come in. Lauler was seized and hoisted bodily to the top of a table, and demand was made for a speech.

Voters Get All the Credit.

"I thank every man who has assisted us in this fight," said Mr. Lauler. "The citizens of Pittsburgh have taken possession of their own, and in this ward especially we must show those who voted for better things that the change will be a benefit. From this day on the Citizens party is an organization; a permanent organization; and next year we will elect our candidate for recorder. We'll skin 'em alive."

Mr. Crawford was hoisted to the table, too. "We have won a great victory," said he, "and the credit for it does not belong to the candidates but to the people—to the people who worked and voted for better municipal government and who have at last achieved their aim."

In the Twenty-third ward the landslide was evident early in the evening. When the First precinct, "Flinntown," counted out a majority for Larkin the faces of the ring leaders showed that the blow had fallen, and it was only a question of how long they could keep up the appearance of winners.

Landslide in Twenty-Third.

At the Citizens headquarters in Second avenue the report was almost too good to be believed. "If we have carried that district we can sweep everything else in this ward," was the confident assertion of the leaders. Over at the ring headquarters in Hazelwood avenue there was a general expression of dismay when it was learned that they did not even "break even."

When the Fourth and Fifth precincts came in, with majorities of about two to one for Larkin and O'Brien, the crowd at ring headquarters began to leave for home, satisfied that defeat was certain. The few remaining lost hope when the reports from the Second precinct showed majority of 61 for O'Brien. This ward is the home of John Battles, superintendent of the bureau of highways and sewers, and as one voter jocularly remarked after hearing the returns, "It looks as if Battles had fought his last battle there."

Thorn Conceded Defeat.

About 9 o'clock Thomas H. Thorn, ring candidate for select council, conceded his defeat. "It looks like a landslide," he said. "As soon as I heard from the Second precinct I knew we were all in. I have lost the fight. The election today has been a clean one and a fair one and in the campaign, which has been the hardest one I ever engaged in, there has been no mud slinging. It was a fair fight and a clean victory for the other side."

Across the street Dr. W. D. O'Brien, Citizens candidate for select council, was besieged by a host of callers, who rushed in to congratulate him. His many friends in Pittsburgh kept him busy at the 'phone with their good wishes. "I am very well satisfied with the result," the doctor said, "more because it is a victory for a good cause than from any personal motives. The ring has met its Waterloo. We have polled the largest vote in the history of the ward and have made remarkable gains in the enemy's stronghold.

Dividing the Laurels.

"There has never been so thorough a campaign waged as the one just finished, and I wish to say that the credit is very largely due to W. S. Haynes, who organized our forces and managed the fight. The victory gives us a little more pleasure because the ring thought they had men to fight whom they could order about as they pleased, and we were accused at the start of being "a lot of greenhorns, who did not know how to conduct a campaign." The election itself has been very quiet, and there has been no serious trouble of any kind."

Shortly after 9 o'clock Dr. O'Brien was led over to Citizens headquarters where about 200 voters were gathered to hear the returns from the city. Cheer upon cheer greeted his arrival, and as the big majorities rolled in from the East End wards the crowd yelled itself hoarse.

Was a Great Victory.

At 10 o'clock it was announced at Citizens headquarters that the vote cast would be 3,000 and the majority over the ring would be at least 800. The election of W. H. Barker and Fred Beehner, Citizens candidates for common council, was conceded by a large majority, and the returns indicated that the vote had been very heavy for the minor officials.

During the day only one fight was reported, between a fireman and a mill worker, who were disputing the merits of the ring. Four repeaters were spotted and five negroes were said to have voted illegally. It was said last night that the cases of the four city employes who were put in as overseers on the Republican ticket would be thoroughly investigated.

THOUSANDS OF FAIR WOMEN HERALD PRAISES FOR PERUNA.

Catarrhal Dyspepsia and Nervous Prostration Make Invalids of More Women Than All Other Diseases Combined.

Peruna is the woman's friend everywhere. It is safe to say that no woman ever used Peruna for any catarrhal derangement but what it became indispensable in her household.

Letters From Women.

Every day we receive letters from women like the following. Women who have tried doctors and failed; women who have tried Peruna and were cured.

Miss Katie Klein, 6125 Bartmer avenue, St. Louis, Mo., writes:

"Peruna has done me more good for catarrh than the best doctors could. I had catarrh so bad, but after taking Peruna it is entirely gone, and I feel like a different person."

Miss Anna Prescott's Letter.

Miss Anna Prescott, in a letter from 216 South Seventh street, Minneapolis, Minn., writes:

"I am sincerely grateful for the relief I have found from the use of Peruna. I was completely used up last fall, my appetite had failed and I felt weak and tired all the time. My druggist advised me to try Peruna and the relief I experienced after taking one bottle was truly wonderful.

"I continued its use for five weeks, and am glad to say that my complete restoration to health was a happy surprise to myself as well as to my friends."—Anna Prescott.

A constant drain of nervous vitality, depleting the whole nervous system causes the mucous membrane surfaces to suffer accordingly. This is the condition called systemic catarrh. It very nearly resembles, and there is really no practical difference, between this condition and the condition known as neurasthenia, or nervous prostration.

Peruna will be found to effect an immediate and lasting cure in all cases of systemic catarrh. It acts quickly and beneficially on the diseased mucous membranes, and with healthy mucous membranes the catarrh can no longer exist.

Peruna a True Friend to Women.

Mrs. W. B. Krause, wife of the publisher of the Port Washington Herald, writes from Port Washington, Wis.:

"Peruna has cured my catarrh and the suffering which I had in my back and bearing-down pains. I am very thankful for Peruna, as it has cured me where other medicines have failed. I always will speak a good word for Peruna."—Mrs. W. B. Krause.

Peruna is equally efficacious in curing catarrh of the throat as in curing systemic catarrh or catarrh of the stomach. Catarrh is essentially the same wherever located. Peruna cures catarrh.

Peruna Makes You Feel Like a New Person.

Miss Marie Coats, a popular young woman of Appleton, Wis., and president of the Appleton Young Ladies' Club, also speaks in glowing terms of Peruna. A letter recently received from her by The Peruna Medicine Company of Columbus, Ohio, reads as follows:

"I am glad to call the attention of my friends to Peruna. When that languid, tired feeling comes over you, and your food no longer tastes good, and small annoyances irritate you, Peruna will make you feel like another person inside of a week.

"I have now used it for three seasons and find it very valuable and efficacious."—Miss Marie Coats.

Diseased nerves are traceable directly to poor digestion, and poor digestion is directly traceable to catarrh. With the slightest catarrh of the stomach no one can have good digestion.

Very few of the many women who have catarrh of the stomach suspect what their real trouble is. They know they belch after meals, have sour stomach, a sensation of weight or heaviness, a fullness, irregular appetite, drowsiness, gnawing, empty sensations, occasional pain—they all know this; but they do not know that their trouble is catarrh of the stomach. If they did they would take Peruna.

Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. As soon as Peruna removes catarrh from the stomach the digestion becomes good, appetite regular, nerves strong and trouble vanishes. Peruna strengthens weak nerves, not by temporarily stimulating them, but by removing the cause of weak nerves—poor digestion. This is the only cure that lasts. Remove the cause, Nature will do the rest. Peruna removes the cause.

JOYOUS CROWDS GREETED DEFEAT OF THE MACHINE

News of the Knockout to Flinnism Elicited Wild Enthusiasm.

RING ADHERENTS FEW

When They Saw the Drift of the Popular Will They Went Sadly Home. Message "Stone Is Speechless" Caused Great Applause.

It was a vigorous anti-Flinn crowd. It thronged the streets till midnight and after. Hardly a hand to applaud or a voice to cry approval was evident when a bit was ring news was bulletined. The crowd was for the overthrow of the ring in councils and the election of John B. Larkin. Citizens on the streets were unwilling to leave the bulletin headquarters for home till they were carried that ring rule in councils had been overthrown.

The singular thing about the masses assembling to catch the drift of returns, standing for hours in a biting wind and snow, was that almost to a man they were satisfied with the victory as its growth for the Citizens cause developed.

There were the few who showed disgruntlement. One member of a group watching bulletins in Smithfield street said: "Pshaw, these people are knockers, let's go down to the Press."

Ring Men Disgruntled.

At the bulletin board of the evening organ of the ring there was scarcely any consolation. The returns were posted slowly and to them there was scarcely a trace of satisfaction for the small group watching them. This group dwindled and dwindled, and at no hour was there a large crowd.

In another crowd there was the isolated, disgruntled adherent to ring promises. "It looks like a clean sweep," said one, "but what can you expect; the newspapers have been with them."

Stretched across Fifth avenue in front of the business offices of The Gazette and The Chronicle Telegraph, for long hours was a solid mass of people. Passage of a wagon or carriage caused a tremendous crush. It was easy to see with which party the sentiments of the crowd stood.

Gloom at the "Palace."

Ring adherents lingered about the safety palace. There was little consolation for them there. Returns were announced there with ominous slowness, just as they were by the only organ of the ring issuing bulletins.

Gray-haired, gray-bearded men, who for years have felt the heel of the ring, stood out in the cold tonight and watched the growing evidence of the overthrow of Flinnism. One old citizen remarked: "In 40 years I have not watched with more interest one of our national conflicts. I am proud of the showing that has been made by the opponents of the ring and I will stand here in the peril of endangering my health till I am absolutely satisfied that Flinnism has been downed."

Newies Gathered Applause.

Deafening applause greeted nearly every bulletin announcing a stride forward for the Citizens cause.

Newsboys caught the spirit of the turn of affairs early in the night. A column of the urchins took the crowd in Fifth avenue by storm early in the evening. They marched down the thoroughfare with nothing but the stress of their young voices to make way for them, but they gained a passageway readily. A farseeing leader of the boys had given them their cue. It was like a noisy college class at a football game.

"Lar-kin! Lar-kin!" who the 'ell are you for: Lar-kin, Lar-kin."

Eagerness for News.

The boys had the crowd with them. Their ovation would have brought pride to the heart of the President or a prince. The boys were the kings of the hour, regardless of their bad language.

Rush of an army of newsies, with their extra editions of the evening papers, attracted the crowds for a time. The papers sold on the first rush. A cross Fifth avenue from one or a two-cent paper, but the boys had few arguments to beat down. The crowd bought up the stocks of the young merchants, but they were not quite satisfied, and the bulletin boards held them till after midnight.

Another exhausted, pulled one strapping newsboy, "the only ring-rule after our conceded Larkin's election." The truth that the boy had uttered was the straw that broke the back of the ring adherents. All they bought the paper and departed.

Early in the night a bulletin went up, "Ostermeier estimates a majority of 5,500 for Lewis." The crowd groaned and jeered; it did not applaud.

The claim of the Citizens that they would round out a majority of 15,000 for Larkin and upset ring rule in councils was wildly applauded.

A voter of the first district of the Fourteenth ward stood by till he saw that Larkin had polled a big majority over Lewis, then he declared: "That's enough; I have voted in that district for years, and it never went that way before in my experience."

Then a bulletin went up that warmed the half-frozen crowd. It was a Harrisburg message:

"Harrisburg, 10 p. m.—Gov. Stone is speechless. P. S.—This is no joke."

"Knock-Outs" Applauded.

Once again the crowd vented itself with hilarious vigor when a bulletin went up: "Flinn has lost his own precinct." Still again there was a terrific outburst when this list of "knock-outs" was posted: "Tom Thorn, Doc Magee and John Upperman."

Col. James M. Guffey, Joseph Howley and a few associates were satisfied early. At 10:30 they pushed through the crowds in Fifth avenue, to go home.

The crowd lingered much longer. It was an anti-Flinn crowd and eager for full satisfaction.

Three nattily dressed women stood at Fifth avenue and Smithfield street at 11 o'clock last night. They were disappointed and chagrin was written over the face of one of their number, who was reading the 10:30 extra of the evening organ of the ring.

"Can it be possible that nearly everything is lost to the old organization?" asked one.

"Their own paper admits it," said the holder of the publication.

Labor Claims Part Credit.

A group of labor leaders going on the street after a meeting in their own interest anxiously heard a summary of the developments of the night's counting of votes. "There is no discounting the importance of the action of the United Labor league," said one prominent leader. "The action there has been reflected in many a ward in the city, and we are proud of it. At the 11th hour the ring tried to throw a son to us by the appointment of a representative of organized labor as assistant building inspector. If this turned the tide to any extent it was nothing to speak of.

"The ring people had their opportunity early. Mad. A. M. Brown was ready to recognize experience and organized labor at the same time and Flinn gave us assurances, but the way Joe Brown backed away from them turned the great tide of the vote of the organized workingmen. Every friend of labor who has voted this way should be as proud tomorrow as John B. Larkin."

CITY HALL WAS CLOSED.

Every Employe, From Recorder Down, Was Hustling for Votes to Save Flinn.

Municipal business was totally neglected yesterday. The city hall was closed, locked and barred all day. Every man in the building from the recorder and department heads down to the janitor was out hustling for votes for the machine. People who had business to transact at the municipal hall were unable to get an entrance.

Recorder J. O. Brown set an example to his subordinates by shutting up shop and giving politics his entire attention for the day. The recorder went to the public safety building early in the day and from there conducted operations through the police and fire bureaus.

The recorder temporarily resigned the functions of the chairman of the city committee, and that role was assumed by Senator Flinn, who gave personal instructions to his ward leaders from the Sixth avenue headquarters.

The recorder spent the entire day at the safety palace, adding his time between the first and fifth floors. Inspectors, captains, lieutenants and patrolmen were frequent visitors at the safety building and reported in person to the recorder. At intervals during the day they gave an account of the progress of the election in their districts and received additional orders.

FELL FOURTEEN STORIES.

Structural Iron Workers Precipitated to Bottom of Shaft by Accident to Elevator.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 18.—Harry J. Wilson and Fred Duell, structural iron workers on the Scofield building at the corner of Erie street and Euclid avenue, were killed by falling 14 stories to the ground late this afternoon.

The men were descending in an elevator. A large timber, projecting from the elevator caught in a passing floor and tore the floor of the elevator out, allowing the men to drop the awful distance. Both were dead when picked up.

Miss Burns Not Arraigned.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Florence Burns, the young woman who is accused of the murder of Walter Brooks, at a hotel in this city, last Friday, was not arraigned today, the hearing having been postponed until tomorrow at the request of the district attorney.

VOTE AS POLLED IN LAST CONTEST AGAINST RING

Municipal League and Democrats Carried on Fight, but Were Poorly Organized—Ballots Cast for President in November, 1900, Given.

The only campaign against the Flinn ring which at all approached the one just closed in interest or closeness was that of 1896. In that year, however, the Democrats and Municipal Leaguers had a very inferior organization and a campaign fund that a few weeks before the election amounted to only $110. Even with this handicap and the still greater one that it was a presidential year and voters were appealed to on the ground of party regularity, the Municipal league lost by only a few over 1,000 votes in a total of nearly 40,000. At this time Senator Flinn gave out an estimate on the morning of election day, in which he figured the vote as 35,000, or 5,000 less than it proved to be. G. W. Guthrie headed the Municipal league ticket against H. P. Ford, the ring candidate, and lost by 1,318 votes. John B. Larkin was the League candidate for controller against H. I. Gourley, and ran only 1,016 votes behind his opponent.

Results in 1896.

The results were as follows:

MAYOR.

Ford	20,552
Guthrie	19,234
Ford's majority	1,318

CONTROLLER.

Gourley	20,019
Larkin	18,958
Gourley's majority	1,016

TREASURER.

Torrence	20,915
Felker	18,328

The Vote by Wards.

A list of the vote for mayor in the wards follows. It will be seen that the Municipal league carried 13 wards and lost some 10 others by about 50 votes each:

Harry E. Armstrong was the secretary of the league and had most of the work to look after. The executive committee was composed of D. D. Bruce, Otto Heeren, Oliver McClintock, George K. Stevenson and W. F. Pollock.

Last Presidential Vote.

In the November election, 1900, the total vote in the 38 wards in Pittsburgh was 42,989. Of these McKinley received 20,-653 Bryan 12,184. There were 1,158 votes cast for other candidates. The vote by wards follows:

WARD.	Republican.	Democratic.	WARD.	Republican.	Democratic.

One interesting point to use in comparison is that the Democrats carried 8 wards against 13 in 1896.

Properly Selected Food of Great Importance.

Loss of memory is a sure sign that the body is not taking up proper elements from the food. Then is the time to feed especially selected foods or the person may become demented.

A mother writes about her son and it is interesting. "My son, Albert, now 25 years old and principal of the ——— high school, graduated at the Kansas university, and is a post-graduate of the Columbia, Mo., university.

"When he began teaching about a year ago he had just completed his education and was badly broken down in health. He had only about two months' vacation and spent it at Excelsior Springs, but when he returned, there was no improvement.

"We thought he would get better after he began his work, but instead of improving he became more weak and nervous, and finally, forgetful in the schoolroom. He tried different physicians and everything he could hear of and at last gave up school and came home, after putting a teacher in his place.

"I cooked every delicacy I could think of for him but he became very thin and we were greatly worried about him. One day a neighbor sent over a box of Grape-Nuts. He caught sight of the package and after reading the statement of what the food was intended for, became much interested and began using it.

"He liked it, and at the end of a week was very much strengthened and improved. We were encouraged. He stuck to Grape-Nuts and in five weeks was back in the school room.

"He is now teaching the second term in the same place, has recovered entirely and gained wonderfully in flesh. He now weighs 165 pounds and is an expert football player.

"My daughter, Georgia, 8 years old, was a weak little girl until after we found what effect Grape-Nuts had on Albert, we put her on the food and now she is exceptionally stout and healthy. We want to thank the company for the great help the food has been to us." This lady lives at Hallsville, Mo. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Bottled Health and Vigor

JOHANN HOFF'S EXTRACT is the medicinally valuable part of malt made easy and pleasant to take.

JOHANN HOFF'S is for persons with an impaired digestion or a weak and run-down nervous system. It is a nerve tonic, a stomach stimulator, a strength builder, a flesh and blood maker. One dozen bottles contain more nutritious elements and strengthening properties than a whole cask of ale or beer without being intoxicating.

Prof. Prosper de Pietra Santa, of Paris, says:

"As a large number of patients lack the necessary power to digest solid food, and would through the use of stimulants be merely excited and weakened, therefore I regard it of immense value to the practitioner to bring to his aid a nutritious tonic and remedy like the JOHANN HOFF'S EXTRACT, which will act not only as a tonic, but as a nutrient as well, and which is less exciting than wine as a stimulant."

Dr. James E. Gray, of Rochester, N. Y., writes:

"I have used in my practice many hundreds of bottles of JOHANN HOFF'S EXTRACT, and continue to prescribe it, and find, as a tonic and appetizer, there is nothing its equal."

Dr. Louis Lewis, of 1743 Arch St., Philadelphia, writes:

"More than 20 years ago, when I was practicing medicine in London, I used to prescribe JOHANN HOFF'S EXTRACT with much success in cases of wasting of tissue from tuberculosis, disease, mal-nutrition, etc. I have always had good results from its use and have constantly employed it up to now."

Insist upon Johann Hoff's Extract and take none of the cheap substitutes offered as "just as good." They have nothing but their cheapness to recommend them.

FOURTEEN PAGES.

A Victory of the People.

It is a victory of the people over Gov. Stone. The governor may have reasons for complacency which election returns cannot affect, but nevertheless the news of the Pittsburgh election will give him something to think about. It has been a Waterloo for all his lieutenants. His partners in the alliance for "mutual political and business advantage," and all associated with them to give effect to the deal, have felt the popular indignation. From the day of the governor's final perversion of the reform charter the popular wrath has been growing, and from the date of its crystallization into the ticket of the Citizens party the result has been hardly in doubt. The voters of Pittsburgh had determined to take their business out of the hands of men who had arranged to use it as a private asset, and they have done it. The strongholds of the governor's friends have been carried by storm. Flinn is routed in the Nineteenth ward, losing even his own election precinct. His brother Philip led the Stone forces to defeat in the Twenty-first ward, and his trusted lieutenant, Arch Mackrell, did the same thing in the Eleventh ward. In the Twenty-third ward Thomas Thorne, the friend of Stone, is given an enthusiastic permission to devote himself to his private business. The old Magee stronghold, the Fourteenth ward, gave an emphatic verdict for the people against the contract politicians. The downtown wards and South Side join in a chorus of disapproval of the deal against the people. In fact, the whole city rose with complete success to assert its freedom. Long before midnight Gov. Stone's recorder and his personal representative had admitted their complete defeat and turned out the lights.

The result in general and in detail will be to impress the lesson that, while people will tolerate much before revolting, it is not wise to presume too far upon their party fealty, especially in elections where party principles are not at stake. Men who have been known as party leaders have suffered defeat because they endeavored in the name of the party to subordinate party principles and party organization to their personal gain. They are repudiated as Republicans for revenue, not for principle, and the Republican party will be the stronger for the purifying process to which it has been subjected.

The American Invasion.

The treasury department's statistics of exports for the calendar year 1901 show a falling off of $46,262,912 in the value of American manufactures sold abroad and a gain of $35,591,077 in the exports of agricultural products. Frederick Emory, chief of the bureau of foreign commerce of the state department, who makes public the figures, says it is evident that the American invasion of Europe has ceased for the time being to be of that sweeping character that first distinguished it. But really there has been very little cessation of the invasion. The net reduction from the high-water mark of the previous year is only about twelve and a half millions. That is not much ebb after a long flow, and ebbs are by no means unnatural.

Even so much reduction as is here noted is not all to be attributed to a smaller European demand. Goods sold to Hawaii and Porto Rico are no longer counted as exports. This elimination makes some difference. The falling off is in manufactures, and it is worth bearing in mind, too, that the home demand for certain sorts of manufactured products has been so close to the supply that the quantity available for export has been considerably reduced. On the whole, therefore, the figures showing a reduction in American exports do not indicate less popularity of American goods abroad, nor do they indicate that the American invasion has begun to recede.

One of America's Friends.

The Rev. Newman Hall, D. D., who died in London yesterday, was one of the earnest friends of the United States at a period when Englishmen were not so unanimously friendly with this country as they are now. In the present discussion regarding Uncle Sam's best friend at the time of the Spanish war, little is said about the friends of the union at a time when our fiercest foes were to be found in our own household. Dr. Hall not only advocated in England the cause of the north, because it was the cause of human freedom, but later he did his best to promote international good will by several visits to the United States to allay the natural feeling of animosity toward England which grew out of the many irritating incidents of those troublesome times. He lived to see a practical unanimity of good fellowship between a reunited America and his own Great Britain.

The South Pole.

The race to the North pole has not yet been won. But every expedition that has started for that goal brings its ultimate realization nearer. In the endeavor to reach the utmost limit of the earth in a northerly direction, if not fulfilled by the hundreds of brave and untiring spirits who have dared its unknown dangers with a fortitude worthy of a cause which is at once great and peculiarly attractive, the scientific results worked out in seeking are of the greatest possible interest to mankind. Until the last few years exploration of the South Polar regions has been almost entirely neglected. The dangers attending its investigation are incomparably greater than those which had to be faced in working beyond the Arctic circle. These in some measure could be anticipated. The equipment necessary for such a journey could be approximately provided. The South pole is not only a land of mystery, but of overwhelming danger.

The only general and undeniable fact known in connection with the Antarctic is that there lies a vast continent, with an absolutely impenetrable barrier of ice. On the fringes of this lies a territorial area upon which it is possible to land, make observations and pick up such scraps of geological and botanical information as the place affords. Explorer C. E. Borchgrevink has just returned from a year's sojourn in the "Farthest South." The result is apparently insignificant so far as discovery goes, although the purely scientific results may be more promising when they are given to the world. Little more is known of this waste than was made known by Sir James Ross 60 years ago. There is no mammalian life and its flora, so far as Mr. Borchgrevink could discover, consisted only of a single species of lichen.

Prof. Pearson's Case.

It was no surprise to learn that Prof. Pearson has a book in press, and that his publishers are hastening to put it on the market while the public has the name of its writer in mind. It is rather surprising to learn, however, that the author has been at work on his book for nine years, and could have published it a few months ago, but delayed the issue out of consideration for the authorities of the Northwestern university, whom he did not wish to embarrass by adding to the controversy.

It is a singular thing that a man holding theological views widely variant from the doctrines of a denomination which he is serving as a professor, should find it compatible with a high sense of honor to retain his chair in an institution devoted to teaching the doctrines of that church. While Prof. Pearson was acting as instructor in a Methodist Episcopal university he was writing a book attacking doctrines held sacred by that and other Christian denominations, and only found it convenient to avow his disbelief, and stir up a controversy, when his book was ready for publication.

There should have been no controversy at all. As soon as Prof. Pearson found that he was out of accord with the church that paid his salary he should have resigned. Ecclesiastical colleges are on a very different footing from secular institutions. They are supported by people who hold to certain distinguishing theological beliefs, and they have a right to demand that only professors of like belief shall occupy chairs in their colleges.

Conventions of Women.

For conventions composed exclusively of members of their own sex the women of the United States are far in the lead of those of other nations. In municipal, state and national gatherings American women enjoy advantages over all others of the world's sisterhood for the expression of their ideas and the formulation of plans for their advancement. The Woman's Suffrage association has been holding its annual convention in Washington, the National Council of Women will convene in the same city today, and the Daughters of the American Revolution are also holding a convention at the national capital. These are but a few of the many associations of women that attract public attention by their conventions, and the number is steadily increasing.

Although the benefits accruing to women from such gatherings are not always apparent, it would be foolish, as well as unjust, to say that they are lacking in results. As a rule the delegates to these conventions evince an earnestness of purpose that wins respect, if not unqualified approbation, and their interchange of opinions and discussions of plans are gradually bringing them nearer to the goal for which they are striving. Nearly all of these associations of women are working in the interests of higher standards of morality, even the female suffragists making that one of their fundamental principles, and to that extent, at least, they are entitled to and deserve the support of the public. The women of this country are making great strides in their efforts at advancement, and the credit for this is due mainly to concerted action in their conventions.

Let Them Come.

It is announced that Messrs. Wessels and Wolmarans, the Boer delegates, whose former visits to the United States will be remembered, have again sailed for this country. Even the information vouchsafed in this connection that the Boer delegates expect to make liberal use of the controversy now raging as to which nation displayed the greater love for Uncle Sam at the time of the Spanish war does not give the news of their coming any special value. Boer missions to the United States will not disturb the even surface of our daily life. The Anglo-Boer quarrel is one in which we have wisely taken no hand, and as there has been no move on the part of either side in the difficulty looking to peace terms it is not our business to encourage or foster prejudice or favor one way or the other. If Messrs. Wessels and Wolmarans find it pleasant and agreeable to visit us we wish them joy and godspeed, but if they hope to stir up our choler by discussing the Spanish war incident they may as well spare their breath.

Times innumerable efforts have been made to solve the servant girl problem, and just as often the would-be solvers have confessed that it was too much for them. The servant girl has been coaxed and threatened, petted and scolded, reasoned with and denounced, but she has gone on serenely in her own peculiar ways, and generally doing as she pleased. Undismayed by the many failures in the past the mistresses of homes in a fashionable suburb of Chicago are trying a new way to solve the old problem. The sacred place known as the parlor is to be thrown open to the servant girls for their entertainment and they are to be taught how to deport themselves in good society, how to do fancy needlework, and urged to read good literature and keep proper company. This is, indeed, an elaborate program and entirely Chicagoesque in its scope, for Chicago and its fashionable suburbs have become as famous as the Bowery as places where they do such queer things. The experiment will be watched with interest, however, and if it does not result in making the maid outshine the mistress as a social star there may be emulation elsewhere.

Those scientific men who are arguing that persons possess the right to commit suicide should recommend some more soothing agent than carbolic acid.

Congressman Wheeler's eruption will not cause Prince Henry to cut the Fourth congressional district of Kentucky out of his itinerary. It never was in.

No one is surprised to learn that Prof. Pearson's resignation will be accepted. Even the erratic professor himself ought to be resigned to it.

The Danish islanders may as well order their fire crackers for the coming Fourth of July.

Santos-Dumont has a drowning or something coming to him one of these days.

Prophets may predict, but it is the voters who decide.

Our Friend During Spanish War.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

It is a little bit amusing to observe the manner in which the different nations of the earth are tumbling over each other to show that they never had the slightest idea of interfering with us during the war with Spain.

Some years ago, when we were without a navy, when we were counted as a mere incident in the affairs of the world, no one would have taken the trouble to bother with us. Since we have demonstrated our powers, since we have shown that we are not to be trifled with for a single moment, there is not a country that does not desire our friendship.

Carrying Out Wishes of McKinley

From the Philadelphia Times.

President Roosevelt is still exhibiting a fine sense of appreciation of the proprieties of his place in carrying out the wishes of Mr. McKinley in the matter of appointments in so far as these were expressed before the martyr president's death. It is now stated that Whitelaw Reid was President McKinley's choice, and if this be the case his designation as our special representative at the coronation ceremonies will be the more acceptable in England no less than in this country.

DIGGING A CITY OUT OF ITS SHROUD OF SNOW

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Feb. 18.

With 12,000 men shoveling and carting, New York has shook herself loose from the snow mountain that held her down yesterday. The streets are not clear of snow by any means. It is still a troublesome thing for even pedestrians to make their way about, while for horses with heavy loads, particularly downtown, it is a task that causes many a one to break down. But the street-cleaning powers have worked hard and intelligently, and a great deal of the snow has gone into the river. Twelve thousand men can move a vast quantity of snow in 24 hours, and the laborers have been doing their work with a will. They are not afraid that the job will give out in a hurry. Such a blizzard as New York had yesterday leaves its marks for weeks, try we ever so hard to obliterate them. So the men that are willing to earn their $2 a day by good honest toil that brings out the signs of it on the brow in the first ten minutes will have steady employment to the end of February, and perhaps a week or two into March. It is estimated that 100,000 cartloads of snow have been moved already, and there will be another 100,000 moved away before the city will begin to look anything like itself. Broadway is pretty well cleared, and many of the side streets have been made passable—something that could not be said of the time last night. The cross-town cars are running in a kind of way, and the horse cars on the side streets are hauled by two horses instead of four, as was the case yesterday. There were almost, if not quite, the usual number of trucks in the streets today, and business may be said to have returned to its normal conditions. The big policemen who guard dangerous crossings have had their hands full. The banks of snow at the roadside and the slippery pavements where snow has been packed down and frozen over made bad walking, and it is to the credit of the police that so few accidents have been reported. Fair weather is predicted now, and if it does not freeze hard there are hopes that the city will get through its blizzard without much suffering after all.

A Perilous Passage.

New York is a city of dangerous crossings, but the busiest corner in the city is admitted to be Forty-second street and Broadway. The policemen in charge there had a time today that they say is the worst on record. It was a halting, slow-moving, continuous-tangle of trucks, wagons, sleighs, carriages, and snow carts, with pedestrians darting here and there through the tangle, making for brief open spaces or the shelter of a policeman's side. This is the only street intersection in the city at which four policemen are detailed, and a squad of them would have had work to do there today.

The Growth of New York.

When Charles Lewis Tiffany died today he cut off a tie that bound the present New York tightly to that of the early part of the nineteenth century. It is hard to realize that this old man, head of the most famous jewelry store in the world could have conducted a mercantile business at the corner of Warren street and Broadway, opposite City Hall, at a time when Chambers street was called "uptown." But then, Mr. Tiffany was more than 90 years old when he died, and had been in business in this city for more than 60 years. Until he was taken ill a few days ago, as the result of a fall, he had never been away from his business a week at a time. A benevolent, white-haired, kindly-voiced man was C. T. Tiffany, and many persons who are regular visitors at the Tiffany establishment have pleasant memories of the courtly old gentleman who took such an active interest in the affairs of the world to the very last.

Still Investigating Tunnel Disaster.

Several weeks have passed since the collision in the New York Central tunnel, and it has been almost forgotten, save by those personally concerned. But it was announced today that the grand jury will next week proceed to an investigation. In the meantime, Chauncey M. Depew, J. P. Morgan, the corporation counsel; Rives, and Mayor Low held a conference today, and it was decided that trains shall be run by electricity through the tunnel as soon as the change can be effected.

Big City's Short Memory.

New York soon forgets its most prominent men. When it was announced today that W. M. Tweed, son of the former "boss" of New York, had just dropped dead at his home in Stamford, Conn., there were people who asked, seriously, "Who was 'Boss' Tweed, anyhow?"

Parkhurst Is Busy Again.

Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst cannot keep his fingers out of municipal affairs, although he has said more than once that he would. But side-doors of Raines law hotels on Sundays are as a red rag to a bull when they come under the notice of the doctor, and he will have them suppressed if it can be done. So there was a long conference between Dr. Parkhurst and District Attorney Jerome today, and it is said by persons who insist they know that the reverend gentleman will be busy assisting the district attorney to have the excise laws properly observed hereafter. It requires only cursory observation to satisfy anyone that there is lots of room for improvement in this direction.

Dog Show Ready to Open.

Dogs are yelping in Madison Square garden tonight. The Westminster Kennel club show will open at the garden tomorrow morning, and the entries will all be in place before midnight, with a few exceptions. It does not take long to prepare a place for a dog show. The kennels are soon put in position. A few wagon loads of sawdust do the rest, and there you are. Unless one is unusually fond of dogs, and has, moreover, a catholic taste in canine excellence, a dog show is a drear, dispiriting affair. But even a dog show is a welcome relief from the miserable exhibition of last week. If there is anything more sad than a six-day go-as-you-please walking match I do not know what it is.

Two Brothers and a Book.

"Du Barry," the play, fixed up by Belasco, is one of the big theatrical successes of New York, with Mrs. Leslie Carter in the title role. "Madame Du Barry," the novel, in English, is in the hands of Comstock & Gogilvie, publisher of this city, intended to sell copies of the book at a reasonable price, making a proper profit for himself as publisher. His brother, G. W. Ogilvie, who has strait-laced notions of propriety and morality, told Anthony Comstock that the novel was not fit for publication, and that active agent of the Society for the Suppression of Vice took possession of all the copies of the book, together with the plates, and indorsed the opinion of G. W. The publisher, J. S. Ogilvie, is a very wealthy man, and the seizure will not ruin him, but it is interesting as showing that New York will swallow on the stage what it sniffs at in a book.

Signs Must Be Useful.

President Cantor of the borough of Manhattan, is in earnest in his intention to remove curbstone signs. He said today, however, in answer to a question, that he would not interfere with clocks that really tell the time, no matter how much room they occupy. He says that working clocks are a public convenience. The imitation timepieces that have the hands painted on the dial and that take up as much space as a bona fide clock will have to go. If Mr. Cantor carries out his promises he will relieve New York of a great many unsightly objects, for some of the street signs are downright nightmares.

Blizzard Hard on Peddlers.

One of the effects of the blizzard has been to drive all the curbstone peddlers from the streets. There has not been one of these usually irrepressible merchants in their usual haunts since Saturday. There is no use in standing on windy corners offering mechanical toys, violets and knicknacks for sale when all the shoppers are at home. When snow is nearly all gone we may look for the festive fakir. For the present he is staying at home like a sensible fellow.

Dead Minstrel Lies in State.

Hundreds of persons have looked upon the face of "Billy" West, the minstrel, in an Elks' lodge room in Brooklyn today. His remains were brought from Chicago yesterday and they will remain at the headquarters of Brooklyn lodge No. 22, B. P. O. E., in Schermerhorn street, until tomorrow, when the interment will take place at Greenwood cemetery. The services will be conducted by Masonic as well as Elks brethren.

An Unpopular Proposal.

One of the proposals to relieve the congestion of Fifth avenue in the afternoons is to keep empty cabs from plying up and down the thoroughfare. It is not likely that this suggestion will be carried out, for if there is any place in the city where cabs are in demand it is Fifth avenue, and the habitues of the avenue think the remedy would be worse than the disease. If cabs were to be barred out to reduce the crowding. That the trucks and business vehicles generally might with advantage be kept away, or at least regulated in their movements, is a general sentiment, however. At the same time people are wondering what has become of the proposition to widen the avenue that was talked about so loudly not long ago.

Trouble in Tammany Hall.

Strife is raging in Tammany hall. It was suspected that harmony had been completely lost before Richard Croker sailed for Europe, and it is said now that he gave hints before his departure that a certain number of district leaders should be voted out of office for the good of their constituencies. If this is done at all it will be accomplished at the primaries next September. That is a long way off, but pipes are being put down to that end already, according to Tammany men who pay more attention to wigwam matters than anything else on earth. The leaders who may get their walking papers are: Michael C. Murphy, First district; Edward T. Fitzgerald, Fourth district; Bernard F. Martin, Fifth district; John B. Sexton, Nineteenth district; James P. Keating, Twentieth district; Thomas F. McAvoy, Twenty-third district; Maurice F. Holahan, Twenty-fourth district; John P. Carroll, Twenty-ninth district; Harry Hart, Thirtieth district; August Moebus, Thirty-fourth district.

Sensation in the Patrick Trial.

The dramatic effect of the Patrick murder trial was introduced today when Jones, the valet of the deceased millionaire, William Rice, was put on the stand. He is the man who has already declared that he poisoned the old man with chloroform at the behest of Patrick, and everyone interested in the trial has been waiting eagerly for his appearance. He took the stand today, giving his testimony in a calm, unimpassioned way that was a surprise to those who had heard the wild stories about his dreadfully nervous condition. It has been said that he has been kept up to the mark with large doses of strychnine, and that the prosecution has used extraordinary means to prevent his breaking down. His looks and manner today belied these stories. He did not seem to be a drug-maddened creature, and showed no signs of abnormal nervousness. He looked like a highly respectable man servant and talked in the modulated, well-trained tones of a man who was accustomed to be about the person of a rich man of testy disposition. "Valet Jones," as the sensational papers call him, may be a degenerate, but he does not look it.

Enforcing a Health Ordinance.

The law demanding the arrest of persons who spit in public places, such as "L" platforms, cars, ferries and public buildings, which has lain dormant for some months, has woke up again. Commissioner Lederle of the health department insists that spitters shall be arrested, and the health board detectives are dragging miserable offenders into court and causing them to be fined $3 in the same old way. The ordinance would be a good one if it were enforced with discretion, but it isn't, and is a nuisance in consequence.

Trolley Car Passengers Must Freeze.

Brooklynites have been complaining all winter at intervals that their trolley cars are not heated. They complained to the board of health lately, being driven to desperation by the blizzard, but now are confronted with the dreadful information that the city has no power to compel Brooklyn street car companies to put heaters into their cars. Mr. Rives, the corporation counsel, issued an opinion to that effect today. He added to this opinion that if the board of aldermen would pass an ordinance compelling the placing of heaters in cars it could be enforced. Judging by the wailings of Brooklyn sufferers it is extremely probable that such an ordinance will be passed, and that there will be a warm, if not a hot time, in the old town, so far as the trolley cars are concerned, at least.

Attorney and Judge Tilt.

"Abe" Levy, who holds about the same position in New York as defender in criminal cases as the late Thomas M. Marshall used to in Pittsburgh, often gets into disputes with the court and the district attorney on account of his professional enthusiasm. He told the court today that he did not want to apologize for having spoken to the foreman of the jury that had convicted his client, a woman, of throwing acid on another woman with criminal intent. He said that the jury was not in the jurisdiction of the court at the time, and he had a right to speak to the foreman. The court thought otherwise, but as the district attorney was willing to let the matter drop nothing further was done about the matter and Levy retired with a triumphant smile, as he generally does from such little encounters.

PERSONALS.

The Rev. Dr. George W. F. Birch, pastor of the Bethany Presbyterian church of New York, and one of the most famous heresy fighters in the Presbyterian church of North America, with his wife spent last night at the Duquesne hotel. The Rev. Dr. Birch is returning to New York from Apollo, Pa., where he occupied the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church last Sunday. He also delivered the dedicatory sermon in the First Presbyterian church in McKeesport a week ago last Sunday. The latter part of January the Rev. Dr. Birch celebrated the 40th anniversary of his ordination to the ministry. The Rev. Dr. Birch has held four pastorates—the Third Presbyterian church of Springfield, Ill.; the Second Presbyterian church of Lexington, Ky.; the Third Presbyterian church of Indianapolis, Ind., and the pastorate of the Bethany Presbyterian church in New York, which he has occupied for the past 24 years. He was chairman of the prosecuting committee in the famous heresy case of the Presbyterian church against the Rev. Dr. Charles A. Briggs of New York, in 1893 and 1893, and in February, 1899, introduced charges which were the cause of the Rev. Dr. Arthur C. McGiffert's withdrawal from the ministry in the Presbyterian church. He is also a member of the judicial commission appointed by the general assembly.

"I do not favor the proposed creed revision in the Presbyterian church," said the Rev. Dr. Birch last night, "and eventually believe it will not be materially changed."

United States Senator Benjamin R. Tillman of South Carolina spent a few hours at Union station last night en route from Butler, Pa., where he has extensive oil interests, to the national capital. Senator Tillman appeared deeply interested in the result of the local election for controller and councilmen, and when informed that John B. Larkin had been elected controller he seemed pleased that the Flinn organization had been defeated. "I can not express an opinion on the Pittsburgh election," he said. "It is your own fight and must be settled among yourselves."

"What is new in your fight with Senator John L. McLaurin?" was asked of Senator Tillman.

"Oh, we have arrived at a truce long ago!" was the reply. "There is nothing special in Washington these days, only everybody seems busy preparing for the visit of Prince Henry next week. The war tariff will, in all probability, soon be repealed."

Alec M. Adams, a representative of a Belfast, Ireland, linen manufactory, is at the Hotel Anderson. "This will be the biggest season in linens this country has seen for many years," he said. "The stocks of all jobbers and merchants in the United States are very low at present, and the sales during the coming few months will be extraordinarily heavy. The prices are much higher this year, and all foreign yarns are firm. When the American tariff on these goods is lowered there will be a much greater importation of them to this country."

Director William J. Holland of the Carnegie museum went to New York over the Pennsylvania railroad last night on business in connection with arranging for the plans of the meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, which convenes in Pittsburgh next June and July.

A. C. Whitaker, a prominent iron manufacturer of Wheeling, W. Va., was registered at the Hotel Lincoln last night.

Neighbors Visiting Pittsburgh.

Fort Named McKinley.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 18.—Some time ago the war department adopted the policy of renaming the forts and batteries of the country after distinguished military men of the United States. A general order made public by the department today gives a list of the newly-named batteries. In the list is the name of the late President McKinley, whose name is now given to the fortifications on Great Diamond island, Portland, Me.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Charles L. Tiffany.

NEW YORK, Feb 18.—Charles L. Tiffany, senior member of the jewelry firm of Tiffany & Co., died today at his home in this city from pneumonia. He was 90 years old. Mr. Tiffany received many calls and congratulatory letters on his 90th birthday, which occurred last Saturday. Several weeks ago the chamber of commerce sent him a special letter of felicitation and requested a copy of his portrait to be placed in the chamber's gallery. An oil painting was forwarded and at once placed on exhibition. On Saturday a deputation of Mr. Tiffany's business associates and employes called at his residence and left there a greeting engrossed on parchment and signed by 1,102 associates and employes. While he was a cousin of gold leying cup. Mr. Tiffany was born at Killingly, Conn. He came to this city when but 25 years of age, and with J. L. Young established a brick brac store at Broadway and Chambers street. The business grew rapidly, particularly in the importation of jewelry and art works from Europe. In addition to importation the firm soon took up manufacturing in this country and laid the foundation for the great business now conducted under the firm name of Tiffany & Co.

Jacob Walters.

Jacob Walters, an aged resident of the Monongahela valley, died yesterday morning at the old homestead in Hallet screws, Braddock, after an illness of five years. On January 10 he participated in the fifty-sixth anniversary of his marriage, but since that time has rapidly declined. Mr. Walters was born in Alsace-Lorraine, when under French rule 84 years ago. He was married in his native land and came to this country 51 years ago, locating in Philadelphia. Two years later he located in Braddock field, where he has since lived and acquired the title of "Grandpa" Walters. He was an expert steel worker but retired many years ago. He was one of the founders of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church. His widow, aged 78 years, and seven children, Michael of Lorain, O.; Joseph of East McKeesport, George, Peter and Jacob Walters of Braddock, Mrs. John Goelach, Mrs. Hartman Bloser of Braddock, 71 grandchildren and 44 great grandchildren survive.

Daniel W. Harnett.

Daniel W. Harnett, aged 59 years, well-known in local Irish society circles, died yesterday morning at his home, No. 4760 Liberty avenue, of pneumonia. He was born in County Limerick, Ireland and came to this country in 1880. He conducted a hotel in Fifth avenue and later in Liberty avenue. He was a member of the local division of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, and was a member of St. Joseph's church. He is survived by his mother and several brothers.

Joseph Watterson.

Joseph Watterson, aged 76 years, died Monday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Sarah Tanney, No. 40 South Nineteenth street. He was born in Ireland and came to this country 45 years ago. He is survived by five children, Mrs. James Lorigan, Mrs. Joseph Tanney of Pittsburgh, and Jacob Watterson of South York, Pa. He was a member of St. John's Roman Catholic church.

Mrs. Nancy Montooth.

Mrs. Nancy Montooth, aged 82 years, widow of Jackson Montooth, died Monday night at her home in Baldwin township. She was born within a half mile of where she died, and her entire life was spent in the district. She was a member of the Concord Presbyterian church and is survived by four sons, Edward, of Sellneville; Harvey of Pittsburgh, Milton C., and James D. of Baldwin township.

Mrs. Olive P. Bowers.

Mrs. Olive P. Bowers, aged 44 years, wife of William D. Bowers, died at her home, No. 653 Jones avenue, North Braddock, late Monday night. She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Miss Edna F. Bowers, and two sisters, Mrs. D. S. Elliott and Mrs. John Kolb, both of North Braddock.

Isaac Patterson.

LISBON, O., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—Isaac Patterson, aged 70 years, a life-long resident of Columbiana county, died today after a second stroke of paralysis. He leaves three children, Frank and Eva Patterson of Lisbon, and Mrs. T. N. McInsic of Coulterville, Ill.

Benedict Boehm.

Benedict Boehm, aged 55 years, a well-known hotel proprietor, died Monday at his home, No. 5016 Penn avenue. He was a member of St. Philomena's church. His widow and one son, Benjamin Boehm, survive.

Obituary Notes.

Mrs. Mary Johnson, aged 70 years, wife of Andrew Johnson, is dead at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Pegelman, No. 229 Pearl street. She was a sister of the late James G. and Gamble Wehr.

Mrs. Frances Boyd, aged 65 years, died Monday afternoon at the home of her son-in-law, Walter Wilson, in Ellsworth, Allegheny. Mrs. Boyd was well-known in the G. A. R. circles and was past president of that society.

Harry Sylves, aged 24 years, a son of Peter G. Sylves of North Braddock borough, superintendent of the Braddock cemetery, died suddenly yesterday afternoon. He was born in North Braddock. He is survived by his father and two brothers, James and Robert, and two sisters.

THE NEW CARNEGIE YACHT.

Skibo Makes a Good Trial Trip and Has Been Accepted.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—The pleasure yacht Skibo, built at Elizabethport by Lewis Nixon for Mrs. Carnegie, a sister-in-law of Andrew Carnegie, left Nixon's yard this afternoon for Brooklyn. There she will be furbished, and in the course of a few days will start for Florida, where Mrs. Carnegie intends using the boat during the coming spring.

The Skibo had a highly satisfactory trial trip last week. She made 15½ knots an hour, and has been accepted by her owner. The vessel on her trip south will be in charge of Christopher Kelly, one of the engineers employed by Mr. Nixon. The Skibo is one of the handsomest of the smaller class of pleasure yachts in this country. Mrs. Carnegie anticipates much pleasure in cruising around the waters of Florida in her pretty boat.

W. K. VANDERBILT'S ESCAPE

Train on Which He Was Riding Derailed by a Frog.

ELKHART, IND., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—William K. Vanderbilt came near being the victim of a railroad accident at Kendallville early this morning. The engine attached to the coach drawing his private car was derailed by a frog clogged with cinders and ice. The train was moving very slowly when the mishap occurred, and this is all that prevented a serious wreck. When the front wheels went off the track the emergency brakes were applied. The sudden stop jarred the passengers in the day coaches.

Mr. Vanderbilt and his four friends were asleep, and if the occurrence disturbed them in the least no sign was shown during the two hours that the train was delayed in getting the engine back on the tracks.

DAUGHTERS IN A TANGLE.

President General Didn't Know When a Vote Was in Order.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 18.—Proposed constitutional amendments engaged the attention of the convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution today. The first of these proposed adding to the representation from each state now consisting of one regent four additional representatives to be elected at an elective conference to be called by the state regent and to be composed of the chapter regent, vice regent and one delegate from each chapter in the state, the conference to be at some designated place before February 1 of each year.

A number of motions were ruled out of order in rapid succession and a motion finally was adopted postponing the amendments submitted on this subject.

The report of the committee on reduction of representation announced that a majority of 20 state regents favor chapter representation and a minority favor the ratio representation of one delegate to every 500 members.

The debate occupied two hours, when Miss Richards announced that she recognized that those who stood with her for the amendments were in a hopeless minority, and she would accept defeat gracefully.

The chair was about to declare a recess when Mrs. Donnie McLean of New York made a vigorous attack on the parliamentary procedure of the president general, and three insisted that the vote on the amendments was next in order. Mrs. Fairbanks insisted on the recess against a number of protests.

The Richards amendments were overwhelmingly defeated at the afternoon session. A number of other proposed amendments met the same fate.

MEN PROMINENT IN BATTLE TALK ABOUT IT to submission by grecnhorns. It was a great day for the people; a high compliment to the courage, integrity and splendid equipment of the men who conducted the canvass, as well as those under them, Citizens, Democrats and Stalwart Republicans.

"It was a great fight, and the winning of it against what the boss calls the 'greatest organization' is an evidence of the patriotism of the masses and the superiority of the volunteer over the hired Hessian.

"The people can always be depended upon. Though slow to rouse and generally willing to bear the ills they have rather than fly to those they know not of, they will revolt when the load gets too heavy, and when they do they clear the deck.

"So far as I am personally concerned, I am enjoying the situation as the people are, and must thank them for their loyal, unfaltering support, notwithstanding the attempt made to arouse the spirit of intolerance and fanaticism against me.

Honored by the People.

"The people of this city have honored me before. They believed I had been true to them and to their interests, and they trusted me again. They can depend upon me being true to the trust, and of keeping them advised of the condition of their public affairs, not only once a year, but frequently and constantly.

"No dollar will be signed for by me without satisfactory evidence of its having been earned unless courts order it. I will

ALICE MORTON WAS HANDSOME LENTEN BRIDE

FLOWERS AND SUNSHINE

Simple but Impressive Scene in Old Grace Church, New York—Sacred Edifice Filled With the Relatives of Both Families.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—In the presence of some 300 friends, Miss Alice Morton, daughter of Levi P. Morton, once the vice president of the United States, became the bride today of Winthrop Rutherfurd, member of an old Knickerbocker family. The ceremony took place in old ivy-clad Grace church, at Tenth street and Broadway, at noon. "Happy the bride the sun shines on." A flood of sunlight fell upon the queenly girl, in her rich gown of white silk, trimmed with priceless point lace, and it seemed as if everything auspicious smiled upon the nuptials.

There were many flowers in the chancel and elsewhere in the church, all of them from the conservatory of the bride's father at Rhinebeck, but the decorations were all marked by a simplicity in keeping with the season.

Keeping With the Season.

A Lenten wedding is not an occasion for profuse ornamentation or effusive demonstration. So this tall, graceful girl, one of the richest young women in the country, was married to the man of her choice with the sober decorum that belongs to the penitential season. Even a wedding must be touched with the gray shadows of Lent so far as outward seeming goes, although certainly it was not reflected in the bride's radiant countenance.

The marriage service was conducted by the rector, the Rev. W. R. Huntington, D. D., with Bishop Potter to pronounce the benediction. There were no bridesmaids. Mr. Rutherfurd's best man was his brother, Stuyvesant Rutherfurd, and the ushers were William P. Travers, Herman Duryea, Charles Winthrop, Egerton Winthrop and J. Borden Harriman.

The Church Was Crowded.

It was long before noon when the first carriages sped silently over the snow to famous old Grace church. The sun shone brightly over the city and melted into a million icicles the snow that clung to the tufts on the old stone walls. The church never looked more beautiful, while the soft strains of a voluntary on the organ sifted out from the shadows within and told the passersby that the most solemn as well as most joyful event in human life was about to be celebrated.

It had been announced that on account of Lent the keynote of the wedding would be simplicity. This did not prevent a large number of invitations being sent out, and although the guests were all relatives or close friends of the families of Morton and Rutherfurd, they made an assemblage large enough to fill the church.

Arrival of the Bride.

So well were the arrangements carried out that the whole congregation had been seated and the ribbons that kept a space clear for the bridal party replaced where they had been disturbed before the "Lohengrin" wedding march told of the approach of the bride.

It was then that the bridegroom, attended by his brother, Stuyvesant Rutherfurd, appeared at the chancel rail to await his bride. A moment later the music took on a more insistent tone, as, preceded by the ushers, Miss Morton, on the arm of her father, walked up the aisle. She is a handsome girl, tall and of stately presence, and in her gown of heavy white satin with its trimmings of heavy point lace and the long veil fastened to her head with a small cluster of blossoms, she was every inch a bride of the caste of Vere De Vere.

The Impressive Ceremony.

The Rev. W. R. Huntington, D. D., rector of the church, stood inside the chancel with Bishop Potter by his side. The music died away to a plaintive murmur as the wedding party fell into position and ceased altogether as Dr. Huntington began with the impressive ritual of the Protestant Episcopal church, "Dearly beloved, we are gathered together," etc.

The scene was one not easily forgotten. The bright wintry sunshine coming in many colors through the stained glass windows sent alternately red and violet tints across the gleaming white dress of the bride, while just at the moment that the words "I pronounce you man and wife" were said her head was bathed in an aureole of orange light that could but be taken as a happy omen. Bishop Potter pronounced the benediction and the procession was formed to leave the church.

Passing of the Happy Couple.

As the bride and bridegroom turned from the altar the organ thundered forth Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," and everyone turned toward the couple as they walked swiftly down the aisle to the outer light and under the canopy to their carriage. There was a large crowd outside the church, most of which had gathered during the ceremony within, and many were the expressions of admiration for the handsome pair.

The carriage dashed away, followed by others containing invited guests to the wedding breakfast at Mr. Morton's home in Fifth avenue. One of the features of the breakfast was an immense wedding cake furnished by a leading caterer and which is said to have been the most expensive ever made in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Rutherfurd departed for the south this afternoon, and after a brief sojourn in Florida and other pleasant winter resorts go to England, where they will stay for the coronation. They will also travel on the continent and stay for a time in Paris, and will hardly be back to this country until late in the autumn.

The Clergy Like It.—Here are a few names of clergymen of different creeds who are firm believers in Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder to "Eye up to the preaching" in all it claims: Bishop Sweatman, Rev. Dr. Langtry (Episcopalian); Rev. Dr. Withrow and Rev. Dr. Chambers (Methodist), and Dr. Newman, all of Toronto, Canada. Copies of their personal letters for the asking.—4.

LATEST NEWS OF SOCIETY AND GOSSIP OF THE HOME

SOCIETY

ELECTION day had more of interest for the women of Pittsburgh this year than ever before. All social affairs were omitted, only a few club meetings were held, and the women were alert throughout the day. When the men came home from their business or from voting places they were greeted with questions as to the progress of the voting. A few women braved the weather and went shopping, but wherever they were, at the stores, at the Twentieth Century club, or calling on their friends, the probable result of the election was the absorbing topic for both the society woman and the club woman, the woman who staged at home and the woman who ventured abroad.

One reason for this interest was the entrance of one of their number into politics. Though many have censured her for permitting herself to be a candidate for school director in the Fifth ward of Allegheny and others have admired the pluck which she showed in entering into a contest with men, Miss Kate McKnight has been supported by the warmest sympathy and active interest of the women of her own ward and of the two cities. The resolution passed at the conference of club women last week proved that, and the returns were eagerly awaited that they might learn the result of the election.

Miss McKnight's candidacy this year, supported by the Young Men's Civic club of Allegheny, composed of 51 of the young men of the lower part of the North Side, is but the entering wedge and a year from now there will be other women candidates in the field, with greater interest, if possible, among the women of the two cities in the result of the election than this year.

Bridge and Golf at Palm Beach.

The society reporter in Florida sends north accounts of the interest which Pittsburgh people are taking in golf and in bridge whist. Ping-pong seems to have but little show at Palm Beach. Of a delightful golf party given last Tuesday by Mrs. Thomas A. Lawton of Newport and Mrs. Charles F. Bingham of Buffalo, when two handsome cups were played for, the following is said:

"It was a handicap for women. Mrs. H. P. Dixon of Philadelphia won the net score prize, net 90, gross 104; Miss Elinor Whitney, Boston, the gross score, 98. Among those making good scores were Mrs. C. G. Powers, Decatur, 104-92; Miss Laughlin, Pittsburgh, 99-93; Mrs. H. B. McLane, New York, 105-93; Mrs. Scully, Pittsburgh, 107-93.

"After the cups had been presented every one went to the palm room, where refreshments were served. These included champagne, cup fruit and golf balls. In addition to those named there were present: Mrs. Joseph Jefferson, Mrs. F. Ebert, Mrs. Darlington, Mrs. Benjamin Thaw, Mrs. Burt, Mrs. Woodruff, Mrs. Frank Jay Gould, Mrs. Henton, Miss E. Roberts, Mrs. A. S. Carpenter, the Misses Andrews, Mrs. Dun Douglass, Mr. and Miss Peterson, Miss Tappin, Miss Mollie Andrews, Miss Darlington, Miss Johnson, Mrs. R. L. Maghee, Miss Jones, Mrs. C. B. Cory, Mrs. T. M. McKee, Mrs. E. A. Mulliken, Miss B. Andrews, Mrs. Baird, Mrs. A. Goodrich.

"The interest in bridge is increasing. Mr. Frederick Townsend Martin and Mr. W. Black seem to be leading spirits, though Mrs. H. H. Benedict of New Haven, Mrs. Dunn Douglass of Orange and Mr. Eugene M. O'Neill follow closely in their wake. Mrs. Frederick W. Vanderpoit has given some bridge parties in her rooms, and is said to be a good player. On dit Mr. Edward Grey of New York and Mr. Milton C. Work of Philadelphia excel all others in this fascinating game. The latter has written a book on whist, and so, naturally, is considered more or less an authority. Others much interested are: Mrs. S. S. Spalding, Mrs. Charles F. Bingham, Miss Alice Walton, Miss Darlington, Miss Laughlin and Mrs. Scully."

Meetings of the Clubs.

Notwithstanding it was election day, several of the women clubs held their regular fortnightly meetings. The Lewickeville New Century club met in the parlors of the Butler Street Methodist Episcopal church and discussed "American Art." Miss Annie Williams was the leader and the program treated of the different forms of art, "Dramatic Art" was discussed by Miss Marie Smith; "Sculpture," by Miss Hester Johns; "Architecture," by Miss Anna Herron, and the "Work of American Artists," by Miss Sadie Authammer.

"The Negroes" formed the subject which was presented yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Woman's club. The future of the colored people was the subject of Mrs. Sarah A. Archer's paper; Mrs. William Swindell discussed their privilege and right to suffrage, the last paper being "The Negroes in Relation to Industrial Progress."

The Consumers' League.

A fairly large audience greeted James Campbell, factory inspector for Pennsylvania yesterday afternoon when he spoke to the Pittsburgh branch of the Consumers' League of America. Mr. Campbell related some of his experiences in visiting the factories and manufacturing institutions within the state. The address of the afternoon was supplemented by short talks by a number of the ladies present, who told of their work in interesting merchants in selling goods marked with the Consumers' League label and in the betterment of the conditions under which many of the shop girls and factory girls work.

Riley-Lowther Wedding.

ALTOONA, PA., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—A pleasing social event this evening was the marriage of James Lowther, cashier of the Bellwood Bank of Bellwood, six miles east of here, to Miss Eleanor Riley, daughter of the Rev. J. M. Riley, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of that place. The ceremony was performed in the Methodist church there, the father of the bride officiating.

GUNNER MORGAN'S WIFE.

He Wants to Get Rid of Her for the Second Time, and Again Files Suit.

NEWPORT, R. I., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—Chief Gunner Charles Morgan, U. S. N., has caused to be filed here a petition for divorce from his wife, Mrs. Mary Morgan, who for several years, during which she and her husband have been separated, has resided in Erie, Pa., with relatives. The case will probably go on the docket of the May term of the supreme court. The allegation is desertion.

Mr. Morgan began similar proceedings against his wife last spring, but after a conference of attorneys representing both parties, the petition was withdrawn and the case stricken from the docket. A few weeks later Mr. Morgan instructed his counsel, Michael W. Callaghan, to file another petition, which has now been entered. It is believed that Mrs. Morgan will oppose this petition for divorce as she did the former.

A few months ago Mr. Morgan, in recognition of his valuable services at the wreck of the Maine and elsewhere, had restored to him by order of the president several numbers in his grade that he lost about eight years ago.

WOMEN VOTE IN FOREIGN LANDS AND ARE HAPPY

Delegates from Abroad Tell Congressional Committees of Victories.

PROGRESS IN AUSTRALIA

Voted in Sweden Even Before the Men Got the Franchise — Even in Autocratic Russia, Political Privileges of the Sexes Are Equal.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 18.—Delegations representing the Woman's Suffrage association, now in session here, appeared before committees of congress today in advocacy of their plea that women be allowed to exercise the right of suffrage.

The senate committee meeting was presided over by Senator Bacon of Georgia, who practically turned over the control of the hearing to Miss Susan B. Anthony, who made the first address of the day.

She began by calling attention to the fact that for 34 years, or 17 congresses, the ladies have been coming to congress with their pleas, but she said that only on one occasion had their proposed amendments to the constitution been awarded the honor of being taken up in the senate for discussion.

At Least Equal to Filipinos.

She, therefore, made an appeal to be heard by the senate, expressing the conviction that the women of the country are as much entitled to be heard as are the Filipinos, the Porto Ricans and the Hawaiians.

On the house side Mrs. Carrie C. Catt, president of the association, explained to the committee that she desired particularly that the foreign delegates should describe to the committee the progress of the woman suffrage movement in other parts of the world. The speakers today were Mrs. Vida Goldstein of Australia, Mrs. Ewald of Sweden, Mrs. Freedland of Russia, Mrs. Fenwick Miller of England, Miss Isabelle Campbell of Wyoming, Miss Theodosia Ammons of Colorado, Mrs. Lappish of Utah, Mrs. Weaver of Idaho, and Mrs. Catt.

Victories in Australia.

Mrs. Goldstein told of the struggle and success of the woman suffrage movement in different parts of Australia. The predictions of the adversaries of woman suffrage had utterly failed, she declared.

"The women of Australia," she said, "do not forget their homes of their babies, and they do not raid the public offices."

She concluded her appeal to the committee with this sentence: "Aunstralia trusts her women; surely America can trust hers."

Mrs. Freedland explained that in a country like Russia there is, of course, little suffrage, but what there is is shared equally by men and women.

Mrs. Ewald of Sweden, where woman suffrage is older than in any country on earth, and Mrs. Drewson of Norway, where women paying taxes on an income of the equivalent of $100 a year enjoy suffrage, told of the suffrage privileges enjoyed by women in their country. In Sweden women enjoyed the ballot before men.

Works Well in Wyoming.

Miss Campbell, daughter of the first governor of Wyoming, the executive who signed the woman suffrage law, declared that every governor of Wyoming had testified that woman suffrage had worked well.

Mrs. Lucretia Blankenburg of Pennsylvania said that while woman has a share in the home the business largely falls to her care. She criticised severely the result of local politics with respect to municipal contracts in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Jennie Brown of Minnesota, among other things, said: "We are not socialists, not anarchistic in our motives; we do not wish to be modern Atlases, but just to share the lesson our mother taught us—give half."

Amid much laughter she concluded by saying: "We would like to vote, if you please."

International Movement.

At the convention today Miss Vida Goldstein announced that it has been decided not to form a permanent international conference until after the convention in Berlin in 1904, but that in the meantime there will be an international suffrage committee, with Susan B. Anthony as president.

PRISCILLA'S PENCIL

Called on a new baby yesterday; a small and very precious morsel of humanity which will some day command more than a fifth of Pittsburgh's wealth. A peep into the outfit prepared for this infant heir is as interesting as a sight of a June bride's trousseau, and far more alluring. There are dozens of everything, all of the finest, but so simple that one needs must examine fabrics to see where the goodly dollars went which were provided for the purpose. The little slips are of sheer nainsook, and not a single frill or scrap of embroidery is to be found on them. They have strips of insertion at neck and sleeve and through each of these is ran a ribbon. An edge of filmy lace is added, and further than this adornment does not go. Some of the hems are hemstitched and all are sewed by hand, but there are no buttons, no ruffles, and scarcely enough length to cover the tiny feet. These feet, by the way, will not be confined in stockings and bootees, as is the custom for winter babies. They will be allowed to kick themselves into warmth in an evenly heated nursery, and will be uncovered as often as his lordship wishes, whatever the thermometer outdoors says. A single little shirt, a single petticoat and the slip complete his dress, no confining bands, no bundling flannel wrappers, but all the freedom which the natural baby longs for. Old-fashioned aunts shake their heads and two grandmothers wear anxiously worried faces, but a trained nurse, an up-to-date doctor, and a wise young mother have conspired together that one baby at least shall have all the joy possible to babyhood and as little of the hampering conventionality as is consistent with decency.

A Wife Says:

"We have four children. With the first three I suffered almost unbearable pains from 12 to 14 hours, and had to be placed under the influence of chloroform. I used three bottles of Mother's Friend before our last child came, which is a strong, fat and healthy boy, doing my housework up to within two hours of birth, and suffered but a few hard pains. This liniment is the grandest remedy ever made."

Mother's Friend

will do for every woman what it did for the Minnesota mother who writes the above letter. Not to use it during pregnancy is a mistake to be paid for in pain and suffering. Mother's Friend equips the patient with a strong body and clear intellect, which in turn are imparted to the child. It relaxes the muscles and allows them to expand. It relieves morning sickness and nervousness. It puts all the organs concerned in perfect condition for the final hour, so that the actual labor is short and practically painless. Danger of rising or hard breasts is altogether avoided, and recovery is merely a matter of a few days.

Only Safe Medicine for Babies.

The insides of babes-in-arms and little children are very delicate and tender. Mothers must not be reckless in the use of physics. There is only one gentle, perfect, safe medicine for babies:

"Cascarets are fine for ladies with infants, as they keep both mother and child from becoming bilious. I use them daily in my practice."—Dr. A. E. Griffin, Smithfield, Tex.

"I found Cascarets, in the case of my baby who is not very strong, the very best medicine I ever used. They do just what you recommend."—Mrs. S. M. Chapman, Stephens Mills, N. Y.

"I have become a firm believer in the efficacy of Cascarets. Even my baby boy likes them."—Mrs. Lida Cermak, Jersey City.

"I think Cascarets splendid. They have benefited me greatly. My baby was afflicted with croup, and Cascarets afforded instant relief."—Mrs. Ella Ziegler, Delta, Ohio.

"Mamma has used Cascarets and received great benefit. She thinks they are wonderful, and gave them to our baby before he was three years old."—Alice Sewell, 611 Eighth St., So. Boston.

"Our baby was sick and we were advised to try Cascarets. They worked like a charm. We cannot say too much in praise of Cascarets."—Mrs. Nellie Bowman, Metropolis, Ill.

"Cascarets are indispensable for young children and always bring best results."—Manry Joynt, P. M., Wesley, S. D.

"Cascarets work easy and without pain. I have given them to my babies with splendid results."—Mrs. K. Bottag, St. Louis, Mo.

Mamma takes a CASCARET, baby gets the benefit. Isn't that good sense? The sweet, palatable Candy Cathartic Cascaret, eaten by the nursing mother, not only regulates her system and increases her flow of milk, but makes her milk mildly purgative. Baby gets the effect diluted and as part of its regular, natural food;—no violence—no danger—perfectly natural results. No more sour curds in baby's stomach, no more wind, colic, restless nights.

RESULTS OF THE ELECTION IN MANY SURROUNDING TOWNS

ELKIN FORCES LOST THE DAY IN NEW CASTLE

HEAVY VOTE WAS POLLED

Result on Candidates for Controller and Treasurer Are Yet in Doubt. Victory for Senator Brown and His Associates.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., Feb. 18.—City Clerk John C. Jackson was elected mayor today after one of the hottest political battles ever fought here from a field of 10 candidates. Sixteen of the 20 precincts give him a majority of 900 over John C. Offutt, his nearest competitor. John W. Stayton, Socialist candidate, polled a remarkably heavy vote.

The total vote cast was very large and the count is so slow that both the controller and treasurer are yet in doubt, with more than half the precincts yet to report. Returns at midnight indicate the probable re-election of City Treasurer Alexander C. Hanna, with William R. McKee a close second, who may secure the office on the official count.

For city controller John H. Miller and John McCandless had a battle royal with the result yet in doubt, but favoring Miller. W. N. Aiken, Barney S. McMillen and J. Clark Lewis were elected city assessors.

Thousands of dollars were wagered on the mayoralty election, the Elkin and anti-Elkin local forces coming in combat, and the election of Jackson is a victory for the latter, headed by Senator William M. Brown and John B. Brown.

UNIONTOWN IS REPUBLICAN.

Contest Was Hot and a Heavy Vote Was Cast.

UNIONTOWN, PA., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—For the first time in many years the Republicans made a clean sweep of all the borough offices, the Democrats only getting the minority election offices required by law. A surprisingly heavy vote was polled. Hot contests were waged in every ward and some arrests were made for alleged illegal voting.

The winners were: First ward, George F. Titlow, re-elected councilman; Levi S. Gaddis, re-elected school director; Daniel Collins, re-elected constable. Second ward, John Gallagher, re-elected councilman; Frank M. Bowie, school director; Charles M. Fee, re-elected constable; Third ward, Theopelis Bowie, re-elected councilman; Hanson Rutter, school director; Andrew J. Bowie, re-elected constable. Fourth ward, Charles H. Gorley, councilman; Harry Whyel, re-elected school director; Milton Morris, constable; Thomas H. Jones, borough auditor.

Monongahela Goes Republican.

MONONGAHELA, PA., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—The election passed off quietly here today. The main interest was displayed in the election of the school board. The city ticket elected is Republican. Harry K. Bentley was elected city auditor; William L. Jones and Charles Stephens, school directors. City councils are about evenly divided between Democrats and Republicans. Ernest A. Foster, Democrat, was elected alderman.

QUAKER REPUBLICANS MAKE A CLEAN SWEEP

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Feb. 18.—Republicans made a clean sweep in the Quaker City today. A very small vote was polled and the independents, except in a few wards, allowed the issue to go against them by default.

While the returns are not complete at this hour the Republican leaders claim that John I. Kinsey, Republican candidate for city solicitor, will have a majority of upward of 70,000. The Republican magisterial candidates, Robert J. Moore, David S. Scott, James A. Briggs and William J. Hughes, are elected by majorities close to that of Kinsey. Eighteen members of select and 60, or one-third the membership of common council, also were elected by the Republicans. James E. Sullivan and Thomas E. Fitzpatrick, Democrats, were the minority magistrates elected. The union party failed to score.

The loan bill of $5,000,000 was approved, but at this hour it is impossible to give the figures in full.

Republicans have carried every contested ward. The ward victories today embraced school directors and ward election officers, the organization making marked gains in their hold upon minor offices. In 26 out of the 42 wards of the city the Republican ticket was opposed today by complete or partial unison on the part of the Democrats, Unionists and Municipal leaguers, but only in about half a dozen wards was any effort being made to bring out all the voters on either side.

One of the notable defeats was that of ex-Postmaster Thomas L. Hicks, independent Republican candidate for select council in the Thirty-fourth ward, who was beaten by James Dunlap, stalwart Republican. The ex-postmaster made a hard fight, and a house-to-house canvass was made in his behalf by friends.

RESULT AT ALTOONA.

Democrats Elect Mayor and Several Other Officials on City Ticket.

ALTOONA, PA., Feb. 18.—Altoona has elected the Democratic candidates for mayor, treasurer and controller, S. M. Hoyer, Fred Sheffield and Joseph Hammer, respectively, defeating the Republican candidates, John Plummer, George Harpham and J. Leamer. The Republicans elect the school directors, Dr. McCarthy and D. K. Howe, and the board of assessors.

The eight common and four select councilmen are divided between the two parties equally. About 6,000 votes were polled, a large number for a local election. William T. Howard, independent candidate for mayor, contributed to the defeat of the Republican ticket. Hoyer's majority may reach 1,200.

Democrats Elected at Warren.

WARREN, PA., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—A bitterly contested municipal election terminated tonight in a victory for the Democrats in five wards. Five Democrats were returned to the council and three to the school board. The Republicans have a small majority in both council and the school board.

Mixed Result in Irwin.

IRWIN, PA., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—There was a general change about in the political fight here today. Those who have always supported the straight Republican ticket withdrew from the party in several candidates and there was a general fusion with the Democrats. The result is as follows: Council, J. L. Ridinger, Abel Frank, P. B. Hensler, John H. Over, W. C. Carson, all Republicans; justice of the peace, J. C. F. Frederick (Rep.); constable, C. W. Meornoff (Rep.); high constable, J. J. Kinnel (Rep.); school directors, J. B. Gallagher, Dr. A. M. McLain, both Republicans; auditor, James Overholt (Rep.)

M'CORMICK IS ELECTED MAYOR OF HARRISBURG.

Democratic Candidate Gets a Large Majority—Republicans Retain Councils.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, PA., Feb. 18.—Vance C. McCormick, the famous Yale athlete, was today elected mayor by an unprecedented majority of 2,300 over Dr. Samuel Hassler (Rep.). McCormick was the Democratic nominee and also had the indorsement of the Union party and the Central Labor union. The normal Republican majority in the city is 600, and Hassler's campaign managers confidently predicted his election by 270.

McCormick is a nephew of ex-Senator J. Donald Cameron, through whose aid his relative secured the votes of scores of Republicans. McCormick is only 26 years old, and two years ago he carried the Fourth ward, which usually gives 350 Republican majority, by over 200 for common councilman.

Hassler lost hundreds of votes by his refusal to declare himself on the proposition to increase the city's debt $1,000,000 for sewers, parks, a filtration plant and other public improvements. This question, of which McCormick was the author in councils, was adopted by nearly 5,000 majority.

The Democrats are claiming the election of John K. Royal for city treasurer and William H. Moore, city controller, and their three nominees for city assessors. The Republicans have elected enough councilmen to retain control of city councils and assure the re-election of City Solicitor Daniel W. Seitz. Thousands of dollars were spent by each side.

RESULT AT BEAVER FALLS.

Republicans Lose One Councilman and Gain a School Director.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—The election for borough and ward officers passed off quietly today. The Republicans lost one councilman and gained one school director. For council, Dr. W. S. Cook (Rep.) was defeated by Frank Strieley (Dem.). For school director W. I. Jackson (Dem.) was defeated by David Ellis (Rep.).

The successful candidates for council were Harry Reeves, Edward Megowan, Clem Campbell, P. W. Kuhnle, Frank Strieley, Charles W. Klein, George M. Pierce; school directors, Dr. W. F. Ray, H. A. Moore, David Ellis, Charles F. Bond, Dr. John M. Douds, James McCreary, M. W. McCandless. For borough auditor, David Funkhouser was elected, and Sylvester Meens was elected high constable.

BIG VOTE AT MT. PLEASANT.

The Republicans Elected Most of the Borough Officers.

MT. PLEASANT, PA., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—A big vote was cast at the election today and great interest was shown. L. S. Rhodes, the Republican candidate, led the ticket by a majority of 200.

Following is the ticket elected: Justice of peace, L. S. Rhodes (Rep.); auditor, James C. Guy (Rep.); high constable, J. J. Thompson; council, First ward, Dr. F. L. Marsh (Dem.); constable, First ward, L. M. Karney (Dem.); council, Second ward, Grant Faul (Dem.); school director, Second ward, Morrison (Rep.); school director, Second ward, Dr. M. Loar (Dem.); council, Third ward, David Edwards (Rep.); constable, Third ward, John Locke (Dem.).

Republicans Win at Ebensburg.

EBENSBURG, PA., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—In one of the most bitterly contested local elections held here in recent years, J. D. Parish (Dem.), for justice of the peace, was elected over Milton Jones (Rep.) by a majority of six votes. The Republicans have elected two new councilmen and will control that branch. All Republican candidates for other offices were elected. The weather was intensely stormy and there was a great falling off in the vote.

RESULT AT BUTLER.

Republicans Elect Borough Ticket and Bond Issue for Improvements Carries.

BUTLER, PA., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—The borough elections today were very quiet, there being but few contests for the ward offices. The Republicans elected a full borough ticket and three of the five school directors, while the Democrats elected four of the five councilmen. The result is as follows:

High constable, T. E. Kramer; auditors, John W. Coulter and William R. Hite; council, First ward, J. D. Gibson (Rep.); Second ward, E. Grieb (Dem.); Third ward, Raymond C. Cornelius (Dem.); Fourth ward, Edward Weigand (Dem.); Fifth ward, James W. Thompson (Rep.); school directors, First ward, W. Hutchison (Rep.); Second ward, W. Davidson (Rep.); Third ward, John J. Shelring (Dem.); Fourth ward, J. A. Bonner (Dem.); Fifth ward, M. R. Sharor (Rep.); constables, First ward, John Heppman (Rep.); Second ward, A. N. McCandless (Dem.); Third ward, Isaac Donaldson (Rep.); Fourth ward, John Pistorius (Dem.); Fifth ward, W. P. Brown (Rep.).

A proposition to increase the bonded debt of the town 2 per cent on the assessed valuation for the purpose of making public improvements, was carried by a majority of 300. The proposition gives the city council about $50,000 to expend on streets and sewers this summer.

DEMOCRATS WIN.

P. W. Costello Is Elected City Controller of Scranton.

SCRANTON, PA., Feb. 18.—P. W. Costello (Dem.) defeated Evan R. Morris (Rep.) for city controller in today's city election by a majority of 800. The Democrats also changed their minority of one to a majority of one in select council. Common council continues evenly divided.

The Republicans attribute their defeat to the fact that there were hot local fights in the Democratic wards, while in the Republican strongholds the ward candidates had no opposition. A veritable blizzard raged all day.

SURPRISE AT BELLEFONTE.

Charles F. Cook Defeated for Treasurer After Long Service.

BELLEFONTE, PA., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—There were several hot contests at today's election, the one surprise being the defeat of Charles F. Cook, who has been borough treasurer for years, by George R. Meek, associate editor of the Democratic Watchman.

The result follows: Borough treasurer, George R. Meek (Dem.); poor overseer, R. S. Brouse (Rep.); auditor, Isaac Underwood (Rep.); councilmen, W. H. Derstine (Rep.), George Mallory (Dem.), M. A. Kirk (Dem.); school directors, H. P. Harris (Rep.), D. F. Fortney (Dem.). Darius Waite (Rep.); constables, Robert F. Miller, H. H. Montgomery and William Curris, all Republicans.

Fierce Fight in Corry.

CORRY, PA., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—The local election was fiercely fought today, and indications are that Robert Patterson (Rep.), for city treasurer, wins over Harry Auer.

Mixed Ticket in Greenville.

GREENVILLE, PA., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—Today's municipal election was the most determinedly fought of any in recent years. The Citizens' league took a hand in the fight and as a result very few straight tickets were voted. Looser, independent candidate for council, led the ticket. The following were elected: Council, Looser (Ind.), Melvin (Rep.), McNary (Dem.); school directors, the Rev. A. M. Keiger (Dem.), Dr. J. H. Martin and Homer (Rep.) tied; constables, A. K. Tate (Rep.), Clark Homer (Dem.)

WASHINGTON IS REPUBLICAN.

Borough Ticket Made a Clean Sweep, but Ward Offices Are Mixed.

WASHINGTON, PA., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—The election here today was a hot contest and the largest vote in years was polled. For the borough offices the Republicans made a clean sweep, but for the ward offices party lines were eliminated in many instances, and the Democrats secured one councilman and seven school directors. The following candidates were elected: Treasurer, Joseph C. Baird; curator of the public library, Alexander Reed; auditor, J. Howard Blair; council, Jacob Cline, George W. Manifold, E. C. Candel and Alexander Reed; school directors, A. C. Marsh, J. B. Lewin, George T. Walker, Thomas C. Nichel, J. W. McNulty, Edward L. Foster, Alexander Hart, William Cameron, William Denney, R. W. Mason, I. H. Taylor and John McDuffie.

In North Washington the Citizens ticket, opposed to consolidation on everything but council, and three councilmen favorable to consolidation, were returned on the Republican ticket by a large majority.

In East Washington the Republican ticket, favorable to consolidation, was elected with little opposition.

The Republicans won nearly every office in West Washington and meagre returns from Washington county towns give the Republicans a majority in nearly every instance.

BIG REPUBLICAN MAJORITIES.

City Officers, Councilmen and School Directors Elected in Erie.

ERIE, PA., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—The municipal election today resulted in a sweeping victory for the Republican ticket. The entire city ticket was elected by substantial majorities, ranging from 600 to 1,000.

The victors are as follows: Mayor, William Hardwick; controller, George W. Brown; treasurer, Charles C. Shorb. The Republicans were generally successful in the ward tickets, also. Two select councilmen out of three were elected and five out of six common councilmen. This gives the Republicans control of the lower branch of councils. The Republicans also made a gain in the school board.

A surprising feature of the election was the very heavy vote polled by the new Socialist party, supported by the labor unions of the city. Its ticket, headed by George N. Ward, polled twice the vote the Regular Democratic nominee, Jacob Warfel, received.

Republican Mayor at Titusville.

TITUSVILLE, PA., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—For the first time in many years every ward in the city gave a majority to the Republican candidate for mayor, electing D. F. Reuting over S. S. Eryan by nearly 250. The Republicans also for controller A. C. Harton and councilman-at-large, C. F. Emerson. Thomas Mahl (Dem.) was re-elected city treasurer.

Republican Victory at Johnstown.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—Ten precincts out of a total of 23 in the city give John Pendry, Jr. (Rep.), 1,275, and Charles Young (Dem.), 1,192 for mayor. This indicates Pendry's election by a majority of 400. The rest of the Republican ticket is safely elected.

Democrats Win in Meadville.

MAEDVILWLE, PA., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—The election today passed off very quietly. The city councils will be Democratic on joint ballot. The vote on a proposition to establish public kindergartens was defeated by 385 votes.

Republican Victory at Scottdale.

SCOTTDALE, PA., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—The borough election here today resulted in a victory for the whole Republican ticket. The principal fight was on council, but the Republican candidates won by majorities ranging from 18 to 40. The bond issue was defeated by a majority of 67.

Husband of Her Companion Held for Complicity in Kidnaping.

BRIGANDS GIVEN RANSOM

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 18.—Miss Ellen M. Stone has been released by the brigands who have held her captive since September 3 last and has been handed over in good health to the dragoman of the American legation. The Rev. Mr. Tsilka has been arrested on the charge of complicity in the kidnaping of Miss Stone.

The companion in captivity of Miss Stone was Madame K. S. Tsilka, a Bulgarian woman, wife of Mr. Tsilka, a Macedonian teacher of Samakov. Miss Stone, while traveling with Madame Tsilka and a party of about 15 friends, was captured by brigands in the district of Salonica, September 3. Since that time vigorous efforts have been made by the United States government and by missionaries to obtain the release of the captives.

Ransom Was Paid.

The brigands demanded a ransom of £25,000 (Turkish), but only $72,500 was collected for the ransom and this sum was paid over to the brigands February 6 by M. Gargiulo, chief dragoman of the American legation at Constantinople, and W. W. Peet, treasurer of the American mission at Constantinople, who met the brigands on the road to the Podrome monastery.

Madame Tsilka was educated at the Northfield seminary. At the time of receiving her American training and education she was Miss Stephanova, a Bulgarian. Having been converted in childhood to the Christian belief, she went to America after having refused to marry the man of her parents' choosing. Dr. Dwight L. Moody, becoming interested in her welfare, found a place for her in his noted school. Having finished her training at that institution she became a trained nurse.

Married in America.

While engaged in her professional duties in the Adirondacks she became acquainted with Mr. Tsilka, a Macedonian who had also been educated in the United States. At that period he was preparing for work as a medical missionary. Soon after the completion of their training the couple were married and went to Bulgaria, where they at once entered upon missionary work.

Miss Stone is one of the missionaries of the American board of foreign missions. She has been attached to the Salonica mission since 1878. She was born at Roxbury, Mass., and her home is in Chelsea, Mass., where her mother resides. Four of Miss Stone's brothers are in business in Boston.

It was announced recently that the Turkish authorities suspected the Rev. Mr. Tsilka of complicity in the abduction of the missionaries.

AMERICAN FORCED TO LEAVE ECUADOR

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SPRINGFIELD, O., Feb. 18.—A cablegram was received here today stating that Michael Bolan, a Springfield contractor, had been forced to leave Ecuador. Bolan was recently arrested at Guayaquil, Ecuador, and thrown into jail on the charge of not paying a debt of a native. He will appeal through the legation at Kyle to the United States. Bolan makes affidavit that he did not contract the alleged debt.

GUAYAQUIL, ECUADOR, Feb. 18.—Michael Bolan of Springfield, O., left Guayaquil yesterday, but it is not known that the government of Ecuador induced him to depart. Bolan said nothing about being forced to leave Ecuador. He had previously announced his intention of starting on a journey, but was prevented from so doing by his arrest, on judgment proceedings, and the subsequent steps in his case, which were slow.

WITHSTOOD LYDDITE SHELLS.

Six-Inch Armor Resisted Shots in Gunnery Experiment.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—Gunnery experiments against the target-ship Belle Isle were conducted off Portsmouth today.

One side of the Belle Isle was armored to represent vessels of the Drake class, while the other side of the target ship was armored as are vessels of the Kent class. The gunboats Pincher and Comet directed the fire of their six and nine-inch guns with lyddite shells at 1,200 yards against the target.

The six-inch armor of the Belle Isle withstood the lyddite and the armor piercing shells from the gunboats, but the four-inch armor belt was shattered. The Belle Isle was hastily towed into Portsmouth to prevent her sinking.

WARSHIPS AT TRIESTE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BARCELONA, SPAIN, Feb. 18.—The city of Barcelona is in control of the troops, but isolated bands of strikers are still doing considerable damage. Rioters today attacked a prison van and attempted to release a number of strikers who had been made prisoners. A striker fired on the guard, who in return shot and killed the man who fired on him. A large lumber yard has been burned by incendiaries and several stores have been pillaged. The captain-general of Barcelona has summoned a meeting of the proprietors of the metal works, at which he will recommend granting the strikers' demand of nine hours' work per day.

Three Killed by Troops.

Rioting was renewed here this evening and crowds of strikers paraded the streets doing extensive damage. The troops charged them repeatedly, but only succeeded in dispersing them on opening fire. The strikers then assembled in large numbers in the outskirts of the city. It is feared they meditate an attack upon the factories. Troops have proceeded to the factories to be in readiness for an emergency.

A serious collision between the troops and the strikers occurred today at San Martin, a village in the suburbs. Here the troops fired on the mob, killing three and wounding six. At Badalona the mob attacked the gandarmes and the cavalry who were protecting the street car service and a serious melee followed in which one person was killed and three were wounded. At Sabadell, also in the suburbs, the strikers burned the octroi tax offices and a convent.

Troops have been sent to Sabadell and to other places to suppress the disorders.

Anarchists Are Responsible.

VIENNA, Feb. 18.—In the reichsrath today the premier, Dr. Von Koerber, made a vigorous defense of the actions of the police and military at Trieste during the recent riots, contending that anarchists and not workmen were at the bottom of the trouble. The premier further asserted that an investigation had resulted in establishing, beyond doubt, the fact of the existence of a terrorist organization, whose creed was absolute lawlessness, and against which the whole force of the defensive powers of the state must be directed. The governor of Triest, the premier said, acted in accordance with his duty in proclaiming martial law and the police and military authorities had shown much tact and good will in performing their difficult duties. Martial law would be withdrawn as soon as public order was restored and not before.

Blue Jackets Landed.

After a heated debate and violent socialist denunciations of the troops and governor of Triest a government bill authorizing the establishment of martial law passed its first reading and it was decided to appoint a committee instructed to report on the Triest disturbance within a week.

TRIEST, AUSTRIA, Feb. 18.—Three Austrian warships have arrived here and have landed blue jackets to protect the harbor.

LEGITIMATE MINING THE SAFEST AND MOST PROFITABLE BUSINESS IN THE WORLD

BETWEEN THE PORTLAND AND INDEPENDENCE PAR VALUE GOLD MINING CO.

Comstock Mine Produced	$600,000,000
Ophir, Sold for $80,000, Produced	55,000,000
Ontario, Sold for $22,500, Produced	36,000,000
Homestake, Sold for $15,000, Produced	50,000,000
Cripple Creek, Opened in 1891, Has Produced	130,000,000

The Par Value Gold Mining Company is an established going concern, with six mines located in the best districts in the world at work, ore in sight and shipments about to begin. They are developed by over 2,000 feet of underground work and have had nearly $100,000 expended on them. Two are located on Battle Mountain, and one at Wilbur, Cripple Creek district. The six properties contain 600 acres.

They are equipped with requisite plants of machinery and have shafts down ranging from 100 to 500 feet and various drifts on each of the mines aggregating over 2,000 feet of development work on the whole.

The company's two Battle mountain mines, one of which is on the Monument claim, adjoining or surrounded by the Portland, Independence, Gold Coin, Granite, Dillon and Mary Cashen is situated in the center of this group like the core of an apple, and within a distance of 1,500 feet from the farthest shaft of any of them and only 380 feet from the nearest, while the ground of both the Independence and the Portland comes up to within a short distance of its lines.

This mine, on which 18 months' work has been done, is down 284 feet, with a shaft 169 feet south on the 200-foot level and 50 feet north on the 284-foot level, from which the superintendent expects to be shipping ore in a few days.

The Mary Alice mine of the company on Battle mountain is between and adjoins both the Portland and the Independence. Its shaft is down 500 feet and drifts are now being run in the direction of the Portland and the Independence veins, with the expectation of cutting them within a very short time and shipping ore.

The Portland mine has produced over $12,500,000 since it started and is paying $720,000 per year in dividends, with an inexhaustible amount of mineral in sight. Stratton's Independence sold for $11,000,000 and has paid over $7,000,000 in dividends. Both the Par Value and Mary Alice mines are equipped with complete plants of machinery for working to a depth of 700 feet.

The company's property at Wilbur, four miles south of Battle mountain, comprises 120 acres, has shafts and tunnel and gives every promise of becoming a very great property.

The Massasoit mine of the company, located at Cedar Fort, Utah, comprises 340 acres and is being rapidly developed by shafts and other underground work.

The Mary Hunter is located in the same locality between the Great Mercur and Bingham mines, has a large amount of development work done and is a very promising property of 120 acres.

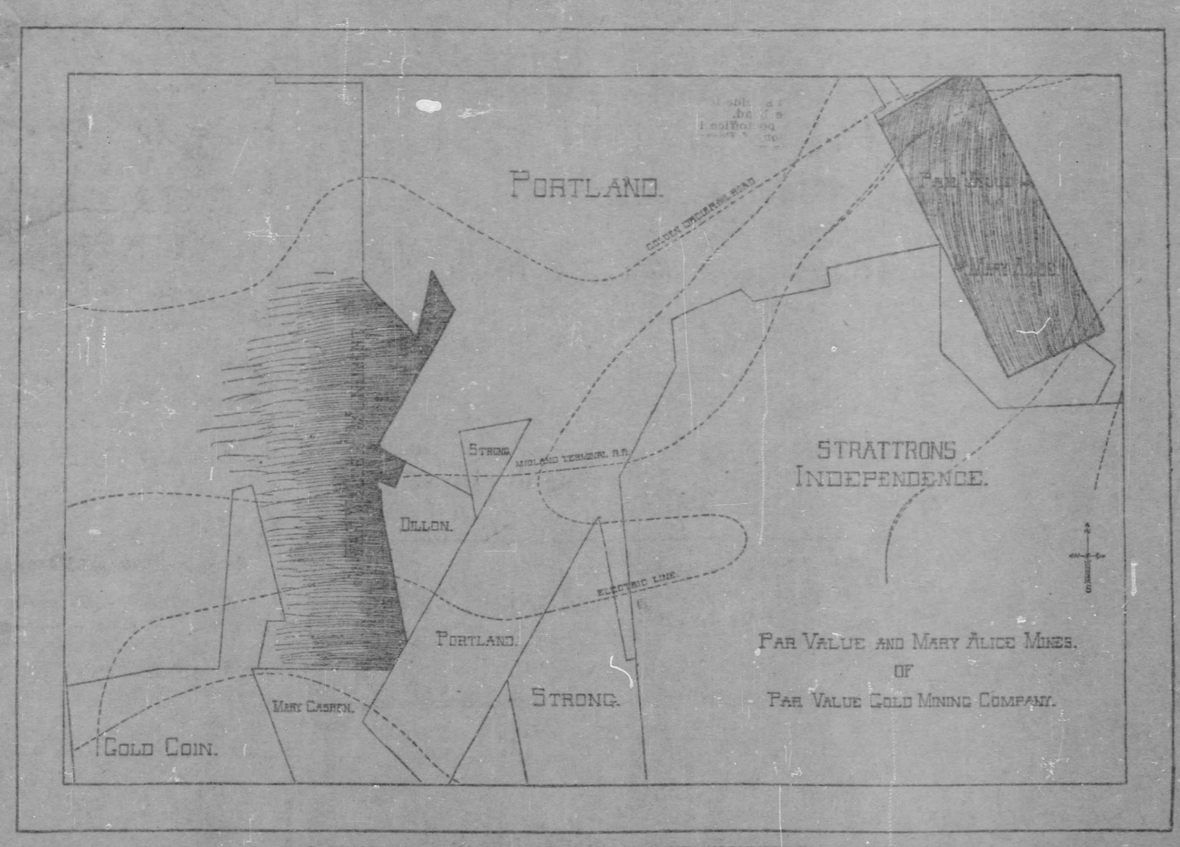
The Idaho mine of the company is located in Caribou, Col., and is opened by a 225-foot shaft and drifts. Over $400,000 worth of ore has been taken from this mine and the company is now exploring it for lost veins.

It has been the policy of the Par Value Company from the outset to gradually add to its holdings, thereby increasing the value of its stock and the management believe that once its properties reach the point of production the returns will exceed all expectations.

At the same rate of progress which the Par Value Company has made in the last 18 months, it will become one of the largest and strongest mining concerns in the country, and that is its purpose. It has increased from 1-3 of an acre to 600 acres, and from one operation requiring $500 per month to carry on, to six mines taking $2,500 per month.

The capital stock of the Par Value Gold Mining Company is $1,000,000 in shares of $1 each, full paid and non-assessable. The stock is registered by the Guarantee Trust and Safe Deposit Company of Philadelphia. The depository of the company is the National Bank of Delaware at Wilmington.

The below letter and telegram from the superintendent of the original property of the company shows the company is in ore to get which it has worked 18 months on this particular piece of ground and spent many thousands of dollars. It is an event of the greatest importance to the company.



MAP SHOWING MARY ALICE AND PAR VALUE (MONUMENT) MINES.

Victor, Colo., Feb. 11, 1902.

Mr. JOS. H. REALL, President Par Value Mining Co.

Dear Sir:—Our 280-foot drift measures 50 feet north from the shaft, and while the values are steadily increasing they are as yet spotted, which shows the values are either in some small seams or in small bunches in the vein, which is most always the case before entering the ore body. I think it only a matter of a few feet to reach the ore; I measured our surface ground and find we have 165 feet north to our end line; that leaves 115 feet yet to drive. I will drive 60 feet yet before driving the cross-cut to cut the Stonehouse ore shoot, provided it does not dip into our ground before we get that distance.

I have three men sinking the winze and an engineer. I took samples of the ore this morning and will have them assayed today and enclose results. We will have out a nice little shipment by the 1st and I think by that time or earlier we will be shipping from the 280-foot drift. I will only sink a winze about 8 feet on the ore, for we can mine the ore as soon as we cut it from our 280-foot drift for about one-fifth the expense. I did not assay the rich streak.

Yours truly,
O. C. HANSBROUGH, Supt.

The Par Value is largely a home enterprise, over 50 per cent of the stockholders and directors living in Pittsburgh and vicinity and comprising representative merchants, manufacturers, professional men.

This is a rare opportunity to secure stock in an established, proven and working enterprise, and after this allotment is sold none can be had from the company, while the moment the shipment of ore begins, which is expected to occur any day at one or more of the company's mines, it will have a largely increased value and demand.

A limited amount of the Treasury Stock of the Par Value Company is offered for sale at 50 cents per share, full paid and non-assessable to complete the development work and for company purposes. It furnishes a rare opportunity to secure stock in proven mines with the largest possibilities for profit, and handsome dividends on the investment. Now is the time to order.

The Par Value is the best mining proposition that can be presented, integrity, experience of management, location, value of property, price of shares and work going on considered.

ELECTION ...VER, ANOTHER ...IS IN PROGRESS

GRAND LAW COURT TEMPLE

Largest Building in the World Is in Brussels—An Itinerary Full of Intensely Interesting Places—Rules of Contest.

The election for city, borough and township officers being over, there is no contest before the people except that of the teachers for the magnificent tour of Europe offered by The Pittsburgh Gazette and The Chronicle Telegraph. There is no such bitterness in this campaign as in that which closed yesterday in Pittsburgh and there will be no postscripts. It is just a fair, open competition, to decide upon twenty-five teachers in the public schools who are to have six weeks of pleasure and instruction during the summer vacation.

This contest is almost as interesting as the city campaign just closed and will grow in earnestness since the other is ended. The offer is a remarkably liberal one and the regulations fair, so everyone has a chance to take part.

Among the interesting public buildings that will be seen by the teachers on their tour is the Palais de Justice, at Brussels, the largest building in the world. It covers an area of 270,000 square feet and is surmounted by a dome-shaped tower 400 feet high. The enormous area of the building, however, gives it the appearance of being rather low, so it affords a striking contrast to the modern American skyscraper in contour.

The details of the building are massive and the ornamentation includes huge blocks of polished and sculptured marble, lending the whole edifice an aspect of indescribable richness. This building has the neighbors, for Brussels is a well built city, but it is distinct in style and aspect from all the others. It is a building not soon to be forgotten by one who has seen it.

One Thing Among Thousands.

Yet it is but one thing among thousands to be seen by the teachers who will tour Europe as guests of The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph. There will be ample opportunity to compare it with the splendid palaces of London, Paris and other European cities; with the cathedrals and the city halls which abound along the route, presenting examples of the world's finest architecture. There will always be, of course, mental comparison with the great buildings of the dear native land temporarily left behind.

This grand temple of the law courts of Belgium cost over $10,000,000, which, to be appreciated, must be measured by the standard of a country where the wages of labor are not more than half what they are here. It probably answers the purposes for which it is intended no better than the Allegheny court house, but it is an impressive edifice from an artistic or financial point of view.

A tour that includes so many objects of surpassing interest as that proposed by The Pittsburgh Gazette and The Chronicle Telegraph is worth extraordinary efforts to secure, especially in a contest where the losers lose nothing they had before entering the campaign. It will be personally conducted, giving the tourists the advantage of experience in avoiding waste of time over trivial things of no permanent value. Wherever possible carriages will be employed to shorten the time between places worthy of consideration. The chief advantage in traveling under the guidance of a traveler of experience is the saving of time so often devoted to things that might just as well not be seen.

The teacher tourists will have the best of experience in getting what is worth while out of the expedition, and where there is so much to be seen no moment should be wasted.

Rules to Be Observed.

Ballots must be voted in series; those of one series must be deposited before midnight of the day the succeeding series begins. Every must be filled out legibly with full name of teacher, school where employed, town and county. They should be kept in good condition and sent in flat, not rolled or crumbled. If torn or mutilated they will not be counted.

The tour will be of more than six weeks' duration. Starts at Pittsburgh July 3; leaves New York July 5, by Atlantic transport line steamer; arrive London July 15; Antwerp, July 19; Brussels, July 20; Amsterdam, July 23; Cologne, July 24; Mayence, July 25; Heidelberg, July 26; Lucerne, July 28; The Rigi, July 29; Interlaken, July 30; Paris, August 1; London, August 6; Highlands, August 8; Glasgow, August 8. Leave Glasgow by Anchor Line steamer Columbus, August 9, expect to arrive in New York August 17.

Who Will Be Taken.

The party will be composed of 25 teachers of the public schools, i. e., persons engaged in teaching in schools supported by public funds. There will be appointed as follows: Twelve from the cities of Pittsburg and Allegheny, six from Allegheny county outside of the two cities, and seven from those counties in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia outside of Allegheny county but within the territory covered by the daily deliveries of The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph. They will be elected by the readers of these papers. Those having the largest votes in their respective divisions will be declared elected.

All expenses of the tour will be borne by The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph and those papers will give each teacher on the party $50 in cash to gratify individual tastes. Representatives of the papers will accompany the party to arrange routes and look after the comfort of the party.

The contest will close May 31, and the result will be announced as soon after all of the votes are in as possible. Ballots from The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph will count one vote each, and those from The Sunday Gazette will count five votes each. The ballots will be found at the top of the second page in this issue, and attention is directed to the terms and conditions printed thereon. The terms ballot, including border, must be Councils Will Meet—Allegheny select council will meet this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The common branch meets tomorrow night.

Will Elect Officers—The annual meeting of the Sunday School association of Braddock will be held in the English Lutheran church tonight. Officers will be elected.

Young Sworn In—James S. Young was sworn into office yesterday as United States district attorney by Judge Joseph Buffington. Daniel B. Heiner, his predecessor, introduced him to the court. Mr. Young's commission dates from February 10 and runs for four years.

Took Carbolic Acid—Pearl Gordon, 22 years of age, of No. 101 Craig street, Allegheny, took carbolic acid. She was taken to the Allegheny General hospital, where her condition is critical. Two girls who attempted to take the bottle of acid from her were badly burned on the hands.

Pastor Has Resigned—The Rev. A. H. Smith, pastor of the First Reformed church, McKeesport, has tendered his resignation. He assigns no reason for his retirement, only that he prefers to labor in other fields. There is some talk of the congregation being dissolved. Mr. Smith has been pastor for the past six years.

Brick Company Is Formed—The Monongahela Valley Brick Company is now formed by Pittsburghers to produce 50,000 brick daily near Monongahela City. The company will be capitalized at $50,000 and under a Pennsylvania charter to be secured this month. Joseph Mc... Speer will be president, James R. Taylor, vice president, and J. Ramsey Speer, secretary and treasurer.

Strike Was Called Off—President Patrick Dolan of the Pittsburgh organization of the United Mine Workers has called off the strike of the men employed by the Marine Coal Company at Fayette City. The limit on mine carloads, over which the miners went on strike a few weeks ago, was not definitely adjusted, pending some improvements which the company will make at the plant.

Activity at Opening—E. H. Sothern's opening at the Alvin Monday night has caused great activity at the box office. Orders are pouring in, and the sale, which opens tomorrow, promises to be the record one of the season. "If I Were King" is no ordinary success. "The Prisoner of Zenda" did not enjoy bigger popularity while the weekly receipts averaged $1,000 less. The cast of "If I Were King" numbers between 20 and 40 especially selected artists, and over 100 extras are required, besides a Parisian ballet. There are also many small parts. "If I Were King" is said to contain more comedy than pathos and gives Mr. Sothern the finest opportunities he has ever known. The scenes are laid in the fifteenth century, in old Paris, and the part Mr. Sothern plays is that of Francis Villon, poet and adventurer, who preceded the famous D'Artagnan by a hundred years.

Two Novel Methods—Anton Pavak, of No. 1631 East Ohio street, Allegheny, attempted suicide yesterday morning in two ways. He first tried to cut off his head with a hatchet, which was taken from him after he had inflicted a number of bad wounds. He then broke away from the men holding him and tried to crawl into a heated bake oven. The police had arrived by this time and he was locked up.

Deaths of a Week—There were 134 deaths in the city last week, the principal causes being: Pneumonia 25, consumption 10, typhoid fever 5, scarlet fever 7 and violence 19, of which 4 were suicides. Thirty-one were children under 1 year of age and 21 between 1 and 10 years. Ten died in the West Penn hospital, 7 in Mercy hospital and 5 in the Homeopathic. The coroner held inquests into 26 of the deaths. Six cases of typhoid fever and 4 of scarlet fever were reported to the bureau of health yesterday.

Another Smallpox Case—Albert Payne, a colored man, 24 years of age, was removed from a house in Woodville avenue, Thirty-fifth ward, yesterday afternoon and taken to the Municipal hospital, suffering with smallpox. On February 6 Roy Leadlepp was taken from the same house and Payne, with two others, was quarantined. The disease showed on him yesterday and Dr. B. A. Booth had him removed. The other persons in the house are not ill, but are still quarantined.

"The Bohemian Girl"—A large audience was present at Manager E. J. McCullough's Empire theater last evening, and if the hearty applause bestowed upon the artists counts for anything the beautiful opera of "The Bohemian Girl" was thoroughly enjoyed. The opera was well mounted and the various roles were delightfully assumed. The new people in the cast were Mabel Day as Arline, Sig. Pachi as Thaddeus and Della Nevins as the Queen. "Il Trovatore" will be presented this afternoon and "Carmen" tonight.

SHEET STEEL MEN HELD CONFERENCE

DISCUSSED FURNACE PROJECT BUT REACHED NO DECISION.

Representatives of 17 Manufacturers Operating 75 Plants Took Part in the Meeting—Will Attempt to Get in Wage Conferences With Amalgamated.

Representatives of 17 sheet manufacturing concerns met yesterday at the Hotel Lincoln to further their project for concerted action to arrange for a supply of steel and sheet bars. The project to erect furnaces and steel mills to give a sufficient supply of raw material was discussed, but no definite action taken pending an adjourned conference today.

The sheet manufacturers represented, operating upward of 75 sheet mills, have formed a temporary organization by the election of W. L. Giessner of the Laughlin Nail Company, Martins Ferry, O., chairman, and A. F. Baumgarten of Pittsburgh, vice president of the Maryland Sheet and Steel Company, Cumberland, Md., secretary.

Some of the manufacturers are averse to the proposition of going into a project involving heavy expenditure for mills to supply raw material. They contend that present conditions will not last.

Arrangements were considered for getting an additional supply of sheet bars from abroad, principally from German mills, to tide over the present shortage.

Some of the manufacturers attending the meeting yesterday said positively that a steel mill would not be erected by these interests and others were just as positive that it would be. John W. Carnahan, president of the Stark Iron and Steel Company and the Carnahan Tin Plate Company of Canton, O., is the head of a new steel mill enterprise, including furnaces and it was proposed to enlarge this proposition so as to take care of all.

Some of the interests represented at the meeting yesterday are covered in their sheet bar requirements for most of this year and look with disfavor on the proposition to invest in new and costly plants. It is expected that these interests will finally organize today.

One of the objects is to obtain recognition for the independent sheet interests in the annual wage conferences with the Amalgamated association. While some of the independents observe the Amalgamated scale they have not been represented in the wage conferences since the formation of the Amalgamated Sheet Steel Company.

It was denied by several in interest that it is proposed to merge the independents into a new stock company to act in opposition to the present big constituent of the United States Steel Corporation.

Among those present at the meeting yesterday, besides those mentioned, were J. C. Whitaker and Morgan Bleiskell of Wheeling, William F. Bonnell of Cleveland, Myron S. Case of Bowling Green, O.; O. D. Hogue of Canton, O.; E. Stanford of Conshohocken, Pa.; F. J. Patterson of Waukesha, Wis.; W. W. Irvin of Canton, O.; D. W. Patton, F. W. Butler and T. L. Sleeker, Akron, O.; Charles A. Snelling, Canton, O.; H. L. Duncan and J. F. Dukes, Pittsburgh.

The Allegheny Iron and Steel Company and Zug & Co. of Pittsburgh were among the important interests not represented.

AWARDS MADE AT POULTRY SHOW

ATTENDANCE GOOD AND EXHIBITS FAVORABLY COMMENTED

Judges Passed on Merits of White Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes and Minorcas—One of Adjudicators Says Classes Are Best He Has Ever Seen.

The exhibits at the poultry show in Old City hall were rearranged yesterday and showed in better light. The exhibitors expressed themselves as satisfied. The attendance yesterday was good and the visitors seemed well pleased with the exhibits. Selling has been light, both purchaser and seller desiring to hold off until after the awards have been made, the former in the hope of securing better stock and the latter a better price. John L. Close of Hagerstown, Md., superintendent of the Hagerstown show, was a visitor yesterday. He was well pleased with the exhibit, and said it compared favorably with the eastern shows. M. D. Wertz of Cleveland, judge of the Plymouth Rocks, said last night that the classes of Plymouth Rocks are the best he has ever seen.

Owing to the late start not many awards were made yesterday. Following are the prizes awarded:

White Plymouth Rocks—Cock, first, Charles McClave; White Plymouth Rock—Cock, first, Charles McClave; hen, first, Martin J. Ayres; second, G. H. Hilderbrand, Jr.; third, Charles McClave; fourth, G. H. Accused Financier Gives Bail.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 18.—Robert M. Snyder, the Kansas City financier for whom a bench warrant was issued by the grand jury Saturday charging bribery in the Central Traction cases, reached here from New York and has given bond in the sum of $3,000 for appearance in court.

Louisville Factory Burned.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Feb. 18.—The plant of the Louisville Bolt & Iron Company was destroyed by fire today, entailing a loss of $100,000. Insurance $48,000. The flames were started by the explosion of a pipe carrying crude oil to the furnaces, scattering the burning oil in every direction.

BROOM PRICES ADVANCE.

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—Seventy-five delegates of the Broom Manufacturers' Association of the United States and Canada today began a discussion at the Grand Pacific hotel that is expected to result in a horizontal raise of at least 10 per cent in the price of brooms.

The association, which represents almost 90 per cent of the broom output of the country, was called to this special meeting for the purpose of getting better prices for brooms, an advance being contested. It is explained, by the increase in the cost of broom corn.

The officers present were: Will Lang, Pittsburgh, president; Milo Lee, Lincoln, Neb., vice president; Charles C. Graham, Columbus, O., secretary and treasurer.

STAR WITNESS OF PROSECUTION TELLS HIS STORY

PATRICK TEMPTED HIM

Offered Him $250 to Swear That Signature on a Letter Was That of His Employer—Was Afraid to Swear Falsely and Refused.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—After several days of examination and cross-examination of experts new interest in the trial of Albert T. Patrick, accused of the murder of William Marsh Rice, was aroused late in the afternoon when Charles F. Jones, Mr. Rice's valet, who has been charged with being the tool of Lawyer Patrick in compassing the death of the millionaire, was put upon the stand by the state.

When Jones walked into the court room he seemed weak and rather ill at ease. As he began his testimony, however, he became more self-possessed. Jones said he was employed by Rice in Houston, Tex., and came with him to New York in May, 1897. He did Rice's clerical work and wrote his checks. Patrick, he said, called at Rice's apartments in October, 1899, to see Rice and said his name was Smith. Rice was in bed and the defendant said he would call again. This he did about a week later.

Patrick Visits Rice Home.

"It was about 8 o'clock in the evening," said Jones. "I saw him in the parlor. Mr. Rice was in the back room. He spoke of Texas news. Either at that visit or one paid a week later Patrick talked about the trial of the claim against Mr. Rice under the will of Mrs. Rice. He seemed much interested and asked if the case had been settled. He said the evidence was very strong in favor of Mr. Holt.

"On his second visit, I think, he told me he was Mr. Holt's lawyer. He told me the terms of a settlement had been arranged and said if I would write it out on the typewriter he would get it signed. He gave me a sheet of paper with it, writing in pencil that he wanted copies.

"Did Mr. Rice see Patrick?" asked Mr. Osborne, for the state.

"He opened the door while Patrick was talking to me. I don't think he recognized him.

"Patrick said he thought it would be a good thing to have some old friend write a letter to Mr. Rice suggesting a compromise. He spoke of Col. Whittlesey, but I told him Judge Hill was the only man who had any influence with Mr. Rice. Patrick said he was sure he could get a compromise if he could get an interview with Mr. Rice. But I told him Mr. Rice would not see him if he wanted to talk about the suit."

Led by Mr. Osborne, Jones described the letter Patrick wanted him to write. The letter was to state that Mr. Rice had lost confidence in his Texas lawyer, but that he loved Texas and wanted to return there and wanted the litigation settled. In reply to Mr. Osborne's question Jones said:

Jones Afraid of Perjury.

"Patrick was to give me $250 for it, but he would not give me the money unless I would go on the witness stand and swear that Rice signed it. I refused to give him the letter.

"Patrick told me Mr. Holt had given him $500 and had promised him $10,000 when a settlement of the litigation was effected."

"Why did you not agree to earn that $250?"

"I was afraid to swear falsely."

Jones will be on the stand again tomorrow.

The only other witness of the day was John F. Tyrell, a handwriting expert of Milwaukee, Wis., who was on the stand yesterday. He said the disputed signatures were made by tracing. His cross-examination by Mr. Moore was long and uninteresting and principally related to the shadings in the admitted and disputed writings.

SHORTAGE CAUSES SUICIDE

HASTINGS, NEB., Feb. 18.—Louis B. Partridge, postmaster at Kenesaw, this county, committed suicide today by shooting himself in the head.

This morning a postoffice inspector began an investigation of Partridge's books and confronted the postmaster with what he asserted was a defalcation of $1,500. Partridge made no explanation or defense, but went directly to his home and shot himself.

BRAIN FOOD

Is of Little Benefit Unless It Is Digested.

Nearly everyone will admit that as a nation we eat too much meat and too little of vegetables and the grains.

For business men, office men and clerks, and in fact everyone engaged in sedentary or indoor occupations, grains, milk and vegetables are much more healthful.

Only men engaged in a severe outdoor manual labor can live on a heavy meat diet and continue in health.

As a general rule, meat once a day is sufficient for all classes of men, women and children, and grains, fruit and vegetables should constitute the bulk of food eaten.

But many of the most nutritious foods are difficult of digestion, and it is of no use to advise brain workers to eat largely of grains and vegetables where the digestion is too weak to assimilate them properly.

It is always best to get the best results from our food that some simple and tasteless digestive should be taken after meals to assist the relaxed digestive organs, and several years' experience have proven Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to be a very safe, pleasant and effective digestive and a remedy which may be taken daily with the best results.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can hardly be called a patent medicine, as they do not act on the bowels nor any particular organ but only on the food eaten. They supply what weak stomachs lack, repair disease, and by stimulating the gastric glands increase the natural secretion of hydrochloric acid.

People who make a daily practice of taking one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal are sure to have perfect digestion which means perfect health.

There is no danger of forming an injurious habit as the tablets contain absolutely nothing but natural digestives; cocaine, morphine and similar drugs have no place in a stomach medicine, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are certainly the best known and most popular of all stomach remedies.

Ask your druggists for a 50 cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and after a week's use note the improvement in health, appetite and nervous energy.

A COMMON ERROR

It's a common error to plaster the back—to rub with liniment the rheumatic joints—and then to wonder why relief doesn't come.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

make well kidneys. They are endorsed by Pittsburgh citizens. Your own friends and neighbors have used them, and testify to their goodness. You couldn't have more positive proof.

Here is a single instance:

"A couple of years ago I had the grip, and it left me with an awful backache as a legacy. The pain was in the small of my back, and was so bad that I could not stoop without torture. I could not find rest in any position. My urine was very much affected, and gave me great pain. Nothing I tried seemed to give me relief. My sufferings were terrible. Finally I heard of Doan's Pills, and got a box. I felt the good effects after taking six doses, and in a short time was completely cured. I am now perfectly well, and I want to tell everybody about the wonderful remedy that has blessed me so."

Keystones Have the Championship Clinched

KEYSTONE WON VICTORY WITH A CRIPPLED TEAM

THE BANKERS WERE SLOW

Money Handlers Went Down by a Score of 5 to 1—Hern Played Brilliant Game, Stopping All Manner of Shots.

HOCKEY STANDING.

	Won.	Lost.	Peige.
Keystone	5	1	.667
P. A. C.	5	2	.429
Bankers	1	7	.000

With a crippled team the Keystone leaders of the local hockey league practically clinched the championship last night, defeating the Bankers by a score of 5 to 1. The loss in last night's contest cannot even tie the Keystones if the latter should lose all. The best the P. A. C. champions of former years can do by winning all while the leaders lose everything would be to tie on the regular schedule, with a standing of eight won and six lost for each while Keystone would still have the record of the protested game lost to the Bankers. This, if lost over again, would necessitate a post-season contest between Keystone and P. A. C.

Slim Chance for P. A. C.

This slim chance of a "tie," the only outcome now left outside of a Keystone championship, is figured in the basis of the leaders losing all remaining games, which is hardly even a possibility, since, as Manager Charles Miller of P. A. C. remarked last night: "If the Bankers cannot win against this crippled bunch what show have they for any of the future games?" The Keystones have one remaining game left with the Bankers and one with P. A. C. P. A. C. has two with the Bankers and one with Keystone, and the Bankers two with P. A. C. and one with Keystone.

In the game last night Keystone was weakened by the absence of Morrison and of Morphy, the former having received a broken thumb and the latter a broken nose in the game with P. A. C.

Their places were taken by Clemes, who played a star game, and Young, who returned yesterday from his home in Port Hope, Ontario, where he was recovering from a severed artery in his wrist sustained in one of the local games. His arm was not in condition to play with last night, and he received applause for pluckily remaining in the game after getting a hard rap from an opposing player's stick on the sore wrist.

Was a Great Keystone Victory.

As far as the game went last night it was one of the greatest victories of the year for Keystone, and the club's supporters were overjoyed at the overcoming of such odds. It was a skateaway for the leaders after the first 15 minutes of the first half, in which the Bankers played a hard, offensive game, forcing the contest on the Keystone ice, but lacking the perfection of team combination necessary to overcome the remarkable goal keeping of Hern.

The latter played as brilliant a game at the net as he has ever put up here, which means that the spectators fully received their money's worth, even if the score was one-sided. He had no less than 10 stops which were simply hair raisers, and again and again the verdict was heard on every side: "There's the boy that has won the championship for more than any other member of the team."

The whole Keystone aggregation played strongly on the defensive, however, and but for the fine work of Peel and Sixsmith several scores would have been made during the first half, when the Bankers were forcing the game. After scoring their first goal the Keystones for a long time contented themselves with defense tactics, on the supposition that they had a weakened team and would do well to win out by any margin. In the second half, however, the game was quite one-sided in favor of the victors and the losers seemed utterly helpless.

Peel Got an Ugly Cut.

After 10 minutes of play in the first half there was a long halt over a badly cut nose received by Peel. Under the rules governing the first half of a game, the bankers wanted to play with one man more than the Keystones, but after a long wrangle, during which the crowd stamped impatiently for play, the game was resumed, the Bankers dropping Campbell until Peel resumed with a sticking plaster covering five minutes later.

For the first goal after 12 minutes of play Rish carried the puck down and passed to Westcott, who shot it in. With about five minutes left to play of the first half Clemes carried down by a beautiful play and shot past Henderson hard and true, making the tally 2 to 0. Keystone felt that its goal was so safe during the remainder of the half that for several minutes the game went on with out a goal judge.

Westcott scored Keystone's third goal after five minutes of the second half on a pretty shot from scrimmage, 10 yards from the goal. Clemes was benched twice in this half and Sixsmith once, the only penalties of the game. Young shot the fourth goal, receiving from Westcott, who carried down the ice. Campbell shot the Bankers' sole goal, near the end of the game, receiving from Howard, who took it the length of the ice. The score and line-ups:

Keystone.		Bankers.
Hern	Goal	Richardson
Rish	Point	Henderson
Sixsmith	Cover Point	Phymister
Young	Center	Campbell
Clemes	Forward	Taylor
Peel	Left Wing	Howard
Westcott	Right Wing	Hill

WILL MEET AS USUAL.

Yale and Harvard to Continue on Friendly Terms.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Feb. 18.—It has been finally settled that Harvard and Yale will meet in baseball, track athletics and rowing this spring. Prof. Hollis, chairman of the Harvard athletic committee, tonight gave out the result of the conference between himself and Walter Camp of Yale last week. There are two main points. First, the contests this spring shall go on as usual, and if any question of eligibility shall arise it shall be settled between representatives of the two universities.

Second, there shall be a conference in the near future between representatives of the two universities, which shall among other things settle the following points: First, the term of years of the athletic agreement; second, arbitration in regard to all questions of eligibility by representatives of the two universities; third, enforcement of rules of eligibility; fourth, satisfactory channels of communication between the two universities.

High School Lost Protested Game.

The High School basketball team was defeated for the first time this season by Shadyside yesterday at the latter's gymnasium before the game High School entered a formal protest with the referee against Scritchfield's playing on the Shadyside team, as he is a player on the C. A. C. team of Braddock. High School claims the game by forfeit. The score was five to three, and fouls were numerous. The official score was Shadyside 14, High School 14. Referee, Lew Seibel. Field Lafferty, scorer. Mr. Shuffler, S. & A., and Mr. Cooter, H. S.

Jeffries Is Getting Better.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—James J. Jeffries, who a week ago rose from a severe cold era bed, is now said to be better this evening.

THE NEW PIRATE LOOKS HIS PART

"WID" CONROY IS SURE HE WILL GET A REGULAR BERTH.

Was Manager Clarke's Guest for a Day. President Dreyfuss May Organize a Pirate Hockey Team—Wants Honus Wagner to Play Goal.

"Wid" Conroy, the new Pirate, who was here on a short visit, left last night for Milwaukee, where he will visit friends until it is time for him to join the Pittsburgh team en route for training quarters at Hot Springs. Conroy will join the team in St. Louis and proceed from there to the springs.

The new Pirate is a likely looking young fellow who has absolute confidence in his ability to play fast enough ball to retain a position on the champion team. During his day's sojourn here he was the guest of Manager Clarke, who showed him about the city and wound up with a little skating party at Duquesne garden, where Conroy showed himself to be an expert on the steel blades. He left for Milwaukee shortly after 7 o'clock last night, and a few minutes later President Dreyfuss received a telegram from Harry Smith, the Pirates' new catcher, who lives over in Ohio, wanting to know if Conroy was still here, and if so he would come over to see him. This pair played together in the American league last season and were fast friends.

President Dreyfuss is thinking very seriously of making up a hockey team from his players and giving the sevens out at Duquesne garden a hustle for honors. Manager Conant has been talking the matter up with the Pirates' owner and the president thinks pretty well of the scheme. He said last night that he will have a talk with Honus Wagner, and if he can induce the Carnegie boy to play goal on the team he will organize a seven and pay all expenses for uniforms, skates, sticks, etc. There is no foolishness about the move, as both Dreyfuss and Conant are sincere in the matter.

The move has the hearty indorsement of Manager Clarke and "Deacon" Phillippi, both of whom have become experts at both skating and hockey. Manager Clarke is an enthusiast and says it is the best method of preliminary training he has ever known. Both Clarke and Phillippi are out at the garden every day and both players will accompany the Banker team to Cleveland. The pair is promised a hearty welcome by Chief Zimmer and Tommy Leach, who live over there. The chief sends word that he is going to have a little German band to give his old college chums a proper reception.

Relative to the report from Chicago as to the American league intention to invade New York with both its headquarters and a team, President Dreyfuss had very little to say. He thought if Ban Johnson's organization did intend placing a club in the metropolis it should pick out better grounds than Manhattan field, where there is a viaduct which furnishes better accommodations for a fan brigade than the grounds could possibly give. To tell the truth, he took but little stock in the story and smiled when he said: "Oh, that story comes from Chicago."

NAPIER WAS A WINNER.

Pittsburgh Boy Took a Game From Reggio—Pillsbury Also at the Front.

MONTE CARLO, Feb. 18.—Players in the international chess tournament engaged in the tenth round today. Mieses and Wolfe had byes. The games decided in the first session of the day were won by Mortimer (his first), over Eisenberg, Marshall over Mason, Gunsberg over Scheve and Teichmann over Marco.

The following additional results were recorded in the afternoon sitting: Reggio lost to Napier, Popiel defeated Albin, Pillsbury downed Janowsky, Tarrasch beat Schlechter, while Tschigorin and Maroczy adjourned their game in an even position.

There will be no regular round played tomorrow, but the drawn games from previous rounds will be replayed, as follows: Third round; Teichmann vs. Wolfe (from sixth round); Albin vs. Tarrasch and Teichmann vs. Mason (from seventh round); Eisenberg vs. Mieses (from eighth round) and Tschigorin vs. Maroczy (from tenth round); Bauer vs. Wolfe (from ninth round).

Name.	Won	Lost	Name.	Won	Lost
Albin	3½	4½	Napier	4½	5½
Eisenberg	2	6	Pillsbury	7	1½
Gunsberg	5½	4½	Popiel	4½	5½

BRADDOCK BOWLERS WON.

St. Boniface Team Was Beaten in Three Games.

The bowling matches between North Braddock and St. Boniface resulted in three victories for the former. The matches were played on the North Braddock alley and the playing of both teams was rather poor, especially that of St. Boniface. Garbett did not play up to his usual standard on account of being ill. Bonney for North Braddock, who played his second series in the league, played a fair game. The results are as follows:

WILL MEET THE WINNER.

Young Corbett Is Ready for the Ring Again.

TOLEDO, O., Feb. 18.—William Rothgell (Young Corbett) announces through his manager here today that he will be ready to meet the winner of the Sullivan-McGovern fight. He will have a representative at the ringside and will present the challenge. Corbett gives it as his opinion that McGovern will be declared the winner.

THAT CHAPTER.

"Child weak and thin—began with small doses of Scott's Emulsion three times a day—after a week appetite improved—soon a little stronger—child more lively—weighs more".

And so it goes till the child is reported well and strong.

WORST TRACK OF THE SEASON AT OAKLAND

LODESTAR A SURPRISE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—The horses ran over the worst track of the season at Oakland today. But three favorites succeeded in getting home in front. Bullman was forced to ride The Weaver, a 1 to 2 favorite, hard to beat Bassenzo in the opening event. In the mile and an eighth race The Fretter beat Wolhurst a neck after a fierce drive through the stretch. Lodestar upset calculations by suddenly regaining his speed and winning the last race from Hunnarian and Quiz II. After showing early speed Flamero, the favorite, stopped badly. Bullman and O'Connor each rode two winners.

First race, 5½ furlongs, selling—The Weaver, 116, Bullman, 1 to 2, won; Bassenzo, 114, J. Daly, 5 to 1, second; Senator Bruce, 117, F. Jones, 15 to 1, third. Time, 1:13. Sir Claus and Discovery also ran.

Second race, 7 furlongs, selling—Buck Taylor, 107, Bullman, 3 to 1, won; El Rey, 104, Bansch, 2 to 1, second; Altures, 102, Troxler, 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:35¼. George Dewey, Estrada, Satan, Chappie and Tingaling also ran.

The Weaver Made Good.

Third race, 5½ furlongs, selling—Kildoe, 98, L. Jackson, 3 to 5, won; Elkarn, 104, Bullman, 5 to 1, second; Courtier, 109, Troxler, 12 to 1, third. Time, 1:14½. Spry Lark, Wasp, Graylette and Idalette also ran.

Fourth race, 6 furlongs—Redwald, 107, O'Connor, 5 to 2, won; February, 105, Howson, 25 to 1, second; John Peters, 102, J. Woods, 7 to 5, third. Time, 1:28¼. Pompino and Gastake also ran.

Fifth race, 1⅛ miles, selling—The Fretter, 114, O'Connor, 2 to 1, won; Wolhurst, 111, L. Jackson, 2 to 1, second; Formero, 111, J. Woods, 3 to 2, third. Time, 2:00. Sam Green and Marcato also ran.

Sixth race, 7 furlongs, selling—Lodestar, 109, Birkenruth, 8 to 1, won; Hungarian, 104, Howson, 6 to 1, second; Quiz, 106, L. Jackson, 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:28. Rushfields, Flamero, Zurich, The Gaffer and Ned Dennis also ran.

Today's Entries.

HAS BASEBALL FEVER.

Irwin Will Likely Have Team in Westmoreland League.

IRWIN, PA., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—The baseball fever which broke out here some two weeks ago, is spreading and the contagion is liable to land Irwin in the Westmoreland county league. The question of a ground is practically settled and all that is now needed is a little quiet hustling to see what can be done in the way of financial support from the merchants and citizens.

Michael Maley, the proprietor of the Crescent hotel, is one of the prime movers in the project, and an effort will be made to land Burgess C. C. Rodgers at the head of the club as manager. There is no uneasiness felt about securing players, as the woods are full of good enough men to jump in and play a standard of ball good enough for the league, if they do not get foolish and "load" again and bankrupt the team. Irwin has Bojan, Radford and Porter, of last year's strong team, and can secure the services of Ferguson of East Pittsburgh and Tobe Miller, the crack Arona twirler, and also his catcher, Stichle. The ground will be a fine one and located on the line of the trolley, and should prove a paying venture.

DECAPITATED WITH A RAZOR.

Tennessee Negro Drags Man Into an Alley and Cuts His Head Off.

GALLATIN, TENN., Feb. 18.—Charley Finn, colored, grabbed a man last night, dragged him into an alley, and cut off his head with a razor. Finn was tracked with bloodhounds and captured.

Finn, a few years since, slashed Marshal George Nathiser of this city with a razor 87 times, the latter's head almost being severed from the body. For this crime Finn was sent to the state prison for two years.

TERRY'S TRICK QUITE A PUZZLER

Worked It on His Sparring Partner and Nearly Put Him Out—McGovern Is in Fine Condition, and Three Pounds Under the Weight.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 18.—The work of Terry McGovern grows harder every day, even though the battle with Sullivan is only a few days off. Today was the hardest day's training he has had, and the little fellow pulled off decidedly strong. He does not seem to mind how much work is given him or how fast it comes. He takes it all and wants more at the finish.

He went ten three-minute rounds with his three sparring partners this afternoon, punched the bag half a dozen times, used the medicine ball, rowed, skipped the rope for ten minutes, besides his dumbbell practice. In the morning he went six miles on the Oakley track and tonight stated that he never felt fresher in his life, despite the hard day he had put in.

McGovern is without doubt in better condition just now than he has ever been before in his career. He looks better and his trainers and manager say he fights better in training than ever before. He now weighs 123 pounds, while the fight is three pounds under weight he will not stop his hard work until Friday.

Terry is doing very little hard hitting with his sparring partners now, but is content to let them beat on him at will. Kid Ashe is the only one that he gives the blow for blow, and his four rounds with the colored lad are mostly roughing it about the floor. He trains in his gymnasium for two solid hours without taking as much as a five-minute rest during the entire time. The only rest that he takes is the minute between each boxing round, and then he does not sit down.

Kid Ashe was the first man to go on with him today and they knocked each other around the ring for four rounds. Terry stood most of the punishing Ashe gave him without retaliating, but he developed a movement that he hopes to make great use of when he goes up against Sullivan. It had been ascertained at the camp that Sullivan will try to do the most of the leading. When does the same thing and by a very fast backward step Terry avoids his opponent's rushes so cleverly that Ashe nearly fell upon his face, and at the same time received an uppercut. He tried this four times on Ashe yesterday afternoon and every time the trick worked to perfection.

Harris was so well pleased that he remarked that if Terry could only get one of them in on Sullivan he had no chance to lose. McGovern's wind is in perfect condition. He wound up his hard day's work not even breathing hard. Manager Harris said: "The entire camp will leave for Louisville Friday night. We will go down in a compartment car in order to make things comfortable for Terry. He will do no work whatever Saturday and will step into the ring Saturday night in the best condition that he has ever been in."

WILL INVADE NEW YORK.

Ban Johnson Admits That the Report Is True.

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—President Johnson of the American league asserted today that, while he was well pleased with Chicago, circumstances may compel him to locate the headquarters of the league in New York. According to Mr. Johnson, the move would not be from choice, but from necessity.

"The removal of our headquarters to New York might mean much to the American league," said Mr. Johnson. "Since I have been located in New York or in the east last year there is hardly any doubt but that we would now have had a club in New York. There is not the slightest doubt but that we will finally have a club in New York, and by moving down there matters might be facilitated. I have a plan which I am not ready to give out yet, as I want the directors of the league to pass on it. It is for the club owners to say whether or not we should have our headquarters in the east. This will positively be settled at the meeting in Detroit, March 5."

FILIPINO SUPERSTITION CONCERNING AGUINALDO

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 18.—Gov. Taft today continued his discussion of the question of tranquility in the Philippines before the senate committee. He said that the recent massacre of troops in Samar had a startling effect upon the army and created suspicion and fear of treachery in other sections. The governor did not think, however, such apprehension justified, and said he felt as safe in Manila as in Washington.

Speaking of Aguinaldo having Gen. Luna assassinated, Gov. Taft said that "under the common law there is no accessory in an insurrection general who could not be punished for assisting in securing the murder of other Filipinos. It is the way they have of getting rid of men who do not agree with them."

Speaking of Aguinaldo's personality, Gov. Taft said that while his name is probably known better than that of any other man in the islands, his personality is not familiar to the people.

"His capture," said he, "in the face of the general impression that he was divinely protected against capture or injury, seriously affected his prestige. Personally he is a man of dignity, though of limited education. He knows how to keep his own counsel and understands the failings of the Filipinos. He knows how to reconcile the differences of leaders and how to avoid arousing jealousy of himself. That he has any idea of civil liberty, or of any kind of liberty, I have no reason to believe."

While Manila is quiet, and has been practically so ever since the American occupation, it is still used as a center of agencies for the promotion of insurrection. There is always there a party of irreconcilables. Nothing had, he said, been done for the enactment of sedition laws until the establishment of the civil government. It then became evident that the Filipino junta was preparing to locate in that city, making that point the center for its propaganda. Gen. Wright, the referee, was directed to prepare a law on this subject and had done so. The denunciation of secret spies had been inserted, he said, because they had been made the chief instrument of agitation against the United States.

PILES CURE GUARANTEED EST. 1883.

Decide for Yourself Today.

Last week Dr. Warner asked the family physician to put aside prejudice—honestly acquired—but prejudice just the same—and before advising any patient suffering from Rectal Disease to go to the hospital for an operation, it was suggested that the physician make investigation of Dr. Warner's claims, which are that he can and does cure all Rectal ailments without the knife. This request imposes no burden upon the physician. Dr. Warner publishes week after week references from the most reputable business and professional men of this city. Each particular man in the list can be easily reached by 'phone and all will confirm without qualification the Doctor's claims.

In all likelihood few physicians will do this. "Professional ethics say: "No. Dr. Warner uses printer's ink and such procedure must be frowned down."

Suppose you, the sufferer, look into this question for yourself. After all you are the one the most interested. You want a cure, a quick, painless cure and if Dr. Warner cures Rectal ailments that way what's the odds if his method does run contrary to general practice? On your independence of action hinges your restoration to perfect health without risks and without evil after-effects. Decide for yourself today.

WANTED.

Agents.

Profitable work offered agents in every town to secure subscriptions to The Ladies' Home Journal and the Saturday Evening Post. We want agents who will work thoroughly and with business ability; we can furnish them with our illustrated little booklets and other advertising matter, and to look sharply after renewals from old subscribers. The pay is liberal and at the end of the season $20,000 will be given the best workers as extra prizes for good work. How will some of our agents have guessed? Which will be lucky? We will take pleasure to send portraits of some of our best agents, with the story of how they made it pay. The Curtis Publishing Co., Philadelphia, Pa. 117tod Pupils.

THE MARTIN SHORTHAND AND COMMERCIAL SCHOOL,

631 Penn ave., and 34 Fifth st., is conducted on CLEAN BUSINESS PRINCIPLES and that probably is one reason for its phenomenal growth during the past 20 years.

Another reason is that every one of the nine instructors are highly educated practical business men and women.

Another reason is the equipment of 20 typewriters—consisting of 10 typewriters and every facility known to the modern business college.

Another reason is that their methods appearing in advertisements or made to visitors is absolutely true.

That "Honesty is the best policy" is certainly borne out by the past record and present standing of this school.

SPEER LOT TO BE IMPROVED WITH $80,000 HOTEL

Henry Phipps Has Plans Completed for Lodging House on the Mills Plan.

$20,000 HOWE STREET SALE

Lots in Lincoln Place Sold for $10,000—Contractors Fear a Decline in Demand for Small Buildings—Good Sales Closed in Allegheny.

The Speer lot at the northeast corner of Fifth street and Duquesne way has been chosen as the site for the Mills hotel that Henry Phipps will erect the coming summer at a cost of $80,000. When the project was first announced it was stated that Mr. Phipps intended to put the hotel on a portion of his Sixth street property, but this was deemed too valuable for the purpose and the Duquesne way site was chosen instead. The plans for the new building have been drawn by New York architects and arrived in the city yesterday. They call for an eight-story building covering a lot 100x100 feet. The walls are to be of pressed brick, and the entire interior will be given a plain but very neat and substantial finish. It is probable that the building will face in Fifth street, as the lower part is to be used for storerooms. The upper floors are to be divided into about 600 rooms with spacious halls and elevators.

A Comfortable Lodging House.

It is the intention of Mr. Phipps to provide a lodging place for workingmen at a nominal price, and nothing that will contribute to their comfort or health will be omitted from the bilding. While the hotel will be somewhat on the plan of the famous Mills hotel in New York, it will have many features entirely different and will be the model building of its kind in the country.

Work on the new structure is to be begun as soon as the weather moderates, and it is expected it will be ready for occupancy by September 1.

Plans have also been prepared for the store buildings that Mr. Phipps is preparing to erect in the west side of Sixth street, where the old structures are now being torn down. These buildings will be only three stories high, but will be handsomely finished and among the best storerooms in the city.

Attorney A. Leo Weil, of the firm of Weil & Thorpe, has purchased from Elwood Johnson of Philadelphia a fine residence property in the north side of Howe street, just west of South Highland avenue, Twentieth ward. The sale is credited to W. Z. Herron & Sons, and the price was reported to have been about $20,000.

Will Remodel House.

The lot purchased faces 50 feet in Howe street and has a depth of 147 feet. The residence is a 12-room brick house of the reception hall type. This Mr. Weil will shortly remodel, adding five large rooms. He will also build a fine stable on the lot, the improvements to cost about $10,000.

Contractors and builders report that the abnormally high prices for building material and labor are likely to seriously affect the building operations in Pittsburgh and vicinity the coming summer. The falling off will be chiefly among small builders who had contemplated erecting homes for themselves or a small number of cheap houses for investment. Many estimates which have been taken in the last two weeks have been laid aside and nothing will be done with them till prices are lowered. In addition to the advance in the cost of lumber and brick carpenters and masons are demanding an increase of from 10 to 25 per cent over last spring's rates.

Through the agency of James W. Turner & Co. Poorbaugh and others have bought of Edwin C. Haslett's Lincoln Place plan additional lots on Fifth for a price approximating $10,000. The lots have an average size of 50x100 feet and face in both the east and west sides of Risher avenue. The purchasers are preparing to build five or more five and six-room frame houses on the lots. They will also extend the gas and water mains to the property.

Another Flat Building.

The Union Realty Company sold for Clarence Wolf to J. M. Swalley a lot, 50x170 feet, in Clyde street, near Fifth avenue, Twentieth ward, for $9,000. It is understood that Mr. Swalley, whose home is in Chicago, contemplates the erection of a modern three-story flat building on the property to cost not less than $15,000.

The Union Realty Company also sold for C. B. Dresser to Thomas Lewis a lot, facing 25 feet in the east side of Pride street, near Forbes street, and having a depth of 64 feet, for $4,250. The lot is improved with a two-story frame house.

The same brokers also sold for John W. Alexander of Hannibal, O., to Oscar Richards a lot, 34x96 feet, at the corner of Granada street and Davis avenue, Eleventh ward, Allegheny, for $2,800. A two-story frame house stands on the lot.

W. A. Herron & Sons sold for Jacob Spielman the property at 406 Pacific avenue, Twentieth ward, for $7,500. The lot measures 47x108 feet and is improved with a 12-room frame house. The purchaser, whose name was withheld, is a Smithfield street merchant, who bought for a home.

Two Small Sales.

The same brokers sold for W. B. Mason to Jane R. Wilson a lot, 20x135 feet, in Negley avenue, Twenty-third ward, for $1,500. The lot is improved with a small frame house. Also for Miss Mary I. Laughlin to Mrs. Kate Loftus a vacant lot, 20x100 feet, in Keystone street, Eleventh ward, for $800. The purchaser will build on the property.

J. P. Donovan & Co. sold for Adam Smith to Attorney R. P. Tannehill a lot, 40x150 feet, in the north side of Perrysville avenue, near Marshall avenue, Tenth ward, Allegheny, for $2,200. The purchaser will improve with a $5,500 brick house. The same brokers sold for George Kaer to W. F. Fraser a lot, 82x230 feet, in the south side of Wabash avenue, extending through to Broadway street, Fifteenth ward, Allegheny, for $6,000.

Michael Springer sold to Daniel W. Challis one acre of ground in Blackburn road, Sewickley hills, from Seward Negley, for $1,850. The property adjoins the Cathawood residence property and has erected on it a small frame house. Mr. Challis will divide it into 50-foot lots and place them on the market in the spring.

Morgan Street House Sold.

Howard, Brown & Bro. sold for D. Howard Brown to Hermann G. Jones, a lot, 20x75 feet, with seven-room frame house erected thereon in Morgan street, Thirteenth ward, for $2,900.

E. A. Gibson & Co. sold the Esther A. Porter farm of 127 acres, situated three and one half miles from Steubenville, O., for $5,000. The farm is improved with a six-room house and barn and outbuildings and has a large amount of fruit in full bearing. The purchaser is from Washington county.

J. H. Peckfield & Co., Allegheny, sold for H. Fenstermacher to Jacob Kuhn a lot, 24x120 feet, with a two-story frame dwelling, situated on the east side of North Third street, Duquesne. Consideration $1,400.

Pearson & Kirschler sold for Dennis Shanahan to C. Albina Starkamp the property at 816 Pennsylvania avenue, near Irwin avenue, Second avenue, Allegheny, for $3,000. The lot measures 19x103 feet and is improved with an eight-room brick house.

Avalon House Purchased.

The Allegheny Real Estate Company sold for J. H. Watt to James L. Graham Jr. an eight-room frame house, lot 34x129 feet, in the north side of Florence avenue, near Chestnut street, Avalon.

C. F. Weitershausen sold to August Franke two lots, 26x135 feet, in the Millers Plateau plan of lots. The purchaser will improve by building. The same brokers sold to Max Abel a lot, 25x158 feet, Ella avenue, Tenth ward, Allegheny, for $750 cash.

Architect R. C. Vandevort, Allegheny, has closed bids on a $5,000 three-story brick apartment house, 35x60 feet, for Anthony Deeringer in Pius street, South Side. He is also taking bids on an eight-room frame house to be erected for John Kaechele in Beltzhoover borough, at a cost of $3,000.

Deals in Farm Property.

A. C. McComb & Co. have made an exchange deal by which William S. Lang of Braddock trades his farm of 128 acres in Trumbull township, Ashtabula county, O., together with the stock and equipment, to Harry E. Osborne of this city, for an improved property in West Pittsburgh and another located in McKees Rocks. The farm is valued at $11,000 and the other property at $8,000, the difference being paid in cash. Mr. Osborne will improve and occupy the farm, which is one of the finest in the county.

The same firm have also sold a truck farm in Plum township containing eight acres for Mrs. Christiane Schwedes to Joseph Becker of Sharpsburg, the consideration being $2,500. Also an 18-acre farm in Buffalo township, Butler county, for Rosan Hemphill, Tarentum, Pa., to James Hogan, the consideration being $1,000.

"MANRU" AT PHILADELPHIA

Paderewski's New Opera Received With Enthusiasm by City of Brotherly Love.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 18.—The local season of grand opera under the management of Maurice Grau closed tonight with a performance of "Manru," interpreted by the same cast that sang the opera in New York last week, when it was given its first production in America. A large and enthusiastic audience was present and the opera made a decided hit.

The season just closed is announced to be the most successful artistically and financially that has thus far been given in Philadelphia.

PRESIDENT'S NEW PARROT.

The Accomplished Bird Can Both Sing and Dance.

NEWPORT, R. I., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—President Roosevelt is to have a new parrot. It was owned and trained by Edward Ash, a bird fancier of Newport, and is one of the smartest of its species. It is a fine specimen of an African grey, which are very scarce in this country. Its name is Cora, which it spells with deliberation. It sings and dances and is likely to arouse the White House any morning by shouting "Mike, bring me a light." Mike was Cora's boon companion in Mr. Ash's home.

The parrot will greet the president every morning with a cheery "How do you do?" and proceed to converse with him in the most accomplished manner.

THE THREE RIVERS.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Feb. 18.—River at 6 p. m., 9.8 feet and falling very slowly. Weather clear, mild and pleasant. The sun is not as heavy as in the past few days. Capt. Brasmore and a crew gave an imitation of Gen. Washington crossing the Delaware today. The party went out in a yawl above the Southern bridge and dropped to the Ludlow landing of the combine. The feat attracted much attention. Work on the contemplated improvements of the Queen City marine ways will begin in a few days. The improvements will allow work to proceed at a 60-foot stage of water. Capt. H. H. Fenton of the steamer Levi J. Warkum, was a visitor today. His boat is in the ice harbor at Petersburg. She will do light ferry work between Petersburg and Lawrenceburg until navigation opens.

LOUISVILLE—River on a stand; canal, 5 feet; falls, 3 feet; foot of locks, 8 feet. No boats or business. Weather clear and cool. Departed—Nonderlamp. Two boats left Cincinnati today. No ice floating in the harbor or below the falls. A gorge extending from towhead some distance up has formed. Nothing but a steamer will get through Coal Chute Pitt and Aid are fighting the gorge above so that coal can be brought over to the city from Pumpkin Patch. Capt. R. E. Lee Cant. T. E. Lee and their two sisters of Memphis, are here and leave tonight for Europe on an extended tour.

WHEELING—River closed with 10 feet of water. Cold, light snow.

OIL CITY—River 7 feet 3 inches and falling. Weather cloudy and cold.

WARREN—River 9 feet. Weather cloudy and cold.

BROWNSVILLE—River closed. Weather cloudy.

PARKERSBURG—River 4.7 feet and falling. Weather cloudy and cold. River gorged almost solid from Parkersburg to Wheeling.

GREENSBORO—River 6 feet 11 inches and falling. River closed. Weather fair and cold.

GALLIPOLIS—River 6 feet 5 inches and falling. Weather cloudy and cold.

MORGANTOWN—River 8 feet and closed. Weather cloudy and cold.

STEUBENVILLE—River 4 feet and stationary. Weather snowing and cold.

BOOTH'S FLAT—River 4 feet 7 inches and falling. Weather cloudy and cold.

WANT THE SILLS LOWERED.

Those at Davis Island Dam Must Be Dropped Three Feet.

Capt. W. L. Sibert, who was called to Washington Monday night to appear before the river and harbor committee, will enlighten the committee on the need of certain improvements at the Davis island dam. The lock sills at the dam will have to be lowered on account of the fact that the sills are about three feet higher than they should be.

When dam No. 2 is finished, barges and coal boats cannot be taken into the second pool with the sills so far above the bottom of the lock, and this the rivermen want remedied. Unless the change is made such conditions will exist when No. 2 dam is in place. While it will be several years before this dam is in working order the rivermen want to have sufficient money appropriated in the forthcoming river and harbor bill to carry with it sufficient funds to do the work. Other improvements at Davis island are contemplated. Capt. Sibert will also instruct the committee further in the needs of improvements on the Monongahela river.

News of the Rivers.

It is said that the Peoples Coal Company marketed 325 flats of coal during the month of January.

The towboat John W. Alles is being raised and it is thought that the boat's hull will stand repairing.

Upson Sons sold the old steamer Emma Etheridge at Greenville, Miss., to St. Louis parties, who, it is said, bought her for junk.

Capt. "Lon" Craig, commander of the Steel Queen, is again off duty. He fell down an icy flight of steps and injured his back.

Capt. Hook Henry P. Jones, which sank last week near Glenwood, was floated yesterday and was hauled on the docks for repairs.

Capt. Isaac B. Williams, the local steamboat inspector of hulls, spent yesterday at the Armstrong cork factory inspecting life preservers.

The present winter has been a long, dull, tough time for steamboats and a severe blow to river men who are dependent upon navigation for a living.

Capt. George H. Atkinson, the local inspector of boilers, is confined to his home on account of sickness. He expects to be able to come to his office today.

The Louisville harbor fleet, including the Transit, Wash Gray and Aid, was worked incessantly to keep the ice from forming permanently across the head of the canal tunnel.

The packet Rose Hite, which was caught in an ice gorge at Blair yesterday, shifted her position somewhat and rested on a bar at the mouth of Peters creek. She is still fast in the ice.

There will be a special meeting of the members of Harbor No. 25, Masters and Pilots, tomorrow at 10 a. m. It is announced that the meeting will be the most important one ever held and a full attendance is desired.

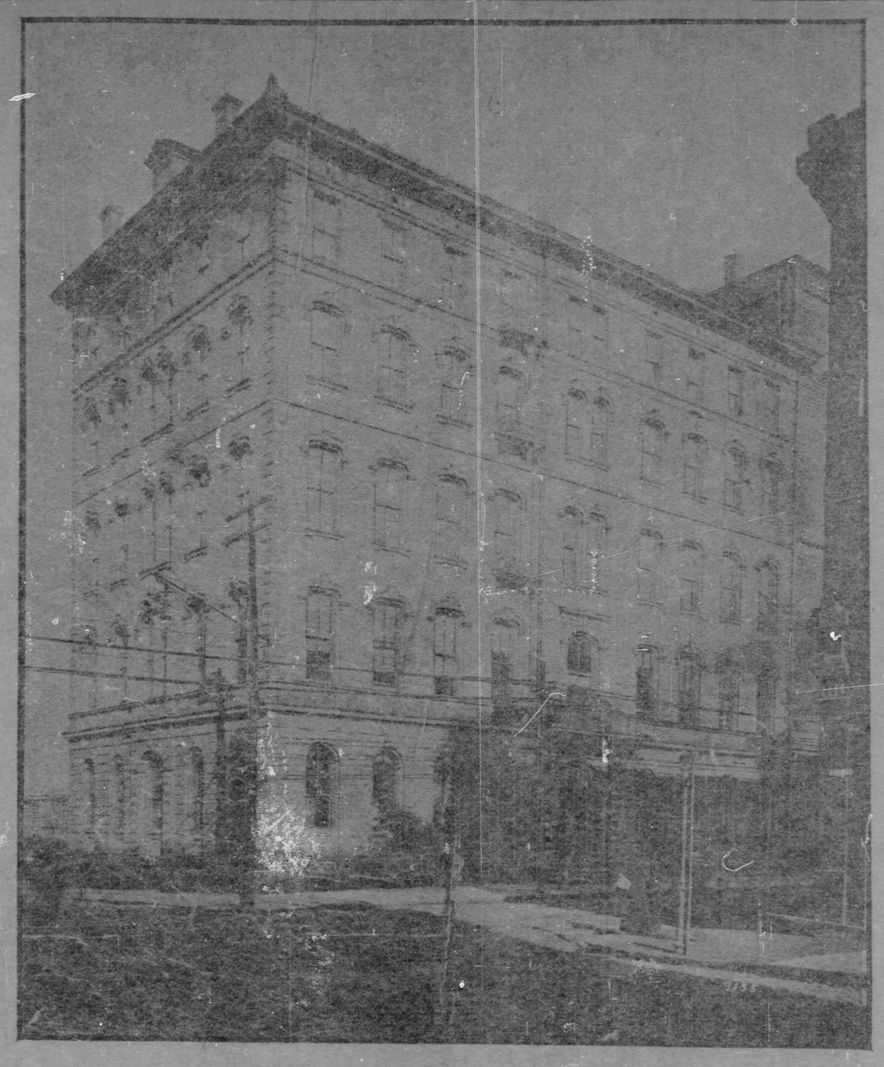
The towboat Oakland, owned by the Peoples Coal Company, arrived at New Orleans yesterday, making another quick trip from Louisville. The J. B. Finley and Joseph B. Williams, owned by the coal combination, are two days out from Memphis.

Within a few months there will be two new packets in the Memphis trade. The Howards are building in their yards at Jeffersonville, Ind., a splendid new boat for the Lee line, which will be christened the Stacker Lee. She will be launched in April.

Capt. Samuel S. Brown cabled to the office of the coal combination on his arrival at Maderal Monday that he had arrived there safely, had a pleasant passage and all were well. A number of Pittsburghers are with him. Capt. Brown and his party will be at Gibraltar today.

Just as Good—Never.

When you ask for a great well known meritorious medicine like Cascarets, see that you get it. If something else is offered "just as good" it is a lie and is done to sneak a few cents extra profit. CASCARETS have a larger sale than any medicine of the kind in the world. Over ten million boxes last year. The genuine tablet are stamped "C.C.C." and are never sold in bulk or jars. You can buy them at any drug store at 10c, 25c and 50c per box.



PITTSBURGH DENTAL COLLEGE.

The above building, corner of Penn avenue and Tenth street, formerly the offices of the Pennsylvania Lines West, has been secured for the Pittsburgh Dental College and will be occupied April 1. The building is 70 feet wide by 90 feet long and has five floors, basement and attic and has light on three sides. It has been entirely reconstructed inside and is most admirably fitted for the use of the college. It is heated by steam and has every modern convenience. The Pittsburgh Dental College was established in 1896 and has had a phenomenal growth. The tuition is $100, as in all other colleges of good standing. The National Association of Dental Faculties has established a four-year course, beginning with the session of 1903-4, and the coming session of the Pittsburgh Dental College will be the last opportunity to graduate in three years. The course has been revised and perfected and new teachers added to the faculty.

Treasury Statement.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 18.—Today's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund, exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the division of redemption, showed: Available cash balance, $172,150,206; gold, $85,317,917; silver, $21,788,465; United States notes, 12,045,588; treasury notes of 1890, $122,706; national bank notes, $11,913,902; total receipts this day, $636,152; total receipts this month, $25,614,315; total receipts this year, $356,972,962; total expenditures this day, $1,885,000; total expenditures this month, $25,465,000; total expenditures this year, $306,108,174; deposits in national banks, $115,318,142.

Foreign Bank Statement.

BERLIN, Feb. 18.—The weekly statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany shows the following changes: Cash in hand increased 28,580,000 marks; treasury notes increased 2,520,000 marks, other securities increased 80,000 marks, notes in circulation decreased 41,720,000 marks.

Financial Drift.

The Western Oil association has established a stock exchange in Denver and the Denver mining exchange has opened an oil department.

Chicago & Eastern Illinois for the second week in February showed increased earnings of $7,706. Hocking Valley for the same period decreased $26,695.

It is figured out that the new securities to be created in connection with the Metropolitan deal aggregate about $84,000,000. Mr. Fowler, president of Ontario & Western, has been selected as president of the Metropolitan Securities Company.

It is reported that a dividend will be paid on Reading second preferred prior to its reorganout and that the common will be placed on a dividend basis after the termination of the current fiscal year. The common, it is claimed, is earning at the rate of 4 per cent on the common.

The low-priced stocks were favorably affected by the general feeling that the attempt to enforce the inherited excise tax on loans has been virtually abandoned. The passage of the bill which does away with all the war taxes imposed in 1898 would seem to imply that the internal revenue bureau will have to drop the whole matter.

The New York Financial Chronicle has prepared a roll of honor of the trust companies of the United States limited to those having a capital and surplus of not less than $2,000,000 and deposits of not less than $10,000,000. Chicago trust companies are entirely omitted because of the nature of their business. These restrictions limit the number to 54, in which the United States Trust Company ranks No. 1, with a capital of $2,000,000, surplus and profits of $11,696,629, aggregate deposits of $74,044,187, and total resources of $87,096,402. Pennsylvania gets but three companies in the list. The Girard Trust Company and the Pennsylvania Company for the insurance of lives. The Pittsburgh Trust Company, which ranks No. 19 in the United States, is the other Pennsylvania representative. Its capital and surplus aggregate $6,077,672, deposits $10,458,293, and total resources $16,355,366. Boston has four representatives, Providence two, St. Louis two and Brooklyn one.

Why Drag Around 40 or 50 Pounds Of Fat

That neither is useful nor ornamental? In fact, superfluous flesh is a great drawback to the working power of any individual, and beyond a certain well defined degree, plumpness detracts from one's personal appearance. Those who suffer from obesity or those who have a tendency to it, will do well to make a trial of Drefs' Reduction Pills.

While taking off from one to four pounds per week, according to age, condition and susceptibility, this treatment neither lowers nor injures the vital powers, but, on the contrary, acts as a tonic to brain or body, and a fresh supply of nervous energy is felt throughout the system.

DREFS' REDUCTION PILLS will make an overstout person look many years younger by uniform decrease of flesh; will make one feel younger, too, and much better able to discharge his daily duties.

DREFS' REDUCTION PILLS—the true fat reducer and system renovator. Price $1.00 per box, or 6 boxes for $5.00. Mailed to any address on receipt of the price. Six bottles constitute a full treatment and will reduce from 30 to 50 pounds of fat. All correspondence strictly confidential. Be ware of imitations.

DUQUESNE BEER

Is without a peer in point of purity, age, flavor and absolute cleanliness. Whether it's a glass of "Duquesne" at the bar or a case of the brewery's own bottling for home use — there's never cause for complaint. Why? Simply because "Duquesne Beer" is best of all the brews. Costs the dealer a little more, but this is more than made up by the increased trade wherever "Duquesne" is sold.

E. W. Harden's Daily New York Business Letter

JANUARY A BIG MONTH FOR THE STEEL COMBINE

Net Earnings May Equal to $10,000,000, Best, but One in Its History.

CAR SHORTAGE HANDICAP

Underwriting Syndicate Gets a Profit of 40 Per Cent on the Money It Actually Furnished to the Corporation—More to Come.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The returns from the constituent properties of the United States Steel Corporation for January are almost sufficiently complete to warrant the estimate that the combine's net earnings for the first month of 1902 will aggregate between $9,000,000 and $10,000,000, or perhaps as much as $2,000,000 in excess of those of last December. If the earnings come up to the most sanguine estimate, and really amount to as much as $10,000,000, then January will have been the best month, barring one, in the records of the United States Steel Corporation.

In the ten months of the combine's existence the net earnings have exceeded $10,000,000 but once. This was in October, when they amounted to $12,205,774. Gratification over the present estimate of January's showing is somewhat alloyed by the frank confession that earnings for February are likely to fall below those of January. Net earnings for last December were reduced to $7,750,000 by reason of the inadequacy of transportation facilities.

Still Handicapped by Car Shortage.

During January the railroads were able to give material relief, hence the sharp increase of the combine's earnings for that month, but the want of means adequate to move coke and steel tonnage again is becoming very embarrassing and is expected to reflect unfavorably in February earnings. The estimate of January earnings at between $9,000,000 and $10,000,000 comes from the same authority that previously has made accurate forecasts.

Profits on Ore Transportation.

Present indications of an unusually large movement of ore next month have a direct bearing upon the future earnings of the United States Steel Corporation. Its banner month was last October, when the net earnings exceeded $12,000,000. In this there were reflected the combine's profits on transportation of ore and with the close of lake navigation its total net earnings dropped in November to only a little more than $6,750,000. The outlook, therefore, for increased production of ore next season enters favorably into the calculations as to the combine's spring and summer earnings.

Combine Smashes a Precedent.

In openly announcing a dividend of 5 per cent on the full principal pledged by its underwriting syndicate, the United States Steel Corporation has done a thing never before heard of in the history of industrial financiering. Hitherto it has been the inviolable practice to invest the relations of an underwriting syndicate to a corporation with the utmost secrecy, and the profits of the former always have been known only in gossip, and never given officially.

This 5 per cent dividend just declared, for which checks are understood to have been received today, calls for a payment of $10,000,000, and really amounts to a return of 40 per cent on the amount of money put out by the underwriting syndicate. The underwriters pledged themselves to provide $200,000,000. Only one-eighth of this, or $25,000,000, ever was called by J. P. Morgan & Co., who were the managers of the syndicate, and even this one-eighth of the total amount pledged was more than enough to float the securities of the United States Steel Corporation and perform all the offices to be expected of the hands of an underwriting syndicate. About two months ago the underwriters received checks for the full $25,000,000 they put up, and it was announced at the time that the syndicate would continue in existence. Now, here is a 5 per cent dividend declared to the underwriters on $200,000,000, the amount of their original pledge, or a dividend of 40 per cent on the actual money advanced, and that already has been returned to them.

Outlook Very Flattering.

It is understood that this underwriting syndicate will not be dissolved for several months to come, perhaps not until next year. Several more dividends are likely to be paid. The duties of the underwriting syndicate at this stage of the United States Steel Corporation's existence is not very clear, nor is it any indication of what dividends are being paid; but what Wall street is most surprised over is the frankness with which the returns are being made. Considering the magnitude of the undertaking and the amount of money tentatively involved, if not actually advanced, this underwriting syndicate, by all standards of Wall street profits, is entitled to a very handsome returns, and, doubtless, will get them.

News From the Mines

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The Keswick (Cal.) smelters have been equipped with the largest converter plant ever installed in the state. This plant will save the cost of transportation heretofore charged upon the waste in the copper matte shipped overland to the refineries in New Jersey.

S. J. J. Sloan of Hamilton, O., has bought the property of the Mountaineer Mining and Milling Company on Deer Creek, Cal., and will start operations in March.

Zinc sales at Joplin, Mo., last week aggregated 8,867,140 pounds, valued at $127,021; lead sales amounted to 828,220 pounds, valued at $17,808; total, $144,829. Zinc ore sold as high as $65 a ton. Lead remained steady at $4.50 a ton delivered.

Disclosures in the lower level of the Mammoth at Tintic, Utah, show 1,141 ounces silver and $20 gold to the ton. A good strike is reported in the La Reine, in the same district.

A vein of rich carbonate, ranging in width from 5 to 15 feet, and traceable on the surface for 1,500 feet, has been opened up in the new Comstock Tunnel, on the Sutro property. The ore is said to carry $200 in silver and from $16 to $46 in gold, is reported to have been discovered 11 miles northeast of Tonopah, and a rush has set in to the new camp.

The Midlothian, north of Reno, Nev., owned by Lynch, Simpson, Cohn & Bryson, has been bonded to Colorado people for $40,000.

There is now on record in Baker county, Oregon, with an estimated capacity of producing $5,000,000 a year in gold.

Cold weather and a shortage of water closed down all the hydraulic and placer claims working in Southern Oregon at the close of last month. Since then there has been a change in the situation, as a heavy snowfall has taken place.

A vein 15½ feet wide has been encountered in the 274-foot level of the Last Stake at Victor, Col. The value of the rock has not been stated, but the strike is regarded as of great importance.

Eastern assayers have decided that the ore from the New Rambler copper mine in Douglas creek district, Wyo., contains platinum in paying quantities.

The Metal Market.

A betterment of 2s 6d in the London copper market did not hold the local market for copper as the price for Lake eased off a trifle, closing with spot at $12 25@12 62½. Electrolytic was quoted at $12 25 and casting at $12 12½@12 24. London closed with spot at £57 15s and futures at £58 5s. Tin was a shade easier here with spot closing at £25 2s. London was unchanged for spot tin at £117 and 15s lower for futures at £111. Lead was firm here at $4 10@4 15, and at London unchanged at £17 11s 6d. Iron remained firm here, but quiet, and Glasgow and Middlesboro were steady but were not essentially changed. Glasgow closed at 53s 7d and Middlesboro at 47s 9d. Pig iron warrants here closed at $11 50@12 50. No. 1 foundry, northern, at $17 00@18 00; No. 2 foundry, northern, $17 00@18 00; No. 1 foundry, southern, $16 50@17 50; No. 1 foundry, southern, soft, $16 50@17 00.

PENNSYLVANIA WILL SOON LAUGH AT ORDINANCES

THE WORK WELL IN HAND

New Route, a New Bridge and the Elimination of Grade Crossings the Principal Features of the Changes Being Made.

The Pennsylvania railroad will soon be able to laugh at the speed restriction ordinances of the borough of Latrobe. To accomplish this it will cost the great trunk line $1,000,000. By early fall the road will be following a route through Carney, north of its present location, grade crossings at Beatty station and at three streets in Latrobe will have been eliminated and a new bridge across the Loyalhanna will be in use.

The trains over the Pennsylvania are already running between great walls of masonry in Latrobe. Superstructures are in place across the Loyalhanna and hundreds of men are busy on the great undertaking. Just east of Beatty huge piles of stone are waiting to be called into service. Narrow guage railroad tracks parallel the main line of the railroad and a half dozen dinkey engines fuss along at the head of long strings of dump cars laden with shale and dirt. The work is next in magnitude to the straightening of the line at Larimer.

H. S. Kerbaugh of Philadelphia has the contract for this work. He has had it in charge for some months and the details of construction are so well in hand that he expects to be through by the latter part of September.

The completion of this improvement will make further shortening of passenger schedules possible. The cut-off at Larimer has proven of immense advantage, and with the slow orders at Latrobe out of the way, there will be no necessity for anything but wide-open throttles between Blairsville Intersection and Pitcairn.

Bigger Cars Change Minimum Loads.

Widespread complaints have been made by shippers over the increase in the minimum loading of freight cars in trunk line territory. The real cause of the increase, according to a general freight agent of one of the Pittsburgh railroads, is the adoption of the larger cars. Grain and flour are taken as instances of the operation of the old rule. The minimum load of grain was formerly 25,000 pounds for the car. This was raised to 30,000 pounds and more recently again to 40,000 pounds. The cars have a capacity of double the old style of grain cars. The same applies to hoop, on which the minimum carload has been fixed at 40,000 pounds. This effects of the change in minimum loading are felt less in this territory than elsewhere, mainly on account of the fact that it is the general rule to load cars to their full capacity here anyway, coal, ore and iron and steel products being so heavy, and the orders for these being generally so large, as to necessitate using the car's full capacity.

Record G. A. R. Travel in Sight.

"There are plenty of indications in the west that travel to Washington for the annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic next fall will be the heaviest ever sent to that city for such an occasion," said Col. Samuel Moody, assistant general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines, yesterday. Col. Moody left last evening to attend the conference today at Washington between the officials of the Grand Army and the citizens' committee of Washington in charge of the entertainment of the visiting soldiers. The date and time details of the encampment are ready to be settled, but it was thought that these will be fixed today. "Washington in the fall is the center of much travel each year," Col. Moody says, "and with the Grand Army encampment as an additional incentive, it is thought the railroads will break their Washington records this coming autumn."

Castle Shannon Election.

At the thirteenth annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pittsburgh & Castle Shannon railroad yesterday the following officers were elected: S. M. McElroy, president; J. W. Friend, vice president; F. V. Matthews, secretary; E. J. Reamer, treasurer and assistant superintendent. Directors, F. N. Hoffstot, J. W. Friend, F. V. Matthews, W. C. Jutte, C. L. Snowden, W. W. Shenk, W. Linford Smith and W. H. Stouer.

The gross earnings of the company amounted to $234,855 61; expenses, $128,-165 70; net earnings, $36,689 91. The passengers carried during the year numbered 1,147,837. The revenues from this source showed an increase over the preceding year of $3,734 98.

RAILROAD NOTES.

R. W. Wright, the agent and C. E. Foos, assistant fuel agent of the Baltimore & Ohio system, were in the city yesterday on official duties.

Pittsburgh men are said to be interested in the great Porto Rican railroad project which has just been announced. No names are given out as yet.

The contract for the sub-structure of the Wabash bridge across the Ohio river at Mingo Junction has been let to Arthur McMullen & Co. of New York for approximately $300,000.

William J. Turner, president of the Lehigh & New England, is president also of a new company chartered to build a line from Martins Creek to Slatington, the new line to be a connection between the Lehigh & New England the Pennsylvania.

Of Benefit to the Housekeeper.

The house cheaply heated by one ordinary gas tip burner. The oxidation is so perfect that heat costs little or nothing and in addition to this there are no fumes generated or grease found upon woodwork and paper. By using Cameron's Little Wonder Heater.

It heats your hall and rooms with less gas than any other heater in existence, as it only requires one small gas tip such as is used for light. The heat is instantaneously and one is surprised in the amount of heat this furnishes. The heater is suspended from the ceiling in the cellar to the register in the hall. When the hall is heated the house is comfortable, in fact, kept at summer heat in the coldest weather. The simple to make up, weighing 2½ pounds, durable and cheap. The price ranges from $12 to $15. Here is a simple solution of decreasing your gas bill. The heater without fume pipe takes as little or less gas as any of the small gas stoves for general use, and also keeps up the circulation of fresh air.

The moment that a match is applied to the "Little Wonder" a current of fresh air flows through an 18-inch cylinder into the hall and in a few minutes you can notice the temperature rising in the secondary hall and rooms. This is practically demonstrated to any one visiting the agentes of this wonderful heating device.

Here is what the general manager of the aforesaid has to say:

PITTSBURGH, PA., April 8, 1901.—This is to certify that I tested gas tip for Mr. C. Cameron by 1½ inch water pressure, burned 1½ feet per hour. (Signed)

CREDITORS FILE OBJECTIONS TO BANKRUPT'S DISCHARGE.

Appraisers Directed to Sell John H. Bee's Property at Public or Private Sale. Manning Verdict Sustained in the United States Court.

In the United States district court objections were filed to the discharge of Harry M. Johnson of Braddock from bankruptcy. It is alleged that he omitted from his schedule of assets and concealed from his creditors a house and lot in Price and McManus plan of lots, which was occupied by the bankrupt as a residence.

The report showing the value of the property of John H. Bee, bankrupty, to be $1,728 60, was filed by the appraisers yesterday. They were directed to sell the property at either public or private sale.

The schedule of liabilities and assets in the case against Nathan Rosenfeld of Pittsburgh, bankrupt, was filed by the creditors, showing liabilities of $6,328 and assets $3,008.

William Allers of Pittsburgh was discharged from bankruptcy.

An opinion sustaining the verdict of the jury in the case of Mary Manning against the Consolidated Traction Company was handed down by Judge Joseph Buffington of the United States circuit court. Action was brought to recover damages for being struck by one of the defendant's cars at Gist street on March 25, 1900. The case was tried during the November, 1901, term of court and a verdict for $400 was rendered.

WAS A GAMBLING DEBT.

George Maloney Acknowledges He Stopped Payment on a Check.

An affidavit of defense was filed in the suit of L. DeWolf against George Maloney to recover $200 on a check given by the defendant, but not honored at the First National bank of Homestead, where it was made payable.

Maloney does not deny that he stopped payment on the check, but claims the consideration was a gambling debt. He also says that the check was given during a game of poker in which the plaintiff and defendant participated in Pittsburgh on August 31, last, and the sum represented an amount won from the defendant by the plaintiff. The defendant claims the debt is void.

More County Offices Closed.

Several of the offices in the court house opened as usual yesterday, but soon closed again. The marriage license office, the register, controller, treasurer's and clerk of courts offices were closed all day. The prothonotary's office was open until 3 p. m. But little business was transacted. Argument list was heard in common pleas No. 3.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

John Cain sued Hannah Sweeney for $639 41, which he alleges the defendant borrowed from him.

An answer was filed in the case of Annie Markey against Justice of the Peace Walter Terrell of West Homestead, to recover $50 for alleged overcharge of costs. The defendant says the plaintiff pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct and was fined $10 and costs. The costs, he claims, he collected, amounted to $4 50, or 36 cents less than the actual fee allowed by law.

Depositions of A. L. Knott and John Muller were filed in the divorce case of George L. Bollinger against Elizabeth Bollinger, in which case a rule for alimony was granted last week. The witnesses testified a woman, who was pointed out to them as Mrs. Bollinger, was drinking either cocktails or highballs with a Mrs. Bockstoff of the South Side and a man at Sheppard's hotel in Oakland last August.

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED.

Prof. Charles W. Pearson's Connection With Northwestern University Formally Severed.

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the board of trustees of the Northwestern university it was decided to accept the resignation of Prof. Charles W. Pearson, whose criticisms of biblical miracles have provoked so much discussion.

This action of the trustees will take effect immediately and they have announced they will not consider the matter again unless public opinion demands it.

FRANCE SEEKS FRIENDSHIP.

Baron in Washington With Scheme to Have Americans Visit Paris.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 18.—The French ambassador, M. Cambon, has as his guest Baron d'Estournelles de Constant, a member of the permanent Hague tribunal of arbitration and of the French chamber of deputies.

Baron d'Estournelles comes to America to carry forward his plans for the development of a better state of feeling between the people of this country and France. The purpose is to have leading American universities, chambers of commerce and the great manufacturing establishments designate young men to be sent to France to come in contact with the people and learn the methods of production there.

SCOTT IS STILL SEEKING SCALP OF MR. BRISTOW

OTHERS TAKING A HAND

Senators Hanna and Burton and Representative Sibley Also Said to Be Seeking the Assistant's Removal. Greenville Postmastership Settled.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.

Postmaster General Payne does not divulge what is being done in the case of Mr. Bristow, assistant postmaster general, against whom Senator Scott of West Virginia made some charges. The president is known to have the papers, and he and the postmaster general have talked the case over.

Senator Scott investigated a charge that the postoffice department had sent a postoffice inspector to Wheeling to inquire into the private character of a prospective applicant for postmaster in this city. He found, it is said, that Mr. Bristow was the man who had ordered the inspector to do the work. Mr. Bristow did not give a satisfactory answer to the request for an explanation, and Senator Scott, backed by the West Virginia delegation, is understood to have laid the whole case before the president.

Others After Bristow's Scalp.

The intimation has been made, although not authoritatively, that Mr. Bristow may find that the affair will cost him dearly. It is said he admitted sending an inspector to Wheeling, admitted that a mistake had been made, and simply says he had no official warrant for the action. Whether Senator Scott is pressing as vigorously for Bristow's scalp now as some time ago is not known.

The pressure to bring about the retirement of Gen. Bristow is growing. In addition to Senator Scott, there are other Republican leaders, like Senator Hanna of Ohio, Senator Burton of Kansas and Representative Sibley, who, it is said, believe Gen. Bristow should be succeeded by another man.

Senator Scott called on the president this morning with Gov. A. B. White of West Virginia. It was Gov. White's first call on the president. The chief executive of West Virginia will leave here tonight on the Southern Railroad with 25 or 30 members of his staff for the Charleston celebration, to be present on West Virginia day.

"I have colonels and majors to spare," said Gov. White, commenting on the large number of military men with him.

Greenville Postmaster Selected.

Representative Showalter has decided the contest between Col. Kreps and Capt. Martin for appointment as postmaster at Greenville, in favor of Martin. The term of Postmaster Hodge expired Saturday.

The following Pennsylvania postmasters were appointed today: Carrier, Jefferson county, J. S. Gross; Lanes Mills Jefferson county, B. M. Corbett; Moro, Somerset county, W. C. Gruber.

BELGIAN COAL AND IRON.

Increase in Both Industries Shown by a Consular Report.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 18.—(Special.)—United States Consul Roosevelt, at Brussels, reports to the state department that: "From the general statistics just published by the administration of mines it appears that Belgium has 115 mines, or one more than in 1900. The total output of these mines amounted to 22,073,740 tons, or 634,892 tons less than in 1900.

"Blast furnaces produced 86,190 tons of cast iron, 178,195 tons of pig iron and 498,885 tons of iron for steel, a total of 681,270 tons, a considerable decrease as compared with the output of 1900, which amounted to 1,078,561 tons. The iron industry shows a more favorable condition, the output amounting to 69,069 tons of sheet iron and 336,785 tons of various kinds of iron, an increase of 50,528 tons over the production of 1900. The output of the steel works amounted to 524,670 tons of smelted products, ingots, etc., and 516,845 tons of forged materials—rails, sheet steel, etc. The output in 1900 amounted, respectively, to 655,199 tons 568,559 tons."

DENOUNCED SUPREME COURT.

Congressional Contestant Admits He Received 1,300 Illegal Votes.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 18.—The Horton-Butler election contest is now being fought out before elections committee No. 1 of the house. Attorney William A. Fisse, who made the argument for Mr. Horton, defied the supreme court of the state of Missouri.

"Do you mean to say that you impeach the character of the judges of that court?" asked Mr. Bowie.

"Yes, I do," cried Fisse, raising his voice and waving his arms. "That court never does render a fair decision when Republicans are pitted against Democrats. If this be treason I'll take the consequences. You know what Patrick Henry said."

"If you admit that some 1,300 illegal ballots were cast for your client," said Mr. Mann, one of the Republican members of the committee, "do you expect this committee to throw out the contestee who is charged with the same offense?"

Mr. Fisse said he thought there were so many more illegal votes cast for Butler that the difference in the number would elect his man.

"Then it's merely a case of which is the greater rascal of the two," remarked Mr. Burgess of Texas, a Democratic member.

"If there is enough fraud shown on both sides," said Chairman Taylor, "the committee might declare no election."

THE PENSION ROLL.

Veterans, Their Widows and Dependents Provided For.

Pennsylvania—John R. Gilfillen, Tidioute, $12; Samuel C. Dewoody, Franklin, $8; Lamar Donahue, Allegheny, $12; Levi C. Reed, Dudley, $10; Fitz-mmons Laughlin, Greenstown, $8; Charles S. Henry, Allegheny, $8; Richard M. Hoffman, Bulliot, $8; Canada Davis, Carnichael, $8; James P. Ewing, Walnut Bottom, $12; Nicholas R. Short, Tanoma, $12; Ellis D. Garrison, Uniontown, $8; Peter K. Lahr, Carlisle, $17; John W. Cooper, Mechanicsburg, $8; Kate F. Keiser, Harrisburg, $8.

NATIONAL CAPITAL NOTES.

The National Council of Women will convene today.

The senate committee on claims favorably reported the omnibus claims bill.

President Roosevelt's decision in the Schley case will be made public Thursday.

Among the recent arrivals here are A. M. Neeper and D. N. Cohen of Pittsburgh, Prof. George W. Atherton of State College and C. E. Haddox of Moundsville, W. Va.

The comptroller of the currency has authorized W. C. Hacker of Fremont, Pa., W. G. Stoffler, T. J. Murray, Edward E. Kercheer, J. H. Schultz, R. W. Sanner and [illegible] Palmer to organize the Fremont National bank, with $25,000 capital.

Commandant Jan Kluge of the army is in Washington endeavoring to persuade the authorities to insist on a more rigid enforcement of the laws of neutrality as he interprets them. His objects principally to the settlements of exiles from New Orleans, in the midst of the British troops.

The president will appoint James S. Platt, son of Senator Platt of Connecticut, United States district judge for Connecticut, in place of William K. Townsend, promoted to be circuit judge. The attorney general himself made an investigation of the fitness of Mr. Platt for the office.

In accordance with his promise Senator Penrose has withdrawn his opposition to the Dalzell bill to allow the St. Clair Terminal Bridge Company to construct a bridge over the Monongahela river between Clairton station and a point between Belle Bridge and Patterson stations on the opposite side of the river, and it will be passed by the senate.

GUARDING THE PRINCE.

Washington to Be Cleared of Suspicious Characters for a Time.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 18.—The police department of this city has taken extraordinary measures to insure the safety of Prince Henry and staff on the occasion of his visit to the capital, and also to prevent unpleasant incidents so far as advance precautions and police protection can prevent them.

Maj. Sylvester, chief of police, today told Assistant Secretary Pierce at the state department the details of his plans. These contemplate a considerable augmentation of the Washington detective force, and such police measures as will cause the detention or expulsion from the city of all suspicious and questionable characters, beginning now and carrying these measures forward until the prince has left Washington.

PROHIBITION FOR HEATHEN.

Secretary Hay Working for International Treaty Concerning Islands.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 18.—President Roosevelt today presented to Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts the pen with which he on Saturday signed the Gillett-Lodge bill to forbid the sale of intoxicants, opium and firearms by American citizens in islands of the Pacific not under any civilized power, of which the New Hebrides is the chief group.

In order to make this protection permanent and extend it to all aboriginal races, Secretary Hay has asked the British government to join in submitting to the other commercial powers a universal treaty to prohibit the selling of intoxicants and opium to such races everywhere.
